I'M GROWING OLD. The following stanzas first appeared in the Andover Advertiser, and are said to have been written by a lady of New York City.

I'm growing old-'tls surely so: And yet how short it seems, Since I was but a sportive child. Enjoying childish dreams!

I cannot see the change that comes With such an even pace; I mark not when the wrinkles fall Upon my faded face.

I know I'm old; and yet my heart Is just as young and gay As e'er it was before my locks Of bright brown turned to gray.

I know these eyes to other eyes Look not so bright and glad As once they looked; and yet 'tis not Because my heart's more sad.

I never watched with purer joy The floating clouds and glowing skies, While glistening tears of rapture fill These old and fading eyes.

And when I mark the cheek, where once The bright rose used to glow, It grieves me not to see instead; The almond crown my brow.

I've seen the flower grow old and pale, And withered more than I; I've seen it lose its every charm, Then droop away and die.

And then I've seen it rise again, Bright as the beaming sky, And young and pure and beautiful-And felt that so shall I.

Then what if I am growing old-My heart is changeless still, And God has given me enough This loving heart to fill.

I love to see the sun go down, And lengthening shadows throw Along the ground, while o'er my head The clouds in crimson glow.

I see beyond these gorgeous clouds, A country bright and fair, Which needs no sun: God and the Lamb Its light and beauty are.

O! I am glad I'm growing old! For every day I spend Shall bring me one day nearer that Bright day that has no end.

Harry Wilson became so fond of playing cards that he took them to school with him, and persuaded many boys to join him in the game, whose parents would have wept could they have read the destinies of those sons. Bernard Courtney was urged to play, and often laughed at, called "a coward," "a little ooy, afraid of his mother," and by many harsher and his resolution, and neither persuasion nor threats could induce him to displease his mother.

Harry Wilson and Bernard Courtney were classmates. Harry possessed a brilliant mind, naturally orighter than Bernard's, and hence always ranked bove him in his class until he learned to play cards. The evenings he had formerly devoted to study were low spent in playing cards, and every spare moment at school, when he could escape the watchful eye of is preceptor, he devoted to this ruinous amusement. At length he was compelled to leave the classes with Bernard and enter the next grade. His parents were greatly mortified, and forbade his playing, except ocasionally with their permission; but Harry had ac. | with the utmost promptness and fidelity. quired a love for it, which led him even to disregard tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends. and all know that what it does once it does always - that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action - remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the ody, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derange-ments as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—
For Hyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessmess, Languer and Loss of Appetite, they ich and restore its healthy tone and action. For Liver Complaint and its various toms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious. Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judictously taken for each case, to correct the diseased For Elysentery or Diarrhoea, but one mild for Rheumatism, Gont, Gravel, Palpiintion of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Black and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to pro-duce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleaning and renovating effect on the digram. their cleansing and renovating effect on the diges-DR.
