THE DINNER.

The dinner was a well got up affair. The President occupied the chair; the Governor on the right; Wallace, M. P., on the left. The Moncton band furnished music. The toasts on the Queen and Governor General were proposed in turn, and duly honored. Mr. Wallace, M. P., responded for the Parliament of Canada and the Dominion. He said he was thankful for what his eyes had seen during the day; with Simeon of old he could say now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, not because his eyes had seen salvation, but because he had seen the beginning of the salvation of Albert County. He believed that with railway facilities Albert County would be second to no other in the province. It had coal, copper, iron, plaster, man-ganese, and other minerals, which render it one of fleet for them. He believed the road would be completed in three

In response to the toast of the Lieut. Governor, Gov. Wilmot made a very happy speech, recalling the efforts of himself and others to secure the privileges of independent government of the province ; also he referred to the magnitude and prospects of the Dominion. He would do all he could to secure the subsidy for the railway and believed the Government would meet the views of the people on the subject. The province must have better terms, and he thought Mr. Wallace should have spoken on that

Dr. Palmer responded to the toast of the Local Legislature, which had always been liberal to railthe present undertaking. He proposed The President and Directors.

Hon. Mr. Lewis responded, shewing some of the necessities for the construction of the road; he pointed out the agricultural, timber and mineral resources of the country, welcomed the guests, and was sorry some who were expected could not come. He gave The Press, which was responded to by Mr. Smith, of the Telegraph and Journal, and Mr. Stevens, of the Times.

The toast of the Contractors, was responded to by Messrs. Cooke and McDonald, who said they intended to build a firstclass railway.

Governor Wilmot gave President of the United States, followed by "the Star Spangled Banner" by the band, and a speech by Mr. Howill, Mr. Clark, and Mr. Cushing.
