

Mr. Young Wing, by instruction of the Chinese Government, has arranged to have a class of Chinese boys at Hartford instructed in telegraphy, that they may be able to take charge of the telegraph lines in the empire when they return home.

A Newark, N. J., man, while drunk, shot his wife and child. He says he did not know what he was doing, and probably he tells the truth. What pleasant reflections the statement must bestow upon the man who sold the prisoner his liquor!

Michigan seems to be taking the back track in regard to capital punishment. The House of Representatives has already passed a bill restoring the punishment for the crime of murder, which it is thought that the Senate will approve.

Dr. Stenson of Montreal at the late Jubilee of the English Congregational Union, said that Canada was the only country distinctly mentioned in prophecy, quoting in proof, "Thy Dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the river—St. Lawrence—to the ends of the earth"—the North Pole!

Queen Victoria doesn't like to have widows marry, and refused to receive a peasant a short time ago because she had contracted a second marriage. It is pure philanthropy. She wants the girls to have a chance, bless her heart, and would dispense with old maids entirely.

It seems incredible, but it is stated that all the domes of the great churches at St. Petersburg, Moscow, and other large cities of Russia, are plated with gold nearly a quarter of an inch thick. The new Church of the Saviour, dedicated and opened in Moscow last August, represents a value of fully $15,000,000.

The work of tunneling the English Channel is proceeding briskly. The English engineers have excavated a passage 800 or 900 yards long and seven feet in diameter, while the French have made equal progress on their side. It is believed that a seven foot tunnel would be completed in five years. The distance is about ten miles.

A citizen of Michigan writes to a Detroit paper of a child and one-half year old, residing in Forestville, in that State: "She learned her letters all complete before she was eleven months old, and can now read, write, and spell words of four letters, name all the States and territories, etc." There is no more of the story, but this is probably as much as Eastern readers will care to believe.

Coningsby Diarist, the nephew of the late Premier is in his fourteenth year, and, young as he is, is said to resemble his uncle in many of his peculiar traits of character. It is stated that the Queen contemplates naming him as the young representative of the Diarist.

General Ignatoff, the Czar's new minister, belongs to the lower and poorer class of Russian nobility, and has been the architect of his own fortune. His marriage with a Princess Galitzin brought him into higher society, and at twenty-eight he was made a general and four years later was ambassador to Turkey. The Turkish diplomatists hate him and still call him "The Black Fox." He is now forty-nine years old.

A gentleman went some time ago to stay with a clergyman in a country village in England of great ability, piety and learning. Having observed that there were two churches—one in the village, the other a considerable distance from it, where there was no inhabitant but the wife of the clergyman, he said: "What is the meaning of your having a church at the end of the parish, at a place where there are no inhabitants?" "Oh," the lady replied, "that church is not wanted for worship; it is simply wanted for intercession, and my husband goes periodically to that church, closes the door, and then offers a prayer for the benefit of the parish."

There is to be a tea-meeting in Charleston, C. Co., on Wednesday, 6th inst., in aid of the F. C. B. Church there.

There were married recently at Osceola, Iowa, in a circus-ring, Major Littlefield, 32 inches high, to Mollie Shaw, 24 inches high. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. M. Littlefield, who was one of the speakers. Prof. G. E. Foster was elected one of the Vice-Presidents of the Convention.

Three young men—Rev. Messrs. Bates, Wells and Johnston, were ordained by the Methodist Conference in Moncton on Monday evening.

THE NEWS OF THE WEEK.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 1, 1881.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

Epistemic sore throat is becoming prevalent among the horses of this city.

Captain John Weyman of Kings Co. Cavalry, is the only N. B. member of the Wilmington and Atlantic Railroad.

Major Call, of Newcastle, was severely injured at that place on Wednesday morning by being thrown from his horse.

A crew of 125 men are employed ballasting on the Grand Trunk line, and by next week Mr. McCall expects to have 200 at work.

On Monday the steamer Navigator, from Grimsby, England, arrived in port with a cargo consisting of 2,363 steel rails for the New Brunswick Railway.

The canal boiler business is an industry up North at present, and large purchases being made to the American market.

Isaac Bonnel, Sussex, has recently had eleven lambs, a sheep and a calf killed by dogs. The calf was eaten off, and the sheep terribly mangled.

The corner stone of the St. Croix Cotton Mill was laid on Friday with much ceremony by the Grand Master of the Freemasons, Hon. B. R. Stevenson.

Sergeant C. W. Weyman of Kings Co. Cavalry, is the only N. B. member of the Wilmington and Atlantic Railroad.

He is now on the Atlantic. We wish him success.

The St. John and Maine Railway has received an addition to its rolling stock by the purchase of a locomotive, the "Portland" from the Maine Central Road. This locomotive will be used on the Fredericton route.

A little girl named Donovan whose parents reside on Portland Road, was shot dead by a stray bullet Sunday afternoon, a distance of about 14 feet. Strange as may seem there were no fractures, but it is feared the internal injury will prove serious.

The Salmon River, between the North and South, Miramichi, and placed in the Digbyquash river, Charlotte County, were obtained largely through the efforts of the Hon. B. R. Stevenson, in negotiations with the Federal Government.

Iron ore is being mined at Jacksonville, C. Co., at the rate of twenty tons per day. It is hauled to the works, a distance of three miles, for forty cents a ton by the farmers. The management expect to do a much larger business as soon as the trade is properly located.

