MISSIONARY MEETING IN FREDERICTON.—Hon. G. E. King presided at the annual meeting of the Missionary Society in Fredericton on Monday evening, and addressed the audience at length. His Excellency, Gov. Wilmot, led the choir of Sunday School children. The collection in aid of the cause among the heathen was large. Many members of both branches of the Legislature were present, and appeared to take a lively interest in the exercises.—Tel.

SAVED BY A DOG.—On Wednesday morning, Mr. J. Lamy, hotel proprietor, was induced to get up by the continuous growling of his dog which was shut in the kitchen. Having searched the back part of the building, the dog, on getting access to the hall, led the way to the front, and on the door of the smoking-room being opened the room was found to be full of smoke. A boy named Daniel Porter, who had lain down in the room to smoke and sleep, had, by his pipe, set fire to his shirt, a blanket, and buffalo-robe, all of which were considerably burnt, as well as a hole nearly through the floor. This room is about 60 feet from the kitchen. The dog, whose keen scent thwarted the evil consequences of rum and tobacco in this case, should be considered a hero.—Amherst Gazette.

The death of Mr. Alfred Waddington, took place at Ottawa, on the 26th ultimo, he having fallen a victom to that loathsome disease, the small pox. Mr. Waddington was an Englishman, a native of Yorkshire, we believe, and had spent many years in British Columbia. He had reached the venerable age of seventy-two, and, except for slight indicationsof rhumatic gout, was hale and hearty. His hobby was a railway from the Pacific to the Atlantic, and he spent some nine years of his life, and many hundred pounds of his money, in forwarding the exploration of his favourite scheme. The pamphlets he has written on this subject furnish the date for many of the articles we see in the press in reference to the Pacific railway. It is said he was the discoverer of the Leatherhead Pass through the Rocky Mountains, the lowest yet known. He advocated the construction of the railway through this pass and its terminus at Bute Inlet. The British Columbia Government, in recognition of his services, gave him a town site of three hundred and twenty acres, on the border of Bute Inlet; but however it may compensate his heirs, it was certainly no adequate reward for him who spent so much money on what ought to have been a Government work. Three or four years ago he visited Ottawa, on his way to England, to press forward his favorite scheme, and has, we believe, spent the last five or six months at Ottawa, occasionally visiting Montreal. Canada will, at least, do justice to his hopes by carrying out a railway scheme in accordance with his long cherished expectations.—Canada News.

THE "ALABAMA" CLAIMS.—Although the American reply to the English note objecting to claims for consequential damages is not yet made public, its substance is ascertained. The American Government adheres to the "case" as already presented in all its points; it intimates its indifference as to whether it obtains consequential damages or not, and offers to submit the point whether or not the claims for such damages should be entertained at all to the Arbitrators themselves. This places the British Government in a position of either rejecting a proposition which has all the appearance of moderation and fairness, or going into an arbitration involving an amount which has been estimated at thousands of millions of dollars. The referring of the question—whether a claim for consequential damages is to enter into the case or not, amounts precisely to the same thing as referring that claim to the Arbitrators. If submitted in this form, and the Arbitrators decide that consequential damages may be claimed, Britain cannot draw back; and if such damages are awarded to any amount, she cannot refuse to pay them. If Britain thinks she sees sharp practice already in preferring claims which the Treaty does not in her judgment cover, she may naturally dread a continuance of such practice, and that the award may be made on considerations aside from the justice of the case. It is not, therefore, at all probable, that she will go a step farther in this matter, and her next note will probably declare, decidedly and finally, that she believed and believes such claims were ruled out of the Treaty, and that it was in this sense and no other she agreed to it, or will go on with the Arbitration.—Witness.

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN.

LONDON, March 15.—England has received official notice from France of the abrogation of the commercial treaty.

In the House of Commons, in answer to a question from Disraeli, Mr. Gladstone replied that a cabinet meeting would be held to-morrow, at which the answer of Secretary Fish would be considered. After that the Government would report on the subject; but it was impossible to do so now.

Mr. Horsman gave notice that in case of further negotiations with the Government of the United States, he should ask of the Government that nothing be accepted as equal until sanctioned by Parliament.

The funeral of Mazzini took place on Thursday, and was attended by a great concourse of persons.

The French Commision of Pardons have rejected the appeals of the murderers of hostages under the Commune.

Three Communists who were convicted of murdering hostages were shot this morning at Sartory.

The Assembly's committee have reported, recommending that Marshal Bazaine be tried by court martial for the surrender of Metz.

LONDON, March 17.—The Observer states that the American reply was read at a Cabinet meeting yesterday and discussed; it produced a favorable impression, and was regarded as furnishing an opening for further negotiations on the basis of the Washington Treaty.

St. Patrick's Day was observed throughout Ireland to-day; no disturbances are reported. At Drogheda there was a great open air celebration, at which speeches were made upholding "Home Rule" and denouncing the Government for refusing pardons to Fenian prisoners.

The British iron-clad Lord Clyde, 23 guns and 4,067 tons, is ashore in the Mediterranean near the Island of Pantellaria.

