

PARLIAMENT. Some discussion arose upon the Insolvency Bill. Among the bills introduced was one to abolish the Supreme and Exchequer Courts. It will not carry. The House is against its abolition.

Debate was resumed upon Dawson's motion for a select committee on the Ontario Boundary Question. Mackenzie entered into the history of his efforts to secure full information. He opposed setting aside the award as unjustifiable on general principles, and as against the Treaty character of the award.

McDonnell said what he recommended was not the book in question, but the one which was referred to. He alluded to the investigation reported, equal to the whole of the rest of Ontario. If the boundaries of the award were sustained, Ontario would be nearly 2,000 square miles less than the whole of France. He showed how the Mackenzie Government had allowed the matter to slumber for five years without pressing for a solution.

On division there appeared: for committee, 123; nays, 52. In answer to Mr. Mackenzie's question it was the desire of the Government General not to make a great demonstration. He thought that it would be well to put the matter to rest by the escape of the Vice-Regal Party.

Macdonald (Pictou) moved a resolution making provision for the salaries of two additional Judges in British Columbia. Blake thought this subject should be considered carefully. He maintained that Parliament was not bound by the action of the Local Legislature to provide money for their salaries.

Mr. John said the Local Legislatures were responsible for keeping the peace of the land; and when they solemnly affirmed that there was necessity for a Judge, it was a serious responsibility. The Federal Parliament to say "no" and refuse to provide money for their salaries and refuse to provide money for their salaries.

The resolution passed. The House went into Committee of the Whole to consider the grant for Irish relief. The plan moved of the sum of $100,000 to be granted for His Majesty to enable her to give relief to her subjects in Ireland.

This was seconded by Mackenzie. Another resolution proposed the Government would have made the sum $200,000. The resolution passed.

Mr. John stated that it was the intention of the Government to extend the Government to apply the money to immediate relief. The report of the Minister of Railways and Canals for the ending June, 1879, shows three railways under the direction of the Department: the Atlantic Pacific, Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island.

Annual examinations have been made of the Pacific Railway from Lake Winnipeg to the line now under construction from River Kamistiquia. The remaining portion to the Pacific Ocean has been completed.

According to present measurement the total length from Nipissing to Fort William is five hundred and sixty-five (565) miles; thence to Burrard Inlet, five hundred and eighty (580) miles. The Pembina Branch, from Selkirk to Emerson, is eighty-four (84) miles long.

The Eastern connection of the main line of the Canadian Pacific, connecting the existing systems of Ontario and Quebec, is 142 miles, and the subsidiary line is limited to one million four hundred and forty thousand ($1,440,000) dollars.

The line between Fort William and Selkirk is in a good state of forwardness. West of Selkirk a hundred miles have been placed under contract. In the Columbia River, a similar contract. The Intercolonial Railway has an amount of 562 miles, without the addition of the River du Loup section. The extensions are 184 miles and 184 miles.

Total expenditure on capital account on the entire line for the fiscal year was thirty-six million, three hundred and seventeen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars ($36,377,000).

The gross earnings of the year were one million, two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars ($1,295,000), being a decrease of eighty-four thousand and eight hundred and eighty dollars ($84,880) compared with the previous year. The excess of expenditure over revenue was seven hundred and sixty thousand dollars ($760,000).

Passenger traffic shows a decrease of twenty-three thousand three hundred and seventy ($23,370) thousand the increase in numbers carried was twenty-one thousand, two hundred and fifty (21,250) 600 miles of the road are laid with steel rails. Steel fish plates have been substituted for iron on 43 miles. Over three hundred thousand new sleepers were laid, at a cost of one hundred and fifty-seven thousand the previous year. The rolling stock has been maintained in good order.

The present number of employees was reduced, but not in time to collect within the fiscal year of seventy-eight and nine. The present number employed under recognized contracts is six thousand seven hundred and twenty-three hundred and seventy (6,723) under the old system.

The cost is $852,750 against a former cost of $1,073,270. The number of casualties were 57. Prince Edward Island Railway is 138 miles long. The total receipts were $125,856, being a decrease of $10,000 as compared with those of seventy-eight. The working expenses were $223,313, an increase of $1,714 over the previous year.

The report discusses the Western Counties matter and Eastern Extension. Robinson moved that time for receiving private bills be extended ten days. Blake introduced a bill for the more effectual prevention of crime. In his speech he showed that statistics indicated an increase in the grave crimes, in two and a half years, of 270, or about 25 per cent. He thought that in such cases more than fifty commitments of hardened offenders. He maintained that longer terms of punishment would, to a certain extent, curb the evil. Another case suggested police inspection. It was a transcript of the Imperial Act of 1869.

McCarthy introduced a bill for constituting a Court of Railway Commissioners for Canada for the purpose of determining disputes between railway companies; also between municipal corporations; also transferring powers now vested in the Governor in Council under the Railway Act, regulating tolls, traffic arrangements, &c., introducing the equality clause of the English Act.

