date of the birth of Christ is not certainly known, and that all the investigation and discussion in in the year is by common consent set apart as the anniversary of the great and gracious event. With this the Christian world is satisfied. No one cares to trouble himself about what is uncertain, so long as that uncertainity does not in any way affect the chief fact; while everybody gladly celebrates the blessed certainty-the birth of Jesus the God-man, the adorable Saviour of a lost world.

NEWS FROM THE MISSIONARIES.

Further word has been received from the Free Baptist Missionary Party. They arrived at Port. Said, the entrance of the Suez Canal, on the 7th ult. The passage to that port was quite pleasant, and at the date of writing all of the party were in good health and spirits. Dr. Phillips himself suffered from sea sickness more than any of them.

A private letter from Miss Hooper is full of hope and good cheer. The members of the Women's Mission Society, and all her friends, will be glad to know that she has stood the voyage exceedingly well, and is filled with joy that she is so near the realization of the hope of many years. She makes inquiry about the local Mission Societies, expresses the hope that they are in a flourishing condition, and that each one has a regular prayer meeting. The missionary party expected to reach Calcutta in nineteen days from Port Said, if all went well,
