MAKE THY SOUL BEAUTIFUL.

Make thy soul beautiful, child of the morning ! Bright as the clouds that encircle the dawn ; Giving the tree tops their beautiful awning, And taking their glow from the king of the morn.

Make thy soul beautiful; wait not for shadows That surely will come with departure of day ; Obscuring the joy, with the light of the way.

Youth, with its freshness, will fade like the morning ; But, unlike morning, will not here return ; Give the soul beauty, of pure, loving feeling-For the noble to live-of the holy to learn.

Then will thy life be expanding in beauty; Slowly, but surely thy crown will be given ; Joy will illumine the pathway of duty-The evening of life be the morning of heaven. -Boston Traveller.

geance is mine. I will repay, saith the Lord." His band dropped by his side. What ! was he about to do so mean and wicked a thing as to fight! The anger was all gone from his heart now, and sorrow for his own sinful thoughts took its place. Without a word he turned his steps towards home. While these thoughts had been passing through his mind, the boys had stood silent with surprise, for this fighting movement was a new one on his part, but now that he was going, as they thought, overcome with When the chill mists of evening encircle the meadows fear, they followed him with loud shouts of mocking laughter. Willie kept on till he had reached his father's gate, then looking around he saw that all had gone with Freddie into Mr. Howard's yard, where they had stopped to have a game at ball. This increased his grief; his dear friend had turned against him and joined his enemies. O, if he only knew how, bow gladly would be make them all his friends. What could he do? His dear mother had taught him with all his troubles to go to Jesus. He would the Secretary do so now ; and going to his own little room, he fell

As he passed through the kitchen his mother was taking from the stove a large pan of baked sweet apples. A bright thought came into his mind.

My little neice, Carrie Magnard, like many other One of his Sabbath school verses was "If thine onechildren, is very fond of stories. Like many older ones, he had not the moral courage to stand up for the right when it had more foes than friends, but was too apt to go with the current. Of course this grieved poor Willie very much, but Fred die would afterwards be so sorry for his conduct, and so anxious to atone, that he would gladly forgive him, though he couldn't help wishing that Freddie wasn't quite so timid. Thus matters went on, Willie's heart growing sorer and sorer under the cruel treatment which he received until it seemed to him that he could not bear it any longer. One day his tormenters had been unusually severe. The school-house was in one end of the village and Willie's home in the other, and all the way from school they had amused themselves by saying the most provoking things they could think of. They said he had no courage, and was nothing any. way but a little cry-baby tied to his mother's apron strings. They mocked his dear father and called him many insulting names. As usual Freddie said nothing in Willie's defence. He even laughed when these wicked boys said anything which they thought very funny. Willie, though a very good boy as I have said, was far from being perfect, and his heart was filled with wild, angry emotions., He clinched his little fist, and notwithstanding he stood alone, while they were a dozen strong, would have rushed into their midst and proved his courage then and there in a hand-to-hand fight. THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY, 92 Lombard-street, London, and Royal Insurance build ngs, Liverpool Chairman of the London Board .- SAMUEL BAKER, Esq.

Chairman in Liverpool .-- CHARLES TURNER, Esq. DEFERRING to the above notice, PUBLIC NOTICE The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest

Offices in the kingdom At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following For less than Cosr, till the whole Stock is CER & HAMI'SON, as successors to the Firm of STAPLES | aighly satisfactory results were shown :---

FIRE DEPARTMENT. The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the busiaess is exhibited in the one following fact-that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being ..... £180,060 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are .... 196,148 Showing an actual increase of ..... 66,088 or upwards of 50 per cent. in three years.

The recent returns of duty made by Government for this latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more that naintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the molety of its advance.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

LINES

August 6th, 1868, aged 14 years. There is one the less to suffer pain, 1 lig There is one the more that's blest, There is one the more that's heaven gained, Now Lizzie's gone to rest, Sorrow or pain can never come To ruffle Lizzie's breast ; Loved and blest, in Father's home, Dear Lizzie's gone to rest. The blest boon that has been given Is taken from our nest; Oh tears on earth, but joy in heaven, Now Lizzie's gone to rest. Trouble and care have rolled away, By angels she's caressed; There is no night, but endless day, Where Lizzie's gone to rest. No more can sickness waste her frame; No more can death molest ; Her precious life is freed from storm,

Now Lizzie's gone to rest. We placed her by the garden lot,

Where violets bloom the best ; And angels watch above the spot Where Lizzie's gone to rest.

Her grave with sweetest flowers we'll heap,

- The one we loved the best;
- And birds will sing to soothe her sleep, Where Lizzie's gone to rest.
