- It is well to have the pocket-book baptized, at least to have the whole man including his posses ions consecrated to God's service. Dr. Fowler, of New York, who recently said that the man who, at baptism, does not go deep enough to get his pocketbook under, has not been baptized enough to save him. We fear there are men all over the country -some of them high in the churches-who are sorely in need of a re-baptism that will include their money.

- Well-built, symmetrical Christians are the need of the hour. Here is Dr. Cuyler's idea of one He is harmonious in all his parts. No one trait shames another. He is not a jumble of inconsistencies-to-day devout, to-morrow frivolous; to-day liberal to one cause, to-morrow niggardly toward another ; to-day fluent in prayer, to-morrow fluent in polite falsehoods. He does not keep the fourth commandment on Sunday, and break the eighth commandment on Monday. He does not shirk an honest debt te make a huge donation. He is not in favor of temperance for other folks and a glass of toddy for himself. He does not exhort or pray at each of the few meetings he attends, to make up arrearages for the more meetings which he neglects. He does not so consume his spiritual fuel during revival seasons that he is cold as Nova Zembla during all the rest of the time ; nor do his spiritneed. the cloud is already beginning to break. Moral : Don't run, but take heart and go to work. - This is the time of year mistakes are being made in Sunday-school management. All over the country, in the rural districts, the Sundayschools are being closed for the winter. It is says truly, that a winter Sunday-school is always better than a summer Sunday-school. This is as true in the country where the snow-drifts are heavy, or the roads are muddy, where there are no stoves in the little church or no chinkings in the log schoolhouse, as it is in the best appointed school buildings in the larger towns and cities. The poorest time in the year to be without a Sunday-school i the winter-especially in the country. On this point the scholars are agreed. Only the superintendent or teachers say that a winter vacation is a necessity. Take a school vote on this, if you are in doubt.
