THE SCHOOLS REPORT.

The Annual Report of the Common, Superior, Grammar, and Training and Model Schools, by the Chief Superintendent of Education, in New Brunswick for 1872, is before us.

We think we are safe in saying that never before has so thorough and so interesting a report been submitted by the head of the Education Department of this Province. It ought to be widely distributed, for its careful perusal by the people cannot tail of doing much good, removing prejudices, making clear what has been hard to understand, and creating generally a sentiment more favourable to the Free School system.

We need not refer at length to the Superintendent's references to the object of the Act, and to the steps taken preparatory to its coming into operation. The facts concerning the working of the system are of most interest, and they furnish conclusive evidences of progress the most satisfactory. In comparing the results of the present system with the results of the system which immediately preceded it, Mr. Rand uses the statistics of the Summer Term of 1871 and the corresponding term
