Philip Gardner, as we will call the young man promised to break away from these habits, and succeeded in his endeavors. He was converted and united with the church, and gave every evidence of being a changed man. In a few years he went back East and was married to the girl of his early love. At the time of his marriage he occupied a high position as a lawyer, and was the most promising young man in my whole acquaintance. Everybody predicted a brilliant career for him.

He purchased a beautiful home, and he and his wife were very happy until after the birth of their second child. Unfortunately for Philip, he had become greatly interested in politics, and his party had nominated him for a high office. He was invited to drink by his companions. Although he refused at first, yet, finding that his election depended, in a large measure, upon accepting and to the school-room, and told the people the simple giving "treats," he yielded, "I can break off at story; then spoke of the great love that all should any time," he said to himself. "SHE WAS A STRANGER."

A missionary was requested to go out to a new settlement to address a Sabbath school. When he found himself at the spot log, and kneeling beside her, she took off her ragbathed her hot eyes and tear-stained face, and

"Ah!" said the missionary to himself, "here is a text for me to preach from : 'Because she was a stranger, and seemed all alone, and needed some body to be kind to her." The words came to him: Inasmuch as ye have done unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." ALONE WITH GOD.

BY LUCY H. GREGG. When disappointments hover round, And cherished prospects fail, When all I see looks dark to me, My soul is in the vale; Then let me stray from all away, And be alone with God.

When those I love the very best Don't seem to understand, When this poor dust, in humble trust, Seeks comfort at God's hand; Then it is sweet, as Jesus' feet. To be alone with God.

When petty trials swarm about, Of which I would not speak. And woman's tears, like children's fears, Show me that I am weak : Then it is blessed on Christ to rest. And be alone with God.

When stern, relentless frigid death Sunders the dearest ties, When I am left of friends bereft, And my sad prayers arise; Oh then let me to Jesus flee, Aud be alone with God.

So I don't know what to do, and I think to go to sleep, but the good and bad men keep talking all night, and trouble me; and now I bring the money back, I feel good." Like the old Indian, we have all a good man and a bad man within. The bad man is Temptation, the good man is Conscience, and they keep talking for and against many things that we do every day. Who wins? That is the question; and the answer decides a child's character for this life and the life to come. Who wins? Stand up for duty. Down with sin! Wrestle with temptation manfully. Never, never give up the war till you win.

How to Tell a Good Potato. - Take a sound potato, and paying no attention to its outward appearance, divide it into two pieces with your knife and examine the exposed surfaces. If there is so much water or "juice" that seemingly a slight pressure would cause it to fall off in drops, you may be sure it will be "soggy" after it is boiled. These are the requisite qualities for a good potato which must appear when one is cut in two: For color, a yellowish white; if it is a deep yellow the potato will not cook well; there must be a considerable amount of moisture, though not too much; rub the two pieces together and a white froth will appear around the edges and upon the two surfaces; this signifies the presence of starch, and the more starch, To Carleton County Readers. and consequently froth, the better the potato, while the less there is the poorer it will cook. The strength of the starchy element can be tested by releasing the hold upon one piece of the potato, and if it still clings to the other, this in itself is a very good sign. These are the experiments generally made by experts, and they are ordinarily willing to buy on the strength of their turning out well, though these tests are by no means infallible.

trial. Guaranteed for six years.

In ordering, send the certificate of your bank, or some responsible business man, that the organ will be promptly paid for or returned to us. Freight will be paid by us both ways, if in any way unsatisfactory. You take no responsibility till you receive and approve the organ after 15 days' trial in your own home. Send in your order at once. Remit by Post-Office Money Orders, Express (prepaid), or by Draft on New-York. Money refunded and freight charges paid both ways if in any way unsatisfactory. If you do not order at once, be sure to get our illustrated catalogue. It contains information which protects the purchaser and makes deceit impossible. Order direct from this advertisement. You take no responsibility till you receive and approve the organ. To avoid useless correspondence we state that absolutely no reduction is possible. One organ or one hundred are soid at the same price. We unhesitatingly advise all who are about to purchase other styles to order this organ. It stands unequaled in quality, compass, and price.

A moment's consideration will show the certainty of securing a superior instrument from us. Our system puts each organ on its own merits, by submitting it to tests where no one can mislead in its favor, and where every interest is to find defects, if any exist. An organ that passes triumphantly through such crucial tests may surely claim to be second to none in the world, and the purchaser may well feel secure in having an organ that stands first in its class. Send in your order at once, and it will have immediate attention. If you do not want an instrument yourself, will you please hand this offer to a friend who wishes to purchase?

Twenty years without one dissatisfied burchaser.
