I feel it necessary to say something concerning the school Question. I have always been in favor of a Free School System. It is, to my mind, the only way in which the children of a large proportion of our poorer classes can be educated: a majority of voters and tax-payers are in favor of it. Catholic parents as well as Protestants are desirous of having their children instructed and of giving them as good an education as they can. This being the case, I regret that a measure, which should have been such as to have been received with almost universal broil the Government of the Province with the Dominio Parliament.
