WOMAN'S MISSIONARY HYMN.

BY MRS. ELLEN LARRABEE LATTIMORE. As we sit in the sunshine. Of this Christian land. Where true heart beats with true heart, And hand clasps with hand, Our thoughts fly with yearning To those far away,

Who alone in the darkness Sit waiting for day.

When we smile in the gladness Of home's happy hours, And remember the blessings That Christ has made ours; Sweet peace in the present, Sweet dreams of the past, Sweeter hopes for the future, Of heaven at last:

When in sadness and sorrow We bow 'neath the rod, Yet rejoice that it proves us The loved ones of God; Then we think of our sisters With hearts like our own, Who ne'er heard of a Saviour, But suffer alone.

Oh! help us, loving Father, To teach them of Thee, And to send glorious tidings Far over the sea; By the bedside of weakness To whisper of rest, And to lead those who languish To lean on Thy breast, Help us never to falter

As onward we go, Let us love and adore Thee In weal or in woe; Though we walk through the valley Of the shadow of Death, Let us still strive to serve Thee With life's latest breath.

-Heathen Woman's Friend.

THE BRAVE FISHER GIRL.

On the coast of Normandy, near Granville, the rise and fall of the tide are very great, being about forty-four feet at spring-tides. It comes in very rapidly, and in particular places may be seen making up in a great wave two or three feet high. In a book on Normandy the following adventure is narrated of two English gentlemen :-

They had been out on the sands watching the manner in which sand-eels were caught, and examining the structure of the rocks, which were like sponges, when of a sudden one of them, whose name was Cross, shouted,-

'I forgot the tide, and here it comes!' His companion, whose name was Hope, turned towards the sea, and saw a stream of water running at a rapid rate, and replied quickly,-

'I suppose we had better be off.' 'If we can,' replied Cross; ' by crossing the rocks

we may yet be in time.' They began to scramble up the rocks, and walked as fast as they could toward the nearest shore; but it was sometime before they reached the highest point. On gaining it they looked round, and saw that the sand was not yet covered, though lines of blue water here and there showed how fast it was rising. They hastened on, but had not gone far when they found that the sand was in narrow strips, with sheets of water between; but seeing a girl before them who was familiar with the beach, they cried:

' We shall do yet;' and ran forward.

The girl, however, instead of going toward the shore, was running to meet them, and almost out of breath cried,--

The wave! the wave! it is coming. Turn, turn! -run, or we are lost!'

They did turn, and saw out at sea a large wave rolling toward the shore. Out of breath as they were, they yet increased their speed as they retraced their steps toward the rocks they had just left. The little girl passed them and led the way. The two friends strained every nerve to keep pace with her, for as they neared the rock the wave still rolled toward them, the sand becoming gradually covered. Their last few steps were knee-deep in water.

'Quick! quick!' said the girl; 'there is the passage to cross, and if the second wave come we shall be toc late.'

She ran on for a hundred yards till she came to a crack in the rock six or seven feet wide, along which the water was rushing like a mill sluice. 'We are lost! said the girl; 'I cannot cross: it will carry me away.'

'Is it deep ?' said Cross.

'Not very,' she said; 'but it is too strong. Cross lifted the girl in his arms, plunged into the stream, and, though the water was up to his | seek their fortunes in the city. waist, he was soon across. His companion followed and all three now stood on the rock.

'Come on, come on!' cried the girl; 'we are nearly there !' and she led the way to the highest point of the rocks, and on reaching it, cried, 'We are safe now!

All were thoughtful for a moment, as they saw the danger which God had delivered them from : looking round, the sand was one sheet of water. 'We are quite safe here,' said the girl 'but we shall have to stay three or four hours before we

'What made you forget the tide?' said Cross: 'you must know the coast well.'

'I did not forget it,' she replied ; 'but I feared, as you were strangers, you would be drowned, and I ran back to tell you what to do.'

'And did you risk your life to save ours?' said Hope, the tears starting to his eyes. 'I thought at any rate I thould get here,' she replied; 'but I was very nearly too late.' Hope took the little girl in his arms and kissed her, and said, 'We owe you our lives, you brave bed that morning, determined to try to be good.

On looking to the shore, they saw a great many people clustering together on the nearest point; a HIRST CHOICE KID GLOVES, faint sound of cheers was heard, and they could see hats and handkerchiefs waved to them. 'The tide has turned,' said the girl, ' and they

She was right; in five minutes the place was dry. FOUR SERVANTS OF SATAN.

Dear young friends, Satan has a great many servants, and they are very busy, running about doing all the harm they can. I know four of them, and some of the mischief they have done. I found out their names, and I want to put you on your guard against them, for they are very sly. They will make you believe they are your friends. They appear sociable, easy, good-natured, and not too much in a hurry. They seem to wait your own time, and entice you when you least expect it.

"Oh, we want you to enjoy yourselves," they say, "and not be so particular;" and the arguments they use are very taking; at least I must think so, since so many of the young listen to them and are bourg; 100 brls. Caledonia; 200 brls. Baldwin High Extra. For sale by [jan 31] G. BENT. led away by them.

And all, I believe, because they did not know, in the first place, who was speaking to them. They were deceived. They did not see it was Satan's uniform they had on. Do you ask for their names? Here they are:

"There's no danger." That is one. "Only this once." That is another.

"Everybody-does-so," is the third, and "By-andby" is the fourth.

If you are tempted to leave God's house, and break the Sabbath to go for a sail or a ride, and Only this once" or "Everybody does so" whispers at your elbow, know it is false. The great evil of one sin 18, that you bring your heart and conscience into such a state that you will be likely to go on sinning; for there is not half so much to stop you as there was to prevent you setting out at first. Hold no parley with "Only-this-once," or counsels, no, not for a moment.

Are you thinking seriously about the welfare of your soul? Has the Holy Spirit fastened upon your conscience the solemn warnings of a faithful teacher, and brougth to mind a tender mother's prayer for your conversion? Does the tear start in your eye, and are you almost persuaded to choose Christ and that better part which can not be tak- 100 brls. Kendall. For sale by en from you? That is a moment when "By-andby" hovers near to snatch your confidence, and persuade you to put away serious things. It succeeded with poor Felix when Paul preached to him, and the Roman ruler was "almost persuaded to become a Christian." "By-and-by" whispered in his ear. He put off his soul's salvation to a more convenient season, and it never came.

"By-and-by" is a cheat as well as a liar. By putting you off, he means to cheat your soul of heaven. God says now: "Now is the accepted time, and the day of salvation." He never asks you to postpone it. He makes no promises and no provisions for "By-and-by."

Dear children, be on your guard against these four servants of Satan, in little things as well as in great ones, for their only aim is to harm and ruin | Ponson's Extra Rich Silks, in all the leading colors. you.—British Messenger.

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other comlaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even when no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of CHURNS! CHURNS! CHURNS! HEALTH! TIME! MONEY! WHY SHOULD IBUY KITCHEN'S PATENT CHURN? BECAUSE they preserve health, save time, save money, and the churning is all done in 5 or 10 minutes. Ye will then believe what I assure you is true, viz.: That I have for sale the best churn ever invented-Kitchen's Patent Rotary Double Dasher. This churn has two pashers, each revolving in an opposite direction. It is isseless to attempt a description of this churn in an adversisement, it has to be seen to be appreciated. It is estimated by practical farmers that it will produce one-tenth more butter from the same quantity of cream than any other churn now in use. The public are respectfully requested to call at my store, examine the article, and select for themselves. Fredericton, April 22, 1870.
