But I was going to tell you of the son's scrape with a bear. They built their first log house at the foot of the hill; but it was so low and damp that James-for that was his name-started to build a bigger one higher up, half a mile off, near a mountain brook, with grand old trees around the spot, and a fine view of the country. He took off the two front wheels of the old emigrant wagon that they had crossed the great plains in, and made him a good strong two-wheeled cart, with a box on it. And in this he drew back and forth his carpenter tools and his dinner, and chips for the fire, over a be borne with patiently. - Housekeeper. rough road that he had cut through the woods. He used to take a little nap after his day meal ; and one day when he was sleeping on a splendid bed of everyreen boughs that he had fixed near the timbers he was at work on, he was awakened by a loud rattling of the tin dishes in his cart. He looked around quickly, and what do you suppose he he had left, and smacking his chops over a piece of the whole of the shell was covered with the varnish. wild honey and some corn cake that James hadn't I subsequently found that by painting the eggs with
