Voctry.

THE GUEST. "To-day I must abide at thy house," Yea, enter in, thou gracious Guest, Lowly and poor my home; Yet where thy welcome footsteps rest, Riches and beauty come. Fairer than sheen of palace walls, The radiance of thy presence falls. For thee my humble board I spread; Scanty and mean my fare; But where thy smiles of love are shed,

Are viands rich and rare. My bread becomes as manna fine, And water turns to choicest wine.

No treasures rare and strange have I, My peerless Guest to show; Yet purest pearls around me lie, And priceless jewels glow; Entranced, I view the wondrous store That entered with thee at my door.

I scarce may dare, with speech of mine, Thy answering words to win, But when my glance is raised to thine, Thou readest all within :

And strains flow forth so pure and sweet, I sit in rapture at thy feet. How can I hope to please my Guest?

To serve is all I try; Yet when, to do some mild behest, On eager wing I fly, And haste again to meet thy smile, How radiant has it grown the while!

Happy, indeed, the roof wherein My Lord this day doth rest, More happy, if it might but win Him for a constant guest. Lord, in the heart I open wide, Enter, and evermore abide.

Mrs. Thornton did not observe the entrance of her husband. She was bending close down over her work, and the noise of her machine was louder than his footsteps on the floor. Mr. Thornton stood looking at her for some time without speaking.

But, for all this she was at six, and shared your mother's work until seven, you would have taken an hour from her day's burdens, and certainly lost nothing from your music, self-improvement or social intercourse. How was it after breakfast? How was the morning spent?" "I practiced an hour on the piano after breakfast."

"So far so good. What then?" "I read the 'Cavalier,' 'till eleven o'clock." Mr. Thornton shook his head, and asked: "After eleven, how was the time spent?"

"I dressed myself and went out." "A little after twelve o'clock." " An hour was spent in dressing?" "Yes, sir."

"Read the 'Cavalier' until I went to bed." "At what hour?"

"Eleven o'clock." "Now we can make up the account," said Mr Thornton, "You rose at seven and retired at eleven -sixteen hours. And from your own account of the day, but a single hour was spent in anything useful -that was the hour at the piano. Now, your mother was up at half-past five, and went to bed, from her sheer inability to sit at her work any longer, at half-past nine. Sixteen hours for her also. How much reading did you do in that time?" And Mr. Thornton looked at his wife. "Don't talk to me of reading! Suppose a new adjustment were to helping you eight hours of each day, she would still "Then why do you sit killing yourself there?" have eight hours left for self-improvement and recreation; and you, relieved from your present overtasked condition, might get back a portion of your health and spirits, of which these too heavy household duties have robbed you."

A. LOTTIMER. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures,

many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system

seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. gravated by the scrofuthey were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every sec-tion of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptôms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following comints generally find immediate relief, and, a gth, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARIL. LA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscu-Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhaa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial. PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. AXER & CO., Lowell, Mass., Practical and Analytical Chemists.
