A MOTHER'S MURNING PRAYER.

Up to me sweet childhood looketh, Heart and mind and soul awake; Teach me of thy ways, O Father! For sweet childhood's sake.

In their young hearts, soft and tender, Guide my hand good seed to sow, That its blossoming may praise thee Wheresoe'er they go.

Give to me a cheerful spirit, That my little flock may see It is good and pleasant service To be taught of thee.

Father, order all my footsteps; So direct my daily way, That, in following me, the children May not go astray

Let the holy counsel lead me, Let thy light before me shine, That they may not stumble over Word or deed of mine. -Hymns for Mothers and Children

A PREACHER EATING HIS HORSE.

There was no church in Van Buren. A Methodist itinerant was sent there. One house only was open to him-the tavern-and to that he went and put up. He interviewed mine host. "What is the chance for a Methodist preacher here?" The reply was that it was the same as for any other man, if he had money. "But if I have no money." The chances were bad enough. "What do you charge for board?" said the circuit rider. The rates were given. "Look at my horse," said he; "What do you think he is worth?" The animal doubtless "And I've disturbed you. I am sorry, Uncle was good middling, for our preachers are not novices about horses, and no men have better use for them. > AN EPISCOPALIAN HORSE, In one of his tours, Elder John Leland came up at night to a public house, where he was acquainted and where he proposed to pass the night. The landlord met him with a smiling countenance, and told him, that, having built a new barn, he was nicely prepared to accommodate the clergy. "I have," said he, "a very good stable, with all the improvements, for Episcopal horses; a comfortable sort of a stable for Presbyterian horses, while I keep the old barn for Baptist horses; the feed is according to the style of the stable." "Well," he replied, "everybody knows that I am a Baptist, but my horse is an Episcopalian." - Baptist Quarterly.
