Lead me higher day by day. Close above me storm-clouds gather, Fraught with thunders deep and long : All the way is dark and stormy-I am weak, but Thou art strong.

From the dawning of the morning To the mists of evening gray, Subtle tempters close beset me-Lead me, lest I go astray. Earth hath sins, and joys, and sorrows,

Crowding oft 'twixt Thee and thine; I would still through all its portions Feel thy hand close clasping mine. Lead me, oh my Heavenly Father! Lead me evermore, I pray-

Lead me gently, lead me firmly, One step higher every day. MISCHIEF MAKERS. Oh! could there in the world be found Some little spot of happy ground,

Where village pleasures might go round, Without the village tattling ! How doubly blest that place would be, Where all might dwell in liberty, Free from the bitter misery Of gossips' endless prattling.

If such a spot were really known, Dame Peace might claim it as her own; And in it she might fix her throne. For ever and for ever: There, like a queen might reign and live.

While every one would soon forgive The little slights they might receive, And be offended never. "Tis mischief makers that remove Far from our hearts the warmth of love, And lead us all to disapprove

What gives another pleasure. They seem to take one's part-but when They've heard our cares, unkindly then They soon retail them all again, Mix'd with their poisonous measure.

And then they've such a cunning way Of telling ill meant tales, they say "Don't mention what I say, I pray, I would not tell another :" Straight to your neighbour's house they go, Narrating everything they know ;

And break the peace of high and low, Wife, husband, friend and brother, Oh! that mischief making crew Were all reduced to one or two, And they were painted red or blue, That every one might know them ! Then would our villagers forget To rage and quarrel, fume and fret, And fall into an angry pet,

With things so much below them. For tis a sad degrading part To make another bosom smart, And plant a dagger in the heart We ought to love and cherish ! Then let us evermore be found In quietness with all around. While friendship, joy and peace abound, And angry feelings perish !

You will then believe what I assure you is true, viz.: That I have for sale the best churn ever invented—Kitchen's Patent Rotary Double Dasher. This churn has two Dashers, each revolving in an opposite direction. It is useless to attempt a description of this churn in an advertisement, it has to be seen to be appreciated.
