Poetry.

O Father, hear ! The way is dark, and I fain would discern What steps to take, into which path to turn ; Oh, make it clear.

My faith is weak ; I long to hear Thee say, "This is the way ; Walk in it, fainting soul, I'll be thy stay ;" Speak, Lord, Oh, speak !

Let Thy strong arm Reach through the gloom for me to lean upon, And with a willing heart I'll journey on, And fear no harm.

1 wait for Thee As those who, watching, wait the coming dawn; Pant, as for water pants the thirsty fawn ; Oh, come to me.

It is Thy child, Who sits in dim uncertainty and doubt, Waiting and longing till the light shine out Upon the wild.

My Father ! see, I trust the faithfulness displayed of old, I trust the Love that never can grow cold-I trust in Thee.

And thou wilt guide ; For Thou hast promised never to forsake The soul that Thee its confidence doth make ; I've none beside.

Thou knowest me; Thou knowest how I now in darkness grope : And Oh, thou knowest that my only hope Is found in Thee. -Christ. Intelligencer.

REMOVAL. TO THE PATRONS of LEMONT'S VARIETY STORE. LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,--We desire to inform you that we have moved our Stock of Goods (including those of our Branch Store, Hogg's Corner) to the Brick Building lately occupied by Messrs. ROBINSON & WHEELER, only next door below our old stand.

Feeling thankful for the patronage we have received during the last twenty years while doing business in Fredericton, we would respectfully ask for a continuance from you of the same. With the largest Store and Warcrooms in the City, we shall have greater facilities for carrying on a Wholesale and Retail trade, enabling us more promptly to attend to the wants of customers. There are three Showrooms, eighty-three feet deep by twenty-three feet wide, besides a cellar under all, giving a floor space of 7,636 feet. The Store is situated between the Queen Hotel and Barker House, and is but three minutes walk from the City Hall. We shall in the future, as in the past, keep the largest Stock of Goods in New Household Furniture, White Stoneware and China, Crockery, Cut and Pressed Glassware, Cutlery, Kitchen wares, Tin and Block Tin ware, Silver Plated ware, Lamps and Lamp Stock, Fancy Goods, Wooden ware, Household Hardware and Varieties, to be seen in Fredericton, and an assortment equal to any in the

she said :

"Sir, can you assist me? I have no home, no friends, and I am not able to work."

He glanced at her, and then at the child, with a mingled look of curiosity and pity. Evidently he was much surprised to see a woman in such a place begging, but, without asking any questions, gave her some change, and turning to those present he said :

"Gentleman, here is a lady in distress. Can't some of you help her a little ?"

They all cheerfully acceded to the request, and soon a purse of two dollars were raised and put in her hand.

"Madam," said the gentleman who gave her the money, "why do you come to a saloon ? It isn't a very proper place for a lady, and why are you driven to such a step ?"

"Sir, I know it isn't a proper place for me to be in, and you ask why I am driven to such a step. ] will tell you in one short word," pointing to a bottle behind the counter labelled "whiskey ;" "that is what brought me here-WHISKEY !"

"I was once happy and surrounded by all luxuries that wealth could procure, with a fond and indulgent husband. But in an evil hour he was tempted, and not possessing the will to resist the temptation, fell, and in one short year my dream of happiness was over, my home was forever desolated, and the kind husband, and the wealth some called mine, lost, never to return, and all by the accursed wine-cup.

"You see before you only a wreck of my former self, homeless and friendless, and with nothing jeft me in this world but this little child," and weeping bitterly she affectionately caressed the golden curls that shaded a face of exquisite loveliness. Regaining her composure and turning to the proprietor of the saloon she continued :

"Sir, the reason I occasionally enter a place like this is to implore those who deal in the deadly poison to desist, to stop a business that spreads desolation, ruin, poverty, and starvation. Think one moment of your own loved ones, and then imagine them in the situation I am in. I appeal to your better nature, I appeal to your heart, for I know you possess a kind one, to retire from a business so ruinous to your patrons.

"Did you know that the money you receive across this bar is the same as taking bread from out of the mouths of the famished wives and children of your customers ? That it strips the clothes from their backs, deprives them of all the comfortsof life, and throws unhappiness, misery, crime, and desolation into their once happy homes ? Oh, sir, I implore, beseech, and pray you to retire from business you blush to own you are engaged in before your fellowmen, and enter one that will not only be profitable to yourself, but to your fellow-this strange scene was enacted, disposed of his entire stock the next day, and is now engaged in an onorable business. Would to heaven that the ady with her little one could have gone into every hamlet, town, and city throughout the country, and met with like results !-- Laramie Sentinel.

DON'T DELAY.

The captain of a little vessel once, in a storm, fell in with a crippled steamer which seemed greatly n need of help. He stopped to lend them help, as seamen often do, sometimes sending a boat manned by strong sailors, who may climb up the ship's side, and learn the full extent of the injury.

"I am in a sinking condition," said the captain in answer to the inquiries of the other. "Had you not better send your passengers on board ?" "Will you not lie by me till morning ?" said the steamer's captain.

"I will try, but think you had better send your passengers on board now."

Still the captain was loth to abandon his beautiful ship. He would try and hold on till morning, and then if needed provide for the safety of those on board.

taking hold of her mother's hand, " those gentle-Shall I do so ?"

"Yes, darling, if they wish you to." following beautiful song .

"Out in the gloomy night sadly I roam, I have no mother dear, no pleasant home; No one cares for me, no one would cry, Even if I poor little Bessie should die. Weary and tired I have been wandering all day, Asking for work, but I am too small, they say On the damp ground I must now lay my head Father's a drunkard and mother is dead.

"We were so happy till father drank rum, Then all our sorrow and trouble began ; Mother grew pale and wept every day-Baby and I were too hungry to play : Slowly they faded till one summer night Found their dead faces all silent and white ; Then with big tears slowly dropping I said, Father is a drunkard and mother is dead !

Poor wretched father, and talk very kind ; If they would stop him from drinking, then I should be very happy again. Is it too late, temperance men ? Please try, Or little Bessie must soon starve and die ; All the day long I have been begging for bread ; Father's a drunkard, and mother is dead !"

The games of billiards were left unfinished, the cards were thrown aside, and the unemptied glass remained on the counter; all had pressed near, some with curiosity, some with sadness, and some with pity beaming in their eyes, entranced with the musical voice and beauty of the child, who seemed God? better fitted to be with angels above than in such a place.

New Maryland, May 25th, 1872.

Faith and works were well illustrated by a venturesome little six-year-old boy, who ran into the " Oh ! if the temperance men only could find forest after a team and rode home upon the load of wood.
