All day the white-haired woman sits Beside the open door, and knits: No living thing her dim eye sees, As, busy with old memories, She dreams her dreams of what has been, And knits her old-time fancies in.

She thinks of those who long ago Went out across the threshold low, How many times her listening ear Has thought familiar footsteps near, And she has started up to find A dead leaf rustling in the wind. But never as of those who lie Beneath the wide and tender sky, With folded hands on quiet breast,

All wrapped about with peace and rest. She thinks of them. For her they tread The green earth with her None are dead. Though years have fallen like the leaves Above the graves where summer weaves Her grass-fringed coverlet, to keep Safe hid from us the ones asleep, She sees them all. Not grass nor mould Can hide the ones she loved of old. She talks with them. When brown-winged bees Make merry in the locust trees,

She thinks he comes and sits with her Whose voice was love's interpreter O dreamer ! young again to-day, What matter if your hair is gray? Sometimes she thinks that round her knee Her children play in happy glee,

She rocks her little ones to rest. O dreamer, knitting all the day Your dreams in with your stitches gray, Yours is a happy, happy heart-A haunted world from ours apart. The years that turned your tresses gray Have given you back your youth to-day.

And when they tired and sleepy grow

She sings some song of long ago,

And on her loving mother-breast

THE MESSENGER

Go, go, go, To the high and to the low, To the weary who are sighing, To the crushed ones, faint with crying, To poor souls with burdens dying, Tell every one Christ bids them come.

With the message all men need; Go to every land and nation. Go to every class and station, Spread the gracious invitation, Christ's blessed call Extend to all.

Fly, fly, fly, For time hastens, Death is nigh, Haste o'er mount and plain and valley, Through each highway, byway, alley; All mankind to Jesus rally, He calls to-day, Let none delay.

But the crisis of their troubles was yet to come, and, like the crisis of a fever, it was the most painful part.

Harry and his father had been off all day long to market, and it was a little after sunset when they neared home. They had a mile or so to go when they were met by a neighbor who came running to them with his face full of anxiety and pain. They knew something had gone wrong, and could hardly I live in fancy full of hope; wait for their neighbor to speak. At last he did speak, saying :

Tonganoxie, Leavemoorth Co., Kan., April 2, 1876.

SETH S. HANCR.—Dear Sir:—The Epileptic Pills that I received from you last September have accomplished all that you recommended them to do. My son is hearty, stout, and robust; he is as hearty as any child in Kansas—indeed he is in the manner a new boy. being red and rosy. Before he commenced taking your Pills he was a very pale and delicate looking child, and had Epileptic Fits for about four years, and seeing your Pills advertised in the Christian Instructor, I sent to you and got two boxes of them, and he has not had a fit nor a sympton of one since he commenced taking them; he has been exposed to all changes of weather in going to school and on the farm, and he has not had a Fit nor a sympton of one since he commenced taking your Pills. He learns well as school, and his mind is clear and quick. I feel that you are not sufficiently paid for the service and benefit you have been to us in restoring our child to heath. I will cheerfully recommend your Pills to every one I hear of that is afflicted with Epilepsy. Please send me some of your circulars, so that I can send them to any that I hear of that is afflicted in that way.

T. C. STRATTON, Esq.

Montreal, Feb. 1st., 1878.

I cannot but regard the formula from which Dr.
Channing's Sarsaparlila is LIVER AND SPLEEN, prepared, as one of the RHEUMATIC AFFECTIONS DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS, BLADDER AND best possible combinations to constitute an effectual remedy, for the care of Elood Impurities. So far as my experience has gone with this remedy. I can testify to its great value in the treatment of all Strumous and Cachestic affections, as Glandular Enlargements, and a wide range of akia affections; as a reliable preparation for general use as a blood purifier. I know of pone equal to it, combining as it does, all the imputed virtues of Sarsaparilla, and several other valuable URINARY ORGANS, several other valuable remedies, with the remedies, with the extraord nary alterative properties of the "Double ledidgs." and ef none that can be mere highly recommended as safe, certain and reliable, and I have every cenfidence, that such a remedy for general use, taking the place of the many worthless nostrums of the day, will be a great boon to suffering humanity, and its use will be attended with the most satisfactory results. It should be invaluable to persons beyond the reach of medical ad-LEUCORRHŒA. CATARRH, AND ALL
