FARMER JOHN'S RELIGION.

BY LITTLE HATCHET. Look here, I've been readin' the papers While the cold kept me in from the farm; I borrowed a lot and read stiddy, Cause I never thought knowledge did harm

I read about markets and weather, And Congress and how it is run, 'Bout the laws that govern creation, And some new things under the sun.

One said we growed up from the critters, And another "The Bible wasn't true," And some wrote such big words about Reason That I couldn't read the stuff through.

One feller said we wasn't sinners But all of us somewhat Divine, But when he said Christ was just human That readin' I had to resign.

I ran out of the house in a hurry And sat down alone in a stall, And I said, if these papers are truthful My religion's just nothin' at all.

I tried my dead best to dispute them, I was good at debate in the school, But my head was so mixed up and fuddled I'd have lost a debate with a mule,

Then I took of my coat at the wood-pile And worked like a nigger all day, I couldn't give up my religion And I couldn't have courage to pray.

Well, Betsy she called me to supper, I said thanks to fill up the gap, Then when we sat back my girl-baby Brought the Bible and laid in my lap. That Bible wasn't new by a long-shot,

My father had read it for years,

There were marks of all sorts on its pages, Some made by my own mothers tears. It had been my main readin' from boyhood, That and Bunyan was all of my stock, I had always felt safe in its teachin's Like a house that is built on a rock.

As I opened the book on that evenin' I could feel my head tremble and shake, And somehow my eyes got all glimmered, I could feel my old voice sort o' quake. But I can't tell you all of that prayer-time, God forgave me and spoke to my heart,

His word and his Spirit both told me That Christ and me oughtn't to part. Now as to our comin' from critters, I can't bring myself to agree That the first one from tad pole to monkey

Is any relation to me. And then when you talk of the Bible, It's worth all the books ever made, For it tells us of truths that for greatness Throw book-larnin' far in the shade.

Now you might shut me up in the wheat-bin, And convince me the sun didn't shine, But all the dark words in creation Couldn't make me doubt Jesus Divine.

'Cause my heart was as cold as an iceberg It was froze just as hard as a stone, But Christ made it both warm and tender; Now no man could do that alone.

You may say what you please about psayin', And blow about Tyndal's prayer test, I've got a sure witness in that line And it speaks to me under my vest.

I haven't got all of religion But I reckon I'm teachin' it fair When I honestly tell you I've tried it And no matter what comes, it is there.

So I can't give it up for your reason And all your philosophy stuff, I know that I'm happy in Jesus And for farmer John that is enough.

The wind whistled around the corners and tossed the drifting, blinding snow in his eyes; the cold pierced through overcoat and coat, chilling his body: the strange, weird light flared up and down in the night, but he kept on. More than a mile in and out of the winding streets he ran, until, at a sudden turn, the burning building burst upon the sight in all its wild and fearful beauty!

It was a wooden tenement house, six stories high and ere Fred reached the spot the flames had wrapped it in a blazing robe. How the fire leaped from open window to window, or crept along the trembling roof! How the wind sucked in and out the door-ways, and then rushed roaring away as if in terrible pain, carrying great clouds of sparks riding on the dun-colored smoke! How the engines rattled, the water hissed, and the firemen surely reap the whirlwand. yelled! Oh, it was a wild storm and a wild fire, but little Fred enjoyed it all.

Notwithstanding the efforts made to overcome it, the devouring element was conqueror, and within an hour the great roof fell with a mighty noise, sending a blaze of light to the very sky; and then sending a blaze of light to the very sky; and then the fire died down, the crowd moved noisily away, well as an intelligent, talking mother. Crossing the street, he pushed his way toward where the house had been. Dull, red coals, a great smoke and charred, timbers were all that remained. As the boy gazed upon the desolate scene, a cry came to his ear, a child's cry. He started and turned about; there it was again! What could it | be? Moving cautiously along, the sound became more and more distinct, until, close under an old shed and wrapped in a rough blanket that smelled strongly of smoke, Fred found a little baby; left there to die, or forgotten by some half-crazed mother whose shelter had that night been destroyed! Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color. A dressing which is at once agreeable. healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon = restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, fallen hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed: but such as remain can be A RE now receiving and daily expecting their usual large lated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning grey or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING,

from in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "athousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enmeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid vecredisease to feed upon. This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Despensia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhicea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a tov. state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not fol-lowed by corresponding reac-tion, but are permanent, infu-sing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution. Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, stokly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial, See that each bottle has PERU-

You will then believe what I assure you is true, viz.: That I have for sale the best churn ever invented—Kitchen's Patent Rotary Double Dasher. This churn has two Dashers, each revolving in an opposite direction. It is useless to attempt a description of this churn in an advertisement, it has to be seen to be appreciated. It is estimated by practical farmers that it will produce one-tenth more butter from the same quantity of cream than any other churn now in use. [From the Swiss Times of May 30th.]

WE have already drawn attention to the annual meeting of the Society of Arts, held on the 23rd current, under the presidentship of M. Th. de Saussure, and are now able to furnish some further details.

Professor Soret, in delivering a most interesting report, passed in review the operations of the Industrial section, in reference to Commerce, laying great stress upon the competition that has taken place in the manufacture of chronometers. This competition was instituted with the object of testing the workmanship and precision of chronometers turned out by Genevese manufacturers, and none but those adopted for pocket use were admitted. They were deposited in charge of the authorities at the Observatory, and underwent the most searching ordeal possible to be applied to pocket instruments of this class. The jury specially retained to decide the difficult question as to whom to award the palm of excellence unanimously despecially retained to decide the difficult question as towhom to award the palm of excellence unanimously decided in favor of Messrs. J. M. Ba lollet & Co. This firm having carried off the sole prize by exhibiting a chronometer which fulfilled in the highest degree every cendition required, crowned their first success by gainly honorable mention for two other chronometers. The allusion to this triple honor was received with enthusiastic applause, and Professor Humbert, President of the Fine Arts Section closed the meeting with happy and humorous dissertation upon subjects connected with this denorment. dissertation upon subjects connected with this department.
