"ALL YOUR NEED."

One of old who had learned the good lesson When writing to those who would heed, Sent to cheer them this message of comfort, "My God shall supply all your need."

And like sun through the fogs of the winter, Like flowers that are heralds of spring, It fell on their desolate spirits, And gave them a new song to sing. And to-day unto hearts that are weary,

And bowed with the weight of their care, Who tell of their need to the Father, It comes in response to their prayer. For is their not fulness in Jesus? And those who have trust in His name

Shall be satisfied early with mercy, And ever His kindness may claim. So great that to souls that are doubting The promise impossible seems,

And the light, flashing out from the shadows, Bewilders the thought with its gleams; But the hosts that have passed on before us Have taken the joy it has given,

And stronger, more brave for its teaching, Have walked in its light unto Heaven. And we who are fighting our battles With a few that is stronger than we,

Who are ready to faint on our journey, And are longing some comfort to see; Who son etimes lose faith and lack courage, Grow hopeful the while that we read The truth that comes back through the ages, " My God shall supply all your need."

We count up our wants-they are legion! But God will His blessings bestow; Contentment and courage and patience, Reliance on Him while below ; Some hearts that are tender to love us,

Some work that our hands may perform, A Guide who is able to lead us, And a shelter to hide from the storm. The peace that can keep the heart tranquil Though winds may be raging without, A hope that is certain of Heaven,

A soul never darkened by doubt, And perfect deep rest in the Saviour-With these we were happy indeed ! Let us lift up our heads in our gladness. For God shall supply all our need.

The Devil said it was no use, and I was down again deeper than ever. I have done everything but murder to get drink. Oh! God only knows what the demon Appetite leads a poor drunkard to.

' Many times have I rushed home, and, fastening the door, I've sworn before my God and wife and child that I would dis before allowing another drop to pass my lips, and, for a time, have seemed to master myself; but a pot of spirits placed at the door by the publican from across the road has made me tremble and shake, and found me unable to resist the awful cravings.

"But, oh ! one night-the 1st November, 1877 -a servant of God and the Army came to hunt me up. I had been drinking a whole week, stopping only when asleep. He found me at home, sitting by the fire, very bad with "the shakes." Calling me by name, he said-

" 'Ah! you feel as if you would sink, but God still pities you. " Set thine house in order, for thou shalt surely die."

"I began to tremble from head to foot. "He said, 'Cry to God.'

" 'But,' I said, 'I have, and tried twenty times to leave off this cursed liquor." At this point the poor drink-stricken victim fell on his knees, crying out in agony, "Lord, save me !-Oh, my God, save me !" "God can save and keep you the twenty-first time," the good soldier replied.

"Can he? Oh, do you think he will?" "Yes. Can you-dare you-trust him?" " Yes.

" Now? Just now?" The weeping drunkard raised his head, and with one strong cry, responded-"I do, I do, just now." Speaking of this moment, he says-

"I was sobered. For an hour I wrestled, and then liberty came, and I felt that for Christ's sake my sins were all forgiven. I signed the pledge, and that night I felt as though it were signed in Heaven. "For three months after this I had a fearful

JACK'S RESOLUTION. KATE SUMMER.

"O, dear !" said Jack Willis, dolefully, "I do wish I could be extinguished some way." Mrs. Willis looked up from the coat she was mending, and surveyed him in astonishment. What do you mean?" she asked.

"Why," he explained, "I've been reading about ing, which we publish by request : boys doing big things, and I do wish I could have a chance to do something or other. Boys don't get any chance-real boys, I mean," he continued. "I don't know about that," interrupted his Isa., 63. 9. mother; "I think they do, plenty of them. Alone the little white chapel stood In the heart of a green and shady wood; Birds hovered and sang there all day long, And seemed as if, with their happy song, They were part of the simple service sweet, For the holy and quiet chapel meet, For the smallest church in the land.

"It's the smallest church in the land." It was built of solidest blocks of stone Piled up in the ages that are gone. It stood where the tramp of restless feet Ceased never from out the noisy street. Like a pall hung over the crowded town, Of the largest church in the land.

"It's the richest church in the land." Odors of incense made thick the air, Priests knelt in embroidered robes at prayer; It was splendid with countless gems of gold Whose value and beauty could not be told; And dazzling to see the perfect light That shone from a thousand tapers bright In the richest church in the land.

"It's the oldest church in the land." They said that the conquering Cæsar trod Long years before on that sacred sod. Its worshipers bent an adoring knee While Jesus was walking through Galilee; And history stood, perplexed and dumb, Before that landmark of Christendom,

But the truest church in the land? None mentioned the spot, or told me where To find the holiest place for prayer. But I thought how little are all things worth-The grandeur, the splendor, the wealth of earth-Compared to the worship of prayerful souls Whose loving observance God's eye beholds Wherever the church may stand.

PAIN-KILLER

GOOD PHYSICIAN

In curing Cholera and all Summer Complaints, Cramps and Pains in the Stomach, Sudden Colds, also for Scalds, Burns, Bruises, Sprains, Chilblains, Boils, Rheumatic Affections, Neuralgia, Toothache, Pains in the Joints or Limbs, Stings of Insects, &c., &c., &c.

The Pain-Killer is recommended by Physicians, Ministers, Mission aries, Managers of Factories, Workshops, Plantations, Nurses in Hospitals,—in short, by everybody everywhere who has ever given it a trial.

The Pain-Killer is prepared from the pest and purest material, with the most approved appliances that can be had for money, and with a care that insures the most perfect uniformity. No expense is spared to make it what it is, superior to all would-be competitors, a thoroughly reliable killer of pain. Instantaneous in action, harmless and safe in the most unskilful hands.

SUBSTITUTES.

The public are cautioned against a custom which is growing quite common of late among a certain class of medicine dealers, and which is this: When asked for a bottle of Pain-Killer, they suddenly discover that they are "sold out," "but have another article just as good, if not better," which they will supply at the same price The object of this deception is transparent. These substitutes are made up to sell on the great reputation of the Pain-Killer; and being compounded of the vilest and cheapest Drugs, are bought by the dealer at about half what he pays for the genuine Pain - Killer, which enables him therefore to realize a few cents more profit per bottle upon the imitation article than he can on the genuine.

EWARE OF SUBSTITUTES!

FOR CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS.

As well as all Summer Complaints of a similar nature, the Pain-Killer acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails when taken at the commencement of an attack, and often cures after every other remedy has failed. If you reside in a country place far from a physician, the Pain-Killer can be relied upon; it never fails.

FOR SUDDEN COLDS, SORE THROAT, &c. The proverb "A stitch in time saves nine," is never so well illustrated as in the treatment of these complaints. A teaspoonful of Pain-Killer taken at the beginning of an attack will prove a certain cure and save TOOTHACHE, BURNS, SCALDS, CUTS, BRUISES, &c. The Pain-Killer will be found a willing physician, ready and able to relieve your suffering without delay, and at a very insignificant cost. GOOD FOR MAN AND BEAST. For Colic, Cramps and Dysentery in horses, the Pain-Killer has no equal, and it has never been known to fail to effect a cure in a single instance. It is used in some of the largest livery stables and horse infirmaries in the world. To resuscitate young lambs or other stock chilled and dying from cold, a little Pain-Killer mixed with milk will restore them to health very quickly The Pain-Killer is for sale by Druggists, Apothecaries, Grocers and Medicine Dealers throughout the world.

The Pain-Killer is put up in 2 oz. and 5 oz. bottles, retailing at 25 and 50 cents respectively,—large bottles are therefore cheapest. PERRY DAVIS & SON & LAWRENCE,
