Mr. Domville hoped that the purchase of the line would result in giving more favorable rates to New Brunswick. The resolution was concurred in and a bill introduced and passed. Mr. Macdougall moved the third reading of the Campbell relief bill. Sir John said the bill was not worth the paper it was printed on. It was ultra vires. It was not a tion and numbers, of co-operative societies, of while between her toothless gums an old clay pipe, hoist as follows: Yeas, 38; nays, 56, and then the Dr. Tupper informed the House that the committee had made some important amendments to the railway act, requiring the raising of all bridges over railways to a height of seven feet above the tops of box cars; increasing the penalty for conealing the nature of explosives shipped as freight from $20 to $500, and making the penalty for train wrecking imprisonment for life or not less than two years. He thought the House would assent to Mr. Mackenzie asked what statement Sir John was prepared to make on the Letellier matter. Sir John said he had no information to give, and it would be of no use for him to address the House on the matter now, and it would be improper to produce, as requested, the instructions given to Mr. Langevin before the decision of the Imperial Government was known.

Mr. Mackenzie reviewed the matter and conlemned the action of the Government in not informing Parliament that there was a difference of opinion etween them and the Governor General. Sir John said the Government was not responsible for the articles which appeared in the papers to which Mr. Mackenzie had alluded. The press had its own responsibilities and rowers. Both Houses of the Legislature having informed the Government that the action of Letellier was unwise and subversive of responsible government, the Government had no course but that of endeavoring to carry out the opinion of Parliament. VALUABLE INFORMATION.

MR. H. R. STEVENS :-Dear Sir, —My only object in giving you this testimoniai is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted by Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and know-ing it to be a blood disease I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I com-menced taking the Vegetine, and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right med cine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man, and my skin is smooth and entirely free from pimples and eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of Vegetine. To benefit of condition powders now sold. Buy Sheridan's some afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the Vegetiae's wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so in-
