On Monday the House met at 3 o'clock. The Address in reply to the speech was moved by first paragraph was read and carried. Upon the ed by them. Scandal, McKenzie moved the following amend- diocese to pray for the restoration of monarchy in "That we have to acquaint His Excellency that on the floor of this House, and under the facts disclosed in the evidence laid before us, His Excellency's advisers have merited the severest censure of this House." The amendment was seconded by Coffin.

Mr. McKenzie supported his amendment by a lengthy and powerful speech. He referred to the events preceding the union with British Columbia, and claimed that the Government had been steadily losing ground since the time of the General Confederation. He charged them with appointing partizan returning officers. He charged Sir John with making a bargain with Sir Hugh Allan, and the sale to him of the Pacific Railroad contract, and quoted the evidence taken before the Commis sion in support of his charge. After a lengthy attack on the personnel of the Government, he then charged the Speaker with partiality in his proceedings on the occasion of the late prorogation. That portion of his speech is thus reported by the correspondent of the Tribune: "I succeeded in having my resolution placed in your hands, but it seems it might as well have remained in my desk as to be sent to that quarter. I remember you, Mr. Speaker, failed to make your appearance here at the hour appointed the Black Rod posted at the door long before the ed off quietly. Governor General reached the Senate Chamber.
