SWEDEN AND NORWAY.

Boyd, and Rev. G. A. Hartley spoke.

(N. Y. Advocate.)

Matters are not running very smoothly now between Sweden and Norway. The latest telegram tells us of an unusual occurrence in the Norwegian between Sweden and Norway, which are two diftion is narrowed down to their own internal affairs, total of those under 21 is 277,527, a difference in there is considerable antagonism between them. In Sweden the general tendency of the institutions is monarchical, the person of the King is respected, and the orders of nobility have considerable influence, and claim prerogatives. But the case is very different in Norway, which is so democratic
