THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE

MEMORIES. I have a memory to-night, Musing beside my hearth, Drawing my heart, by its magnet sweet, From the common things of earth.

I have a memory to-night, Alone in the firelight dim; Visions of bygone days of joy Before my sad eyes swim.

I have a momory to-night, Of a childish, upturned face, Stamped on the page of my smitten heart That time can ne'er erase.

I have a memory to-night Of the patter of little feet; A voice rings through the empty rooms In a childish carol sweet.

I have a memory to-night Of warm lips pressed on mine; Content with me till he felt the kiss, And followed the voice Divine.

I have a memory to-night Of my lost one's evening prayers; How soon, dear soul, you followed their flight Up to the waiting stars.

I have sad memories to-night, Stretching out empty arms. O! happy mothers, in sunny homes, Surrounded with childlike forms;

You have no yearning memories yet Of that which once has been; You hear no echo of little feet That never will come again.

I have sweet memories of yore That I would not blot away; Your mother-love binds you nearer earth-Draws closer day by day,-

But I am drawn by my darling's love Up heaven's clear shining track; And though I follow his steps alone, I would not call him back.

Hans did not know how poor a child he was, but fathers! if the shoes smote me, what must the feet yet he had a clearer view of God's preserving power do? I put them cold as ice to my breast; they than many children have. They had quietly fixed themselves for sleep when the church clock struck seltisaness. I had a trifle of money left; I bought a one, and though it was past midnight, they had but loaf and a pair of little shoes. I never tasted anylittle sleep. Seeing the warehouse open, he went in, thinking he migh find a good place to leave it until he could call for it in the morning. While walking into the warehouse he aroused the organ-grinder and his nervous lit le boy; for Hans could not sleep when he heard the slightest noise.

The traveller was startled when he found somebody in the warehouse, and did not know but that he was in danger. The organ-grinder told him he was sleeping there for the night with his little boy, and that he would take care of his valise if he would leave it in his hands. The traveller had never seen him before, but he told him that he would trust him, and 25 boxes Soap; 6 cwt Starch; 1 case Borax; 1 case Magsaid in reply: "Your honor is at stake to take care of my valise."

"You need have no fear," said the organ-grinder, "I will take care of it. Though I was going to leave here very early in the morning, I will now stay, so that you can get your valise. When will you call for it?"

"At eight o'clock," said the gentleman.

"At eight o'clock you shall have it." The next morning, when the hour arrived for the gentlemen to come, he was quite prompt, and received his valise, and paid the organ-grinder three shillings for taking care of it. He then made some inquiries about the little boy. It turned out that this gentleman had charge of a large school, and it was natural that he should take an interest in children, wherever he went. The pale, thin little Hans appealed to his sympathies, and he volunteered to take him to Bavaria, to become an inmate of his school.

His father yielded to the proposition with great pleasure, and asked the gentleman if he would be permitted to come and see his child every three months.

"Yes," said he, "and oftener too."

Two years passed by after this conversation, and Hans was one of the most industrious and apt scholars in all the school. His father also became connected with the institution, by this time, as bell-ringer.

Many years now elapsed, and Hans became a lawyer of considerable prominence, having earned sufficient means to buy a little property, and take his father to live with him. An important case was to be tried at Stuggart, during the coming winter. It attracted great attention throughout the country, and the offence that had been committed was so bad that it created universal indignation.

A man had turned a young woman out of a house which he had rented to her, and she had fallen in the street and died within two blocks of the house that she had left. He was arraigned before a court to be tried for manslaughter.

The day of trial came; the prisoner was brought into court; and Hans, who had now become a prominent lawyer, was the prosecuting attorney, whose duty it was to take the part of the government against ith all the latest improvements, been triumphane in the late Provincial Exhibition, having secured the First Prize. This Machine is adapted for Spinning Wool making yarn, single or cross banded; also, double and twisted. The operator will sit down to the work, which is only pleasant pastime. This Machine is becoming deservedly popular for all kinds of Spinning in families. The operator can do double the work in a day on this Machine as she can on the old Wheel, and do it with less labour. THE NEW DOMINION SPINNING MACHINE.

THIS MACHINE is also adapted for Spinning and mak-I ing Yarn, single or cross-banned, and double and twisted. The operator will sit down to the work, which is exceedingly simple, and suitable for old or young, there being such ease in its working, and can do nearly as much work on it as on the one above named, and the yarn much better, there being such good management in the twist .-This Machine is complete in invention. magnificent in its working, neat in size and form The Patent for this Machine was applied for on the 20th January, 1868, by J. W. Holder and D. H. Spragg. Call and examine before purchasing elsewhere, as we know of none so well adapted for the Country. These Machines are manufactured and sold at Main Street, Indiantown, by J. W. HOLDER, W. WHIT-TAKER, and M. & E. & T. & D. H. H. SPRAGG. Price of the New Improved Spinner, $12; Price of the New Dominion Spinner, $7. Indiantown, St. John, N. B., Feb. 14.

CAUTION! CAUTION! CAUTION THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to caution the public against spurious imitations of his highly RUBBER VALVES of any size or shape .can be made to celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmles compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, if you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which vashes every thing, and has rapid sale. It will be found invaluable for the following domestic IN SHARES OF $200 EACH.

purposes, viz :- It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c,; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flaunel, &c. It makes Hard Nater Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teasphonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eating it by mistake, will not be injured. If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose no time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wouderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time-saves your clothes-saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed; for Laces, and fine fabrics, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improve them--by its use they retain their original brilliancy. Flannels become white and soft like new. White things are much improved, and keep their color, even if put by for months. Thousands of Families made happy! No misery on a Washing Day, with Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal.
