Than all the fading glories are, That crown my fleeting days; For where my footsteps journey-"He Shall give his angels charge o'er me To keep me in my ways." He does not lead me from the path

Of sin, and sorrow, and God's wrath, In pastures green to graze, And then forsake me-never-"He Shall give his angels charge o'er me To keep me in my ways."

And all along his sleepless eye Shall bend on me e'en tenderly A kind and loving gaze; While holy angels hovering near-E'en faithful to their charge appear To keep me in my ways.

And when my pathway leads me through The shadowy walks and twilight dew, Where his blest feet have trod, His precious angels hover near To guard my way-while void of fear I sweetly walk with God.

Or when affliction's cloud appears Through sorrow's overflowing tears, That dim my weeping eyes-And all bewildered in the gloom I seek the path-his angels come To show me where it lies,

And lead me gently on my way Into the clearer light of day, And kindly bear me up; Lest' mid the darkness and alone I dash my foot against a stone, Or by the wayside droop.

By "all" the devious ways I tread, His blessed feet have gone ahead, Through life's perplexing maze, To make my pathway bright and clear While his dear angels hover near To keep me in my ways.

Or 'neath the burdens of the day I faint and falter in the way My weary footsteps trace, His loving angels by my side Sustain my feet, my footsceps guide

Through all my winding ways. And when my pathway ends-Oh God! Thine angels through the swelling flood Shall my portion be; And lead me to the other side While heaven's gate shall open wide To welcome them and me.

WATCHMAKING IN SWITZERLAND. [From the Swiss Times of May 30th.] E have already drawn attention to the annual meeting of the Society of Arts, held on the 23rd current, under the presidentship of M. Th. de Saussure, and are now able to furnish some further details. Professor Soret, in delivering a most interesting report, passed in review the operations of the Industrial section, in reference to Commerce, laying great stress upon the competition that has taken place in the manufacture of chronometers. This competition was instituted with the object of testing the workmanship and precision of chronometers turned out by Genevese manufacturers, and none nometers turned out by Genevese manufacturers, and none but those adopted for pocket use were admitted. They were deposited in charge of the authorities at the Observatory, and underwent the most searching ordeal possible to be applied to pocket instruments of this class. The jury specially retained to decide the difficult question as to whom to award the palm of excellence unanimously decided in favor of Messrs. J. M. Badollet & Co. This fire having carried off the sole prize by exhibiting a charge having carried off the sole prize by exhibiting a chro-nometer which fulfilled in the highest degree every con-dition required, crowned their first success by gaining pnorable mention for two other chronometers. The alsion to this triple honor was received with ent applause, and Professor Humbert, President of the Fine Arts Section closed the meeting with happy and humorous dissertation upon subjects connected with this department.
