JOHN JANKIN'S SERMON. The minister said last night, says he, "Don't be afraid of givin'; If your life ain't nothin' to other folks, Why, what's the use of livin'?"

And that's what I said to my wife, says I, There's Brown, the mis'rable sinner, He'd sooner a beggar would starve than give A cent towards buyin' a dinner. I tell you our minister's prime, he is,

But I couldn't quite determine When I heard him givin' it right and left, Just who was hit by his sermon. Of course there couldn't be no mistake When he talked of long-winded prayin', For Peters and Johnson they sot and scowled At every word he was sayin'.

And the minister he went on to say, "There's various kinds o'cheatin,' And religion's as good for every day As it is to bring to meetin'. I don't think much of a man that gives The loud Amens at my preachin', And spends his time the followin' week

In cheatin' and over-reachin'." I guess that dose was bitter enough For a man like Jones to swoller; But I noticed he didn't open his mouth, Not once, after that, to holler, Hurrah, says I, for the minister !-Of course I said it quiet-Give us some more of this open talk,

It's very refreshin' diet.

The minister hit 'em every time; And when he spoke of fashion, And a riggin' out in bows and things, As a woman's rulin' passion, And a comin' to church to see the styles, I couldn't help a winkin',

And a nudgin' my wife, says I, "That's you," And I guess it sot her thinkin'. Says I to myself, That sermon's pat; But man is a queer creation!

And I'm much afraid that most o' the folks Won't take the application. Now, it he had said a word about My personal mode o' sinnin,' I'd a gone to work to right myself, And not set there a grinnin.'

Just then the minister says, says he, "And now I've come to the fellers Who've lost this shower by usin' their friends As sort o' moral umbrellas.

"Go home," says he, " and find your faults, Instead of huntin' your brother's;" "Go home," he says, " and wear the coats You have tried to fit for others."

My wife, she nudged, and Brown he winked, And there are lots o' smilin' And lots o' lookin' at our pew; It sot my blood a bilin.' Says I to myself, our minister Is gettin' a little bitter; I'll tell him, when meetin's out that I Ain't at all that kind of a critter.

ANIMALS THAT CANNOT FEEL.

BY ELLEN BERTHA BRADLEY. Annie had been cleaning the glass of her Ward case, and stood upon the edge of the piazza, listlessly dipping the sponge she had used into a basin of water, watching it fill, and then squeezing it out in bags hung from their necks, and then they give and dipping it in again.

"Annie," said Ned, coming up behind her "What is that you have in your hand?" "This? It is a sponge," she answered, in a tonof surprise.

"But what is a sponge?" he asked. "I don't know. I never thought," she answered after a moment's hesitation.

"Let us see if Harry or Susie knows," said he as the gate opened and the other children came up "Knows what?" asked Harry, for they were near enough to hear. "What this is ?" said Ned, taking the sponge hurt. from Annie and holding it up for them to see.

"That! why it's sponge!" they answered, in a "Can't you tell us something more about it he asked. "Where did it come from?"

"I am sure it looks and feels more like a vegetable," said Harry.

"So it does," answered Ned, "and you need not feel at all mortified at your mistake, for it is one that a great many wise men have made. years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach. and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease,

Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons. It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even when no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of CHURNS! CHURNS! CHURNS! HEALTH! TIME! MONEY! WHY SHOULD IBUY KITCHEN'S PATENT CHURN? DECAUSE they preserve health, save time, save money, and the churning is all done in 5 or 10 minutes. Yo will then believe what I assure you is true, viz. : That I BEFORE closing the second year of our business, we desire respectfully to state that we are not unmind-Dashers, each revolving in an opposite direction. It is useless to attempt a description of this churn in an advertisement, it has to be seen to be appreciated. It is estimated by practical farmers that it will produce one-tenth more butter from the same quantity of cream than any other churn now in use. The public are respectfully requested to call at my store, examine the article, and select for Fredericton, April 22, 1870.

Professor Soret, in delivering a most interesting report, passed in review the operations of the Industrial section, in reference to Commerce, laying great stress upon the competition that has taken piece in the manufacture of chronometers. This competition was instituted with the object of testing the workmanship and precision of chronometers turned out by Genevese manufacturers, and none but those adopted for pocket use were admitted. They were deposited in charge of the authorities at the Observatory, and underwent the most searching ordeal possible to be applied to pocket instruments of this class. The jury for 18 cents cash per lb.

Orders from the country enclosing cash will be promptly filled.
