"I don't think so."

sun is hot."

-Harper's Magazine.

"No, I see you like to be idle; but it is a dangerous habit to indulge, and, unless you break yourself of it, it will be your ruin. Our blessed Saviour, in ever going about doing good, set us an example of industry which we should try and imitate, especially as we have constant and strong evidence that

' Satan finds some mischief still For idle hands to do.'

Besides, idleness is clearly forbidden in the Bible, and is displeasing to God. How is your father ?" "He is better than he was in the spring, but he is not strong yet."

"Not strong, and yet he has to work hard to support you, your brothers and sisters ! Did you ever think how much how you might help him? This is the duty which God requires of you, and you should ever prefer duty to your own ease or pleasure." "No, sir, I did not think of it."

"Then suppose you try. There are many ways in which you may help these men, and I will pay you good wages. To-day is Monday, and if you will persevere, I can warrant that you will be happier by Saturday night."

" Well, I will."

And Isaac Barnes sprang up with much alacrity, while Farmer May looked on with an approving smile.

A new train of thought had been awakened in Isaac's mind by the farmer's words. He remembered how weak his father was at times, and how often at nights he would come home wearied and almost sick from his labor, while his low spirits, arising from an overtasked frame, cast a gloom over the household. He himself was young and strong, able to earn a little, at least, towards relieving his father, and yet most of his time had been spent in idleness. This was a poor return for all his father's care and kindness, and it should be so no longer. There was a novelty in his work the first day, and though tired at night, he determined to persevere. The days that followed were not so easy. To one so unaccustomed to work it was hard to keep at it; but the thought of his father and the encouragement which Farmer May held out to him kept him from giving up.

Saturday night came at last, and when Farmer Day put some bright silver pieces into his hand, his joy was great. He hastened towards home with rapid steps, and entered the house a few minutes after his father had returned.

"Isaac," said his mother, when she saw him, "I have not seen you much at home this week. I hope you have not been in any mischief." "No, mother," he replied quietly.

"That is right. I hope you will always be able to give the same answer. It is a blessed thing to have a conscience void of offence towards God and What an appeal to the brother's heart ! Ho took the little Minnie in his arms, and kissing her said, "Yes," sir, I think I would. The shade of this "I am almost afraid I have been forgetting God,

This case of Alfred Bell is not a single one. Think upon it, Christian parents. Many a young man leaves home influences behind, when he goes into the world work is fine fun for boys, when they have not too in search of gold. His Bible is forgotten-his God Silks, Black Silks, in Gro Grains, Gro Royals, Glace, Alexis forgotten. A mother may have prayed for him earnestly, and placed the sacred volume in his trunk, with supplications that it may be read daily, but, in the earnest pursuit for wealth, prayers and supplications are often unheeded. Under the influence of irreligious companions, and in the absence of all the ordinances of religion, great is the peril to the immortal soul. Would to God that to each and all such wanderers from the right way, would come the gentle admonition as it came to Alfred Bell: "Where is your Bible, brother ?" " Are you not afraid God will forget you ?"

The earnest pleading of little Minnie touched Alfred's heart. That night he opened the sacred volume and read aloud from its inspired pages : " Pray for me, mother, for I have wandered far from God; I fear he may forget me." Night after night the earnest prayer ascended to the throne of grace; the brother was reclaimed from his wanderings, and now lives to be a blessing to his home, a truly Christian man, fearing God, and walking in His commandments .- Band of Hope Review.

A LESSON OF PERSEVERANCE.

At one of our Sunday school concerts an anecdote was related to the children, which is too good to be lost. It illustrates the benefit of perseverance in as strong a manner as ever did a Bruce. One of the as an corporations of this city, being in want of a boy in their mill, a piece of paper was tacked on one of the posts in a prominent place, so that the boys could which has hitherto given perfect satisfaction to his clients see it as they passed. The paper read : "Boy wanted-call at the office to-morrow morn-

At the time indicated, a host of boys were in waiting at the gate. All were admitted, but the overseer was a little perplexed as to the best way of choosing one from so many, and said he, "Boys, I only want Hon. L. A. WILMOT, Lieut. Governor of New Brunswick. one, and here are a great many ; how shall 1 choose ?" SPAFFORD BARKER, Esq., U.S. Consular Agent, Frederictor After thinking a moment he invited them all into Hon. A. McL. SEELY, Saint John. the yard, and driving a nail into one of the large trees, and making a short stick, told them that the boy who could hit the nail with the stick, standing at a little distance from the tree, should have the place. The boys all tried hard, and after three trial each, signally failed to hit the nail. The boys wer told to come again next morning, and this time when the gate was opened, there was but one boy, who after being admitted, picked up the stick, and throw ing at the nail, struck it every time. "How is this?" said the overseer, " what hav you been doing?" And the boy, looking up wit tears in his eyes said : "You see, sir, I have a poo old mother, and I am a poor boy ; I have no fathe sir, and I thought I should like to get t place, and so help her all I can; and after gettin home yesterday, I drove a nail into the barn, and I DOOM PAPER-at REDUCED PRICES, at have been trying to hit it ever since, and I have come them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity. They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action — remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derange-ments as are the first origin of disease. Minute directions are given in the wrapper on

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:-

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listless-ness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stom-ach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various syn toms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be ju-dicionaly taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it. For Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one mild dose is generally required. For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpi-tation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints

For Bropsy and Bropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge. For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy. As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical Chemists, LOWELL. MASS., U. S. A.
