A dreadful tragedy occurred at Milltown, St. Stephen, on Monday last. A correspondent of the Journal writes :-

Stephen Innes some time ago threatened to kill his sister unless she agreed to marry him. She was a very fine young woman, greatly respected. She had to promise to marry him to save her life. This was his only form of madness. He was then sent to the Lunatic Asylum and was recently discharged as sane. When he arrived at Eastport, on his way back, and was staying there, he wrote to the family to send him his clothes as he intended going to sea, which they did. He returned this forenoon (Monday) appearing in Milltown in his stocking feet. About two o'clock in the afternoon, while only his mether and sister were in the house, they heard a noise in the kitchen. His sister ran to him when he immediately knocked her down with an axe. His mother then ran out, screaming for help, and when the neighbors got in they were both lying on the floor dead. After his sister fell, it seems, he cut the top of her head almost off, and chopped her all down the shoulders and back. He must have then seized a large butcher's knife, and putting the knife into the lower part of his abdomen, cut with clear force through and upwards to the breast bone. The sister was about to be married next week, and her refusal to marry her lunatic brother and determination to marry another were the motives, if motives they could be called horrid deeds of fratricide and suicide.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
