THE CATHOLIC CONSCIENCE.

What change has there been in the conscienc of the Catholic Bishop, priests, and people of this city? The Freeman of the 8d inst., in reporting the Bishop's remarks concerning the Christian Brothers' departure, credits him with saying that the great obstacle in the way of a satisfactory arrangement by which the Catholic Schools of the city might be brought under control of the Board of Trustees, was the unwillingness of the Superior examination for license as the law requires. He further said, referring to the heavy burden of supporting separate schools, that as the Board of Trustees were willing to support their schools " on ation in their power of both material and men. terms that violate neither conscience nor principle," the determined to let the Christian Brothers go. We stated last week that in taking charge of the Christian Charge of the Chri Catholic schools the Trustees kept strictly within the law. The schools could at the very first have come in under a like arrangement. They are now managed exactly as the other schools have been. And yet the Bishop says the terms on which the schools are put in charge of the Trustees "violate neither conscience nor principle." As there has been no change in the law, and the law is not violated By extraordinary efforts Turkey has recently sucby the Trustees, one of two things is true. Either ceeded in raising $2,000,000 among its own suba great change has taken place in the conscience of the Catholic authorities, or the great ado about led to effect a foreign loan at a loss of at least conscientious opposition to Free Schools was a forty per cent., or to cause an enormous inflation sham. Which is it ?

We are glad, very glad, the schools of the city are now all under a single control, and we hope to hear no more about Free Schools being a violation of Catholic conscience.
