EVENING.

Softly come the troops of shadows From the glooming in the West, And the whispers in the branches Send the birds to take their rest. Softly deepen skies of azure

To the sober tints of grey, And the breezes from the river Gently fan the dying day.

But the bat and dark-winged beetle, And the sleepless nightingale, Move among the deepening shadows Of the half tree-hidden vale;

Hosts of creatures gladly wearied In the summer-sweet June day Fold their wings or close their eyelids,

While the children cease from play. But to us, amid the twilight, Angel voices softly float, Unseen fingers draw us upward

To the music of that note; Comes to the world-weary spirit This sweet message through the air, "Day is leaving, night is nearing, Children, it is time for prayer."

Close we gather to the Father, In the stillness of the eve, Near, so near, that He can hear us, And our words of love receive, And from His own hands can give us Bliss and blessing, peace and light,

And with His own strong arm fold us Through the silence of the night. Softly fall the dews of evening, Cool the shadows round us lie, And the stars come to their places In the dark robed, evening sky;

But we march through night's dark valley Willingly, and have no care, Close our eyes in peaceful slumber, Strengthened and refreshed by prayer. MARIANNE FARNINGHAM.

As the savory odors filled the room, Miss Roxy's grim features relaxed a little; and though as she bustled about, setting out her small table with its solitary plate and fork and scanty furniture, she grumbled now and then about Hetty's movements, it was in a milder and more amiable tone. And when the fish, crisp and delicately brown, smoked before her on the hot platter, flanked by a dish of as crisp and brown pota toes, with a plate of Mrs. Osborn's light, fresh bread, and a fragrant cup of tea, a smile absolutely ventured out upon the poor old, wasted face. It was reward enough for Hetty.

CAUTION! CAUTION! CAUTION! roprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to cauion the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmles ompound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, f you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale.

It will be found invaluable for the following domestic urposes, viz.:-It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c,; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as enable every one who can save from their income to invest it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teasphonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and inlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the tate, repayable by easy monthly instalments. abric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eatng it by mistake, will not be injured. If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose no time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wonderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time—saves our clothes -- saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crysta makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the vear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed for Laces, and fine fabrics, it is unequalled. It does not njure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improve them--by its use they retain their original brilliancy. nels become white and soft like new. White things are on a Washing Day, with Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal. TECTED BY ACT OF PARLIAMENT. Sole Agent for New Brunswick