[The Pantellaria it an island of Naples, anciently called Cossyra, 60 miles from the south-west coast of Sicily. Its shape is oval, and its circuit is about thirty miles. It is wholly of volcanic formation, presenting vestiges of craters, with lava pumice, hot springs, etc. At its north-west point, at the head of a cave, is the town of Oppidolo, which has a convinent port for small vessels, with some export trade in wine, oil, cotton, archil, and raisins. The population of the island is 5000.]

CALCUTTA, March 18.—The assassin of Earl Mayo has been executed. He made a confession, declaring that the death of the Viceroy was not the result of a conspiracy, as he alone designed and carried out the murder. He also said he intended to kill General Stewart, who accompanied the Earl on the tour of inspection to Port Blair, and was only prevented from executing his purpose by the promptness of his arrest after attacking the Viceroy.

LONDON, March 18.—In the House of Commons, to-night, Mr. Gladstone stated that the reply of the American Government to Earl Granville's note was received on the 14th inst. He was gratified to be able to state that it was couched in courteous and friendly terms. (Cheers.) Our views, he continued, are not adopted. Hence, in the opinion of the Government, an answer is required, which the Government of the United States appears to invite. This answer will be delivered to the American Minister in London, before Thursday of the present week. It would be inconsistent with the public interests to lay the correspondence before Parliament at present, particularly as the Congress of the United States has declined to ask it of their President. The tenor of our communication, while it shows that we are anxious to carry the the Treaty into execution, will, I trust, not fail to give expression to the views of the nature of the case which the terms of this country demands. The statement of the Premier was received with loud cheers.

Earl Garnville in the House of Lords in reply the enquiry of Earl Malmesbury concerning the correspondence, added that the papers would be produced as soon as possible. He assured their Lordships that he was aware of the public anxiety on this subject and the grave responsibility attached to the government with it.

PARIS, March 18.—It is rumored that Gen. Bourbaki has sent a challenge to Marshal D'Hilliers.

The republicans left in Assembly, will not oppose war estimate as agreed upon by President Thiers and the Budget Committee.

19.—The Government precautions to prevent Communist demonstration proved unnecessary, as there were no manifestations in any city, and all is now quiet.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19.—The Empress of Russia is ill.

LONDON, March 19.—In the House of Lords, Baron Redesdale gave notice of a resolve, and if carried, should move an address, praying that an International Congress be called by Great Britain to decide whether when belligerents have been reconciled and become one, they can demand as such a nation, of a neutral state, indemnity for damages done one of the belligerents.

In the House of Commons, Disraeli and Horseman questioned Gladstone whether the proposals from the United States would be accepted until they received the sanction of Parliament. He was unable to answer the question last evening, as he had not been able to consult with his collegues.

There was an exciting scene in the House of Commons last evening when a resolution of Dilke for an investigation of the expenses of the Crown came up. Its consideration was objected to on the ground that it was inconsistent with the oaths of allegiance to the Queen which the members had taken. The Speaker ruled it admissable, and Sir Charles read his resolution and supported it in a bold speech, followed by Herbert. Gladstone replied. The House was divided, showing but two members in favor of the resolution. There was much confusion throughout, and at one time the galleries were cleared. Herbert voted with Dilke.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, is without doubt, the safest, surest, and best remedy that has ever been invented for internal and external use. It is applicable to a great variety of complaints, and is equally beneficial for man or beast.

We have seen it stated in various papers throughout the country, that Agents for the sale of of Sheridan's Calvary Condition Powders were authorized to refund the money to any person who should use them and not be satisfied with the result. We doubted this at first, but the proprietors authorize us to say that it is true.

Dr. Wilson's Anti-Bilious and Preserving Pills never fail to produce a healthy action and may be given to every age or sex. They remove all offensive accumulations in the bowels, and do not bring on subsequent constipation or costiveness. They stimulate all surrounding organs to a healthy state, and are of great utility where a cathartic is required. With such pleasing intelligence, can it be wondered at that we should feel an ardent desire that those who are suffering from disease should be made acquainted with the remedy, the unexampled, powerful, and beneficial qualities of which have so greatly reduced the sum of human wretchedness; and we are satisfied the more their surprising effects become known, the more will Dr. Wilson's Pills rise in the estimation of the public.

Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam has stood the test of time, and has overcome the usual amount of opposition. During the winter and early spring months no house or home should be without the means of arresting a cough at its onset. Such means are safely and surely presented in this excellent Balsam, which removes all diseases of the Lungs, in the mildest and most efficient manner. This Balsam strongly recommended to those persons whose Lungs are constitutionally weak, and whose nervous system has been shattered by hithero confirmed cough, and by wrong treatment, and on such it will confer a great boon.

For Harness-Galls, Sore Shoulder, &c., &c., Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, is the best known remedy. Wash well with castile soap and water, and apply the Liniment, and it will cool the most angry sore, diminish the inflamation, and reduce the swelling. No Liniment, for rapidity of cure can be compared to this.

If your horse has been out in the cold rain and become chilled, or drank too much cold water, give at once Clark's Derby Condition Powders. No man who values his horse should be without them. By those who ought to know something about horses, they are everywhere preferred to all articles of the kind.
