Poetro BY MISS M. E. WINSLOW, " Most gladly, therefore, will I rather glory in a infirmity." and monoder at agood radietondard ad Wearily from stair to stair Slowly climb the little feet, and Dress awry and tangled hair. Pouting lips as berries sweet. TYN M ' I'se so tired, don't 'ou see ? Dess I never 'll det up-stairs. Dranpa, won't 'ou tarry me. So as I 'tan say my prayers ?" Light the burden that I bore, Nestling softly on my breast ; Arms that hugged me o'er and o'er. Tiny form at perfect rest. And the midget softly said, " Ain't 'ou glad I'se small ? 'Ou see, When I have to go to bed, 'Ou tan always carry me." Glad I clasped the maiden close, Warm the beating of my heart; Love, which every parent knows, Made the happy tear-drops start. Ah ! I thought, my weary feet, Toiling painfully life's stair, Often find is passing sweet When I meet my Father there, by that and Weak and sinful, poor and blind, Glad I seek His sheltering arm ; Joyful welcome there I find, Calm security from harm. Whispering prattle faint and low, In His ever open ear, Words whose meaning I scarce know, Yet He loves to pause and hear. Does there ever o'er Him fall That glad thrill of holy glee-Gladness that I am so small He can safely carry me?

DOES ANY ONE CARE FOR FATHER Does any one care aught for father ?

Does any one think of the one Upon whose tired, bent shoulder, The cares of the family come ? The father who strives for your comfort, And toils on from day to day, Although his steps ever grow slower, And his dark locks are turning to gray. Does any one think of the due bills

He's called upon daily to pay-Milliner bills, college bills, doctor bills,

Caution the public in the small book of directions affixed to their Medicines, which are really the spurious imita-tions, to beware of Counterfeiters. Unscrupulous Dealers obtain them at very low prices, and call them to the public in Counter as my sensing Pills and sell them to the public in Canada as my genuine Pills

I most earnestly and respectfully appeal to the Clergy, to Mothers of Families and other Ladies, and to the pub-tic generally of British North America, that they may be pleased to denounce unsparingly these frauds. With Thousands of ARTICLES
