

ship for the accommodation of the Baptists in three towns. One of these, being taken down, gave place to the present one at Wantage.

SPAIN.—Protestantism is rapidly advancing in Spain. A wonderful work is going on there for truth and righteousness. Everywhere the Gospel is greatly desired. One writes: "The people are clamorous for the stated preaching of salvation by grace." He adds:—

"We must not stand still—we must go forward in the strength of the Lord from one conquest to another. I know of two Spanish laborers who are available for work. With their additional assistance the mission of Cadix could be a centre of work for San Fernando with its 27,500, Puerto Santa Maria with 21,700, and Puerto Real with 7,000; and there is Medina Sidonia with 12,800, and Chicla with 9,000—all in sight of my windows. Every time I look at them I seem to hear a voice sounding in my ears, 'Come over and help us.' Christian reader, lay this matter to heart, pray over it, and God will assuredly and speedily answer my earnest prayers, so that ere long the Gospel shall be preached in those towns also, where I firmly believe God has a people ready to hail the messenger and his glorious message with joy and gladness. Ask, and ye shall receive, for your joy may be full."

Should the petition of the Massachusetts Prohibitory Temperance Alliance be granted, the sale of strong drink will materially decrease in the United States. They memorialize Congress to make an amendment to the Constitution, providing for the impeachment of any federal officer given to drinking, and to prohibit any person holding a Government office, who is addicted to intoxicating drinks. This would make half the nation temperate at least.

MEDICAL CHARGE AGAINST ALCOHOL.—A memorial appears in the British Medical Journal, extensively signed by the foremost physicians and surgeons of the country, on the use of alcohol, in which it is urged that as the inconsiderate prescription of large quantities of alcoholic liquids by medical men for their patients has given rise, in many instances, to the formation of intemperate habits, no medical practitioner should prescribe it without a sense of grave responsibility.

A REVEREND MURDERER.—The conviction of the Rev. John Selby Watson, of Stockwell, England, for the murder of his wife, Anne Watson, subjects a clergyman of the Church to the penalty of death by hanging for the crime of deliberately taking away a human life. The deed was committed in the early days of the month of October, 1871. After killing his wife, the murderer placed her dead body in a box made to order, under his direction, "air-tight and water-tight," intending to send it off by rail. The English police were too active for him, however, and he was brought to justice like an ordinary criminal, neither money, friends or position availing him.

RANSOMING.—On a farm at Ogdensburg, owned by one Astell, a two year old Ayrshire bull and a yearling ram, recently fought a desperate battle, which continued two days, at short intervals. In the last round, the bull was knocked completely out of time and fell dead, having succeeded in the final butting of his lighter but more active assailant.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt in Montreal on Tuesday evening; it was also felt in Fredericton. The New York Sun says there were 203 murders in that city last year, and that not one of the murderers was hanged.—David S. Kerr, Esq., announces that he will be a candidate for the representation of St. John county. There are always plenty of men who are ambitious for parliamentary honors. A man named Walker was drowned a few days ago, while crossing one of the lakes in the vicinity of Loch Lomond.—An accident occurred to the train from Windsor to Halifax on Friday last. The cars were thrown from the track about three miles from Windsor. Several passengers were injured, though none were killed. The road is out of repair, rotten sleepers and other defects abounding; hence the accident, which might have been much more serious. There is a case of small pox in St. Stephen, so three doctors say, while one says it is not small pox.—A man was frozen to death recently while riding on top of an omnibus in Paris.—The dead letter office at Washington took over $9,000,000 out of dead letters last year, for most of which owners were found.—Several hail storms are reported in England.—It is estimated that the number of persons in the States and Territories who use tobacco will not fall under eight millions.—The ice on the upper thousand miles of the Mississippi river is fifteen inches thick.—The total number of pupils enrolled in the public schools of Pennsylvania last year was 894,614.—There were 1,201 deaths from violence in New York last year. During the past week travel on the Pacific railway has been seriously interrupted by the drifting snow.—Advices from Salt Lake city give a gloomy view of affairs there. Not only Mormon difficulties disturb the general prosperity, but the town is so infested by lawless desperadoes, that neither life nor property is safe.—Over 450 miles of railway have been built in Minnesota during the past year; the total number of miles now in operation is 1,550, and the gross earnings of railroads for the past year were $34,304,114.—The Missouri State prison now contains nine hundred and ten inmates. It is engaged to accommodate three hundred and fifty.—The year 1871 has been highly prosperous in the regions of Pennsylvania.—Angus McQueen, Esq., M. P. for Westmorland, and J. H. Crawford, Esq., M. P. for Kings, were on Wednesday sworn in members of the Executive Council, in place of the Hon. Mr. Moore, recently deceased, and Hon. J. C. Covert, resigned.—The collections in aid of the funds of the relief committee of the Y. M. C. A., made in the churches of this city during the week of prayer amounted to $130.—Three or four hundred children were graded in the Grammar School district on Wednesday.

This extension will connect Sydney Harbor and Louisbourg and will afford the shipowner an interesting opportunity to ship coal at all times during the winter.

ANOTHER SHIPMENT ENTERPRISE.—A meeting called at the instance of Mr. F. W. Fishwick, was held yesterday afternoon at the office of the Nova Scotia Mutual Fire Insurance Co., to take into consideration the expediency of organizing a Company to connect Halifax with a United States port by a steamer to touch at the principal ports on the Western shore. After a full discussion of the subject, a company was organized, and Messrs. James B. Duff, Thos. E. Kenny, and J. Taylor were appointed Provisional Directors. The sum of $40,000 was subscribed to purchase a powerful steamer to run from Halifax to Boston or Portland, touching probably at Liverpool and Yarmouth. The company will also take Mr. Fishwick's steamer, the M. A. Steamer, to extend her route to the smaller ports. The enterprise is a most important one, and Halifax and the Western shore, and it is satisfactory to know that it is in the hands of men who will push it forward with energy.—Halifax Chronicle, 18th.

ROCKHEAD had 75 prisoners last week. 41 men and 34 women. It is said by an evening paper that three fourths of the criminals are there in consequence of the use of intoxicating drink, and we believe it.
