THE BACKSLIDER

'Tis strange that I, who've felt the joy Of being once forgiven, Should ever stray agair, away From that straight path to heaven; For sin had bound my heart around, And guilt been rankling in it, And the dread Law, with solemn awe, Been thundering every minute.

But when at length I felt my need, And cried, O, Jesus, save me ! How quick he came and spoke my name, And told me he forgave me! And O! that day he washed away

My guilt and fear together, And my glad heart, in every part, Felt lighter than a feather.

Then how could I go back again, And live that sad life over? And how remove from so much love, And such a spotless Lover? How leave the heaven that he has given, Within me and around me, And go again and wear the chain

In which the Saviour found me?

Then let us Christians ask the aid Of Him who always sees us; And let our prayer be everywhere, O! be our guardian, Jesus! And if we give him all we have, And nothing be denied him. We shall, below, be safe as though We were in heaven beside him.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
