It seems from his own account that for a week after the shooting he was concealed in the woods near Lily Lake, and that on Thursday night of last week he left in a boat stolen by himself, or by some one for him, intending to board the steamer for Boston. On Sunday he hailed the schr. G. F. Baird, and took passage on her, agreeing to pay his way, having provisions of his own. The schooner ran into Dipper Harbour, where Rogers was seen by some one who suspected him to be the murderer, and telegraphed to Mayor Smith early Monday morning. Immediately the Chief of Police and two men started for Dipper Harbour, and reaching there were glad to find the schooner had not left, being prevented by the fog. Approaching the vessel Rogers was seen leaning over the rail, and he immediately knew that he was sought, and attempted to escape. While the Chief was searching the cabin, Rogers jumped overboard, but in his haste upset the boat. He managed however to climb upon the keel; and when the policemen came to the side of the vessel he fired a shot at them from his pistol. He then pointed the muzzle of the revolver to his head and fired, but the ball merely wounded him. The vessel's boat having been lowered he was taken on board; and the Chief immediately started for the city, arriving the same night. Rogers was very quiet. He seemed to be completely exhausted, and expressed himself glad to get a night's sleep, even though it was in jail. A. Starr* arrived to-day from Cape Sable, bringing up the passengers of the recently wrecked Alhambra. They give some additional particulars of the wreck. The weather on Sunday was stormy and a high sea was running. At five o'clock the vessel was running at her usual rate, and as the fog was thick no danger was anticipated. Many of the passengers were in bed sick. Soon after five o'clock a number of breakers were sighted; they were so numerous that the wonder to those on board was how the vessel got there before striking. Every effort was made to clear the rocks, but the vessel struck with a heavy thud and immediately careened to one side. She then righted and slid off the ledge. The next wave drove her on again. The passengers by this time had all reached the deck, many of them undressed, and for a time there was much commotion among them. The boats were promptly lowered, and the women first went to land, which was four hundred yards from the wreck. All were landed without accident, notwithstanding the roughness of the water. WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—The memory of Dr. Wistar is embalmed in the hearts of thousands whom his Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured of coughs, colds, consumption, or some other Pulmonary disease. 50 cents and $1 a bottle, large bottles much the cheaper.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would no doubt have had his mare today—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

EARNEST COUNSEL.—Every one who is suffering from only as yet a slight cough, but who knows that if it is neglected it will assuredly leave him to anguish on a bed of sickness, should be earnestly exhorted to give an impartial hearing to the merits of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam in removing all cause of apprehension to those troubled with weak lungs. No other preparation can come for an instant into competition with this Balsam. Provided with this remedy, the most delicate consumptively inclined patient will have nothing to ask for to desire or to fear.

Dr. Wilson's Anti-Bilious and Preserving Pills may be surely pronounced the best family medicine of the age. Compounded with the strictest care and from the purest vegetable medicines, persons whose business is out of doors will find themselves able, as exposure to our changeable climate, when taking them, is no more injurious than if they remained in doors.

A sprain cannot always be prevented, as an accident will sometimes befall the most wary but a speedy and sure cure may be obtained by the use of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. It immediately allays the inflammation and soothes the irritated cords. It gives freedom of action to the stiffened sinews and strained ligaments. No other Liniment possesses such rapid influence or such curative agency.

Clark's Derby Condition Powders remove all inflammation and fever, purify the blood, loosen the skin, and invigorate the whole body, enabling the horse to do more work with the same feed. The action of these powders is direct upon the secretive glands, and therefore they have the same effect upon the ox and all herbivorous animals.

Murray, Ont., June 30, 1870.

Messrs. T. Graham & Son:

I wish to add my testimony to the many you have got, showing the remarkable virtue of your Pain Eradicator. I have had a bad sore on my leg for over seven years, and could get no relief from physicians or any medicine I had used.

My son wrote me that your Pain Eradicator would relieve me; but I could not expect to be cured at my advanced age, being in my 78th year. I tried it as soon as possible, and two applications took away the itching and pain, and two bottles have entirely cured my leg, as it is healed up and well. WM. IRELAND.

NOTE.—His son, referred to, is Mr. F. C. Ireland, Lachute, P. Q.