The Moncton Times says that on Saturday evening a man named Musherall, of Lewistown, was trying to fix a revolver, it exploded, and the bullet went through one of his hands. It entered the palm and, going in a slanting direction, nearly came out through the back of his hand.

A severe hail storm passed over the district of country about Memramouc, W. Co., yesterday afternoon. The hail could be scraped up in considerable quantities, the stones being quite large. Happily, (owing to the backwardness of the season), the crops were not sufficiently thrown up to receive much damage. Some garden stock was badly beaten down.

Mr. Jas. Stratton, on behalf of the owners of the bark Arcton, has been ordered to pay $24,000 damages. The two vessels were in collision off the Banks of Newfoundland, and the Arcton was afterwards abandoned.

The Post says Messrs. J. S. Hickman and R. B. Bogue, have obtained leases of land at Round Lake, Bedford, where an outcrop of coal has been discovered. Whether it occurs in a vein or seam has not yet been developed, but it is believed to be two feet thick. The coal is highly bituminous and greatly resembles the coal of the West. Further prospecting is done, the exact character of the coal, and the value of this discovery will not be known.

The ice of this lake is frequently thrown up in winter—supported by accumulation of gas below.

Tuesday morning (the 29th), a young woman named Catherine O'Brien, who was working at the Central House was examined by Dr. Alvord, on complaint of the proprietor of the house, and pronounced insane. She was taken to the Asylum this afternoon. Mr. Hoop, the proprietor, stated that the girl had acted strangely ever since she came there, a few weeks ago, and that he has no idea where she belongs. The night before in the bar-room of the hotel she threatened the life of a young man with an axe.

The Evening News says that Rev. Mr. Hickson, of Carleton, in company with his brother of Bathurst, and another gentleman have formed a company to open up a silver and lead mine in the vicinity of Bathurst. An assay has been taken of the ore, and it has been found to contain one-third lead of the entire bulk and thirty-one ounces of silver to the ton.

The capital announced is $150,000, of which $50,000 is to be paid in cash. Little doubt can be entertained but that the rev. gold-hunters have struck a rich lead.

NOVA SCOTIA.

Bridgeport, N. S., has ordered a steam fire engine to cost $3,000.

Yarmouth town expects to have its water-works completed in September.

The recent census returns give the population of Victoria, B. C., at 6,346.

One Samuel Whitewright, is jailed in Sydney, C. B., on a charge of bigamy.

Nov. 20th, the ship, W. D. Lawrence, left Boston on the 20th ult. for Harve.

Mr. Nutt, is opening an establishment at Bridgeport for canning corn, tomatoes, etc., expects to put up this season 80,000 cans.

The census of Halifax has just been completed, and the exact population, it is said, is 36,100 being an increase of 6,527 in the last decade.

At Metegun River, Digby Co., the wife of Benjamin Corbett, on the 17th inst., bore him three sons, one boy and two girls. All are doing well.

Alex. Baker, an experienced miner, has just made an exploratory tour of the country in the vicinity of the Lake of the Woods and secured specimens of the late iron ore.

The suit brought by Mr. W. H. Ray, late M. P., against Mr. A. W. Corbett, of Annapolis, for libelous statements in handbills circulated by Corbett in the late election in Annapolis County, is on trial at Bridgeport.

Work has been commenced on the extension of the Intercolonial Railway to the deep water terminus at Waverley Wharf, Halifax. A number of men are employed laying the rails along Water street.

The barque Deardar cleared for Halifax on Friday, chiefly loaded with preserved lobsters. Her cargo consisted of 10,622 cases lobsters, valued at $53,114; 1,000 boxes smoked herrings, valued at $180; and timber, etc., valued at $115, making the total value of the cargo, $53,399.

The Bath, Me., Times says that quite a number of Nova Scotia men, dissatisfied with the wages they were obtaining in the shipyards, a short time since started to walk back to their homes.

They probably learn by bitter experience that there are just as many opportunities for earning money in the shipyards as there are in the mines.

Montreal advises that a capias has been issued against James Caffery, of Truro, N. S., for $31,000. The action was taken by J. A. Cameron, who agreed to exchange a farm he owned in New Brunswick for a mine in Nova Scotia, held by the defendant. He now charges that Caffery transferred his mine to some relations, with intent to defraud him. Caffery has not yet been arrested by the bailiffs.

Steamer Victoria, which sailed on Saturday from Halifax for New York, took 24 young men from this City, who are engaged to work in the Canadian Mining Company's silver mine at Chibouhau, Mexico. Their expenses will be paid out of the mine, they will receive $40 per month wages. The men were engaged by Messrs. Brown & Co., of New York.

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."

On Saturday evening, at Weymouth, Hon. Colin Campbell dropped dead, on his way to the theatre. He was 59 years of age, and had been a member of the House of Commons from 1859 to 1867 and again from 1874 to 1878 and was a member of the House of Commons from 1878 to 1880 and of the House of Lords from 1880 to 1881.

The Toronto Monday Times, referring to the resignation of Messrs. Brown & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., says: "The failure is not unexpected. Their affairs were known to have become much involved, and their credit was seriously impaired. The liquidation of the concern about a month ago, was $200,000, and the assets nominally $300,000. It appears that before assigning, they gave a long list of their creditors, and that they were very particular to relatives and friends; and left to their assignees the least desirable portion of the estate with the least valuable assets. It is under-stand that if this prove competent, that 100 more will be engaged and sent out."