PERFECT THROUGH SUFFERING

God never would send you the darkness, If he felt you could bear the light; But you would not cling to his guiding hand, If the way were always bright ; And you would not care to walk by faith, Could you always walk by sight. 'Tis true he has many an anguish

For your sorrowful heart to bear, And many a cruel thorn-crown For your tired head to wear ; He knows how few would reach Heaven at all, If pain did not guide them there.

So he sends you the blinding darkness And the furnace of sevenfold heat ; 'Tis the only way, believe me, To keep you close to his feet ;

For 'tis always so easy to wander When our lives are glad and sweet.

Then nestle your hand in your Father's, And sing, if you can, as you go ; Your song may cheer some one behind you Whose courage is sinking low. And well, if your lips do quiver, God will love you better so.

BABY HAS GONE TO SCHOOL

-Selected.

The baby has gone to school ; ah, me ! What will the mother do, With never a call to button or pin. Or tie a little shoe ? How can she keep herself busy all day With the little hindering thing away ?

Another basket to fill with lunch, "Another "good-bye" to say, And the mother stands at the door to see Her baby march away, And turns with a sigh, that is half relief, And half a something akin to grief.

She thinks of a possible future morn, When the children, one by one, Will go from their home out in the world To battle with life alone, And not even the baby left to cheer The desolate home of that future year.

She picks up garments here and there, Thrown down in careless haste. And tries to think how it would seem If nothing were displaced, If the house were always as still as this, How could she bear the loneliness ? -Selected.

st my appetite increased ; the expectoration became easy, digestion better ; the faces became more copious and less frequent; cold chills ceased; night-sweats lessened; I gained in weight; the hacking cough left me; refreshing sleep returned; my spirits became buoyant, the mind active and vigorous. I continued taking the Syrup month after month ; but owing to the damp, foggy climate of St. John, my recovery was necessarily slow, although I could observe a gradual return of strength for three years, during which time I continued taking the remedy. My present weight is one hundred and eighty-eight, being thirty-eight above my usual. I have no symptoms left denoting disease. The only notable sign during twelve months was the expectoration. Now that has stopped, and I consider myself well. The reader may ask, How do you know your difficulty to have proceeded from ulcerated or tuberculated lung ? I answer, In the most certain of all modes for ascertaining. In March last I coughed from the right lung a piece of PHOSPHATE OF LIME, half the size of a pea, which could have come from no other place, and which the highest authority in Lung Diseases (Laennec) states is the result of tubercle, which has been cured. Added to this, I had the leaden-colored, purulent, blood - streaked expectoration, and the opinion of one of the best diagnosticians in the country. I believe I have experienced all the symptoms incident to the two first stages of Consumption, and have successfully combatted them, so that I do not despair of any case where there is left sufficient lung-tissue to build upon. I can only add that the mere monetary consideration of increased sales would never induce me to publish this report, but a sincere sympathy for the poor Consumptive, with whose misfortune I believe it villany to trifle.
