Cabinet question A testimonal banquet was given last evening to Hon. Peter John Locke King, the eminent English politician and member of Parliament. Five hundred persons were present, including Messrs. Gladstone and Cardwell. A number of speeches were delivered. Gladstone's was the occasion of much comment. In the course of his remarks the Premier adverted to the Irish Education Bill recently introduced in Parliament, and intimated that the Government would gladly accept all valuable amendments, and would consent to modifications which would not better the Bill, in order to avoid tle adoption of any worse measure. In concluding his remarks upon this subject, Mr. Gladstone said: "At the hour of the dissolution of the Ministry, we will be ready to retire, but we will not needlessly abandon our posts." London, March 7.—The London police have arrested the paramour of Warren, the principal in the heavy forgeries on the Bank of England. The sum of £13,570 in gold was found in her apartments. She was committed to prison for examination.

Noyes, the clerk of the forgers, was brought before the Court to-day, and after examination remanded for a week.
