"Stand up for Jesus" always, In sunshine and in storm, Sure that 'mid wildest billows Thou shalt discern his form.

"Stand up for Jesus" always, In every walk of life; For he who bids thee conquer Is with thee in the strife.

"Stand up for Jesus" always; Not long the fight will be; Laid up in yonder heaven There waits a crown for thee.

"Stand up for Jesus" always, And soon, at his right hand, Thou shalt with all his chosen Triumphant take thy stand. -Christian Banner.

THE LOST CHILD.

In a sunny home, far away among the widespreading prairies of the West, dwelt an interesting family in blissful content, consisting of a husband, wife, and beautiful little daughter two and a half years of age. It is a lovely afternoon in the month of June, the month of wreaths and roses, flowers, and garlands, when nature's smiles are all around. and the sweet perfumes of blossoms fill the air, while the soft, mellow rays of the sun kiss this earth of ours in joyful recognition, as if seeking to make amends for the coldness of winter and inconsistency of spring. The husbandman goos forth to his labor, singing that beautiful song-

"Oh, give me a home in the prairie wild, God's garden, fair and free, Amid fairy bowers and beautiful flowers-Yes, a prairie home give me," while the happy wife and mother sits in the pleasant veranda, busily plying her skilful needle; and as for little Blanche, she is tripping about, in doors and out, up stairs and down stairs and in the lady's a brother's or sister's smiles, have repaid the small chamber, making music which seems to vie with the sweetest melody of the feathered songsters of the loving kiss, on the part of even the youngest of the again added a further supply to our Stock, which for air. The holy Sabbath returns, and a more beautiful of time, repeated the question; and it was anmorning never dawned upon the face of nature. Not a cloud is to be seen save a few of snowy whiteness, which blend so beautifully with the azure blue above, while the birds are chanting their anthems, and all nature is redolent with praise to our Maker. Upon every leaf and shrub is written in unmistakable language, "God is love." The Sabbath bell rings out upon the sacred stillness of the balmy air, inviting to praise and worship. Temples dedicated to God are filled with humble, devout worshippers. But how is it here upon the prairie? The search for the lost one is renewed not only by parents and friends, but hundreds of others. None, however, dare cherish the sweet anticipation of finding Blanche alive, but the faint hope of recovering the little casket that contained the precious jewel, which the parents watched and guarded so tenderly when full of life and beauty, prompts them to renewed exertion. About noon the father espies something of a reddish tinge in the tall grass. Well does he remember the scarlet dress his dear girl wore the last time he saw her. WORK FOR JESUS, CHILDREN. BY JESSIE GLENN.

This world is a great wilderness, full of weeds and brambles, of thickets and thorny hedges, and into its wild pathways God has placed men, women, and children, for its cultivation, as well as for the civilization of their own evil hearts, and all must be done for His glory. It is a severe school, but the discipline is necessary for the growth of the good seed which the Holy Spirit is hourly planting in the heart; and as the earth has to be carefully tilled, and the young plants fostered, watered and trained, if we would produce from its roughness lovely gardens, and flowers of rarest beauty, so must the heart be culivated; wild weeds must be aprooted, stoney substances cast out, and beau-

We think so. A little child who has the love of Jesus in his heart, can do much towards making at least, his own home a garden of delight, adorned with bright evidences of culture, a spot where contentment, like blush roses, can flourish, humility, like violets bloom, and kind words, like clusters of carnation pinks, be scattered thickly around.

Little deeds of love, cost nothing but effort! a premium reserve to meet maturing Policies of seven hundred and sixty-six thousand dollars, making their total ets to January 1st, 1881, one million seven hundred and xty-six thousand dollars. Their liabilities to same date e $807,389, or in other words, they have more than two lars assets for every dollar of liabilities. This success s owing to the facts that their business is conducted upon e only common sense plan-"so much insurance for so much money"-and that the Company's financial management has been economical and cautious. In this Company there are none of the bewildering uncertainties and disappointments of "notes," "dividends," you that bread of life, of which, if you eat, you will &c., &c., &c., which enter so largely into the business plans of Mutual Companies. The insured buy what they pay for—Insurance. They are not called upon to insure thers, but they are insured by the Company. Instead of charging thirty per cent, more than is necessary to cover possible losses, the National charges the net cost of Insurance and risks its capital to cover any extra mortality. Mutual Companies MAY not need to use this extra thirty per cent.; in that case it is returned to the Policy-holder and mis-called a "Dividend." The National does not need any extra guarantee, its capital being sut ficient, and consequently its rates are from 25 to 30 per cent. lower than those of Mutual Companies.

The National's Policies are more liberal than any issued n the Provinces, allowing residence or travel anywhere in temperate climates. No extra Premiums, Policy-fees Permits, or extra charges, except upon the half-dozen oc upations generally recognized as EXTRA hazardous.

The National is the only Company which has made the quired deposit at Ottawa for the SOLE benefit of Canadian icy-holders. All others are for "Policy-holders

SPEIGHT'S PATENT DESIDERATUM GLUE POT. IT has hitherto been found in using any of the Domestic I Glue Pots now before the public, that they have generally caused disappointment, for the Flue as soon as sufficiently heated, as speedily becomes chilled, owing to the cooling of the small quantity of water which can be used in melting the Glue. This inconvenience is avoided in th use of "SPEIGHT'S PATENT DESIDERATUM GLUE POT," where the Family Night Light not only dissolves the Glue, but will keep it in a hot and liquid state for several hours, and the necessity and manifest inconvenience is therefore obviated of having to place the Glue Pot on the bars of a hot grate or over a gas jet, as has been usually recommended, and is absolutely necessary in the use of any other Glue Pot. Another great improvement is the inner cup of porcelain which can be at any time re-moved for cleaning, and will be found equally useful for dissolving Gum, Isinglass, Gelatine, or any other adhe-

The advantage of having a Glue Pot, the separate parts of which can be removed and cleaned, and when necessary renewed, is sufficient alone to recommend the article to public use, and altogether will be found of a character immensely superior to any other of the Domestic Glue Pots hitherto supplied, and will be admitted as a Deside-RATUM IN EVERY HOUSEHOLD, SHOP, OR COUNTING HOUSE.