Blake asked whether the Commission authorized last session, vesting in the Minister of Railways and Canals for the construction of the Pacific Railway, had been applied to. Mr. John replied: "It was deferred for the present."

In answer to Mr. Denville, the Minister of Justice said that Mr. Waterbury, the post office clerk at St. John, dismissed, would not be paid the damages awarded him, but that the result of the appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Baby, in answer to question, said the displaced amount of weight shown on the scales was not the amounts they paid to the superannuation fund.

Rev. W. A. Corey, of Sussex, has accepted a call to the Portland Baptist Church. It cost Maine $20,000 to unseat the Fusionists and set the Republicans in the Legislature. A Chinese laundry man has given $250.00 to the Irish Relief Fund. Good for evil.

It is said that the revival meetings conducted by Rev. Thomas Harrison, a Methodist evangelist, in Philadelphia, have resulted in over 800 conversions.

The N. B. Legislature is to assemble on Thursday of this week. The Duchess of Edinburgh was in the Winter Palace at the time of the attempt on the life of her father.

NEW BRUNSWICK.—A correspondent of the Telegraph at Havelock writes: Anson Freese, a leading farmer of this place, killed on the 11th inst. a young hog weighing 362, 587, 583 and 684—2,336 lbs. or an average of 587 lbs. each. They were sold to Charles I. Keith, merchant of this place, and have been put under salted by him, and he says they are far superior to any pork he ever looked at.

Mr. Freese is the model farmer in this place, and others in the vicinity should profit by the good example he has set them and they should inquire into his manner of feeding, &c., that they might raise pork as profitable as he. He also killed seven pigs in October last, 6 months old, and each weighed 255 lbs., each, which he sold at seven cents per lb. Mr. William Freese, 18 years old, lives on Red Head, near St. John, has been tramping through Charlotte County for some days past. He was taken in and kindly cared for on last Tuesday night by Mr. John Cunningham, of Chatham. Some time during the night Mr. Cunningham thought he would go up to replenish the fire to keep poor Gollen warm, when, he beheld the lad was missing, and was also Cunningham's two watches, chains, keys, &c. One was taken out of his vest pocket, and the other of the mantel-piece. Cunningham immediately summoned his horse, and rode off to find the thief, and he found him at the house of St. Stephen. He took the watches from him and on Wednesday morning handed him over to Squire Hatheway, who, with two other magistrates tried and sentenced him to sixty days in jail.

The Globe says the committee of insane persons to the Lunatic Asylum is becoming a frequent occurrence at the City Police Court. Friday no less than three insane females were sent over. One was a widow, and the others were young girls—none being a looking girl of any age. The case of one of them is affirmed to have been confined to thinking of the deceased, in fact destitute circumstances in which they lived since the fire. The youngest of the three was especially bad. Her father died soon after the fire, and the family's property was taken from them by the mortgage. The family were in short time reduced to absolute want. The girl wanted to work but could not procure any, and the family subsisted on a $1.25 a week. NEW BRUNSWICK.—A correspondent of the Telegraph at Havelock writes: Anson Freese, a leading farmer of this place, killed on the 11th inst. a young hog weighing 362, 587, 583 and 684—2,336 lbs. or an average of 587 lbs. each. They were sold to Charles I. Keith, merchant of this place, and have been put under salted by him, and he says they are far superior to any pork he ever looked at.

Mr. Freese is the model farmer in this place, and others in the vicinity should profit by the good example he has set them and they should inquire into his manner of feeding, &c., that they might raise pork as profitable as he. He also killed seven pigs in October last, 6 months old, and each weighed 255 lbs., each, which he sold at seven cents per lb. Mr. William Freese, 18 years old, lives on Red Head, near St. John, has been tramping through Charlotte County for some days past. He was taken in and kindly cared for on last Tuesday night by Mr. John Cunningham, of Chatham. Some time during the night Mr. Cunningham thought he would go up to replenish the fire to keep poor Gollen warm, when, he beheld the lad was missing, and was also Cunningham's two watches, chains, keys, &c. One was taken out of his vest pocket, and the other of the mantel-piece. Cunningham immediately summoned his horse, and rode off to find the thief, and he found him at the house of St. Stephen. He took the watches from him and on Wednesday morning handed him over to Squire Hatheway, who, with two other magistrates tried and sentenced him to sixty days in jail.

The Globe says the committee of insane persons to the Lunatic Asylum is becoming a frequent occurrence at the City Police Court. Friday no less than three insane females were sent over. One was a widow, and the others were young girls—none being a looking girl of any age. The case of one of them is affirmed to have been confined to thinking of the deceased, in fact destitute circumstances in which they lived since the fire. The youngest of the three was especially bad. Her father died soon after the fire, and the family's property was taken from them by the mortgage. The family were in short time reduced to absolute want. The girl wanted to work but could not procure any, and the family subsisted on a $1.25 a week. She introduced a bill for the more effectual prevention of crime. In his speech he showed that statistics indicated an increase in the grave crimes
