A despatch to the Globe states that the two-story wooden building in Woodstock, belonging to the Hon. Wm. Lindsay, was burned yesterday morning. J. S. Marcy, John Garraty, Jos. Hoyergan and Mrs. Buck occupied the building, which was insured in the North British & Mercantile for $4,000. Marcy has $300 on his stock in the Western Assurance. Probable loss over $3,500.

A few days ago a woman claiming to be the wife of one Benjamin Purdy, came to Moncton from Amherst. She found, after brief enquiry, that her husband had married a second wife here. Further developments are expected. Wife No. 1 had a child in arms, a year and seven months old. Some benevolent parties interested themselves and secured her lodgings for the night, as she was destitute. —Moncton Times.

Capt. Fleming, of the Nova Scotia Steamship Company, is laid up by an injury received on board the "Hiawatha" on Friday last at Digby. He was walking from the wheelhouse forward after dark and forgot that the "Hiawatha" was cut off forward and had not a flush like the "Dominion" consequently he was precipitated suddenly from the upper to the next deck and injured his right groin. In the meantime Capt Boyd, an old Bay pilot and a good sailor, has charge of the "Hiawatha."

The Moniteur Acadian reports the mysterious disappearance of Damien David LeBlanc, of Baracheis. He left home Nov. 13, taking some promissory notes received from purchasers at an auction held by him some days before, to get discounted. He went to Dorchester, then to Shediac, from which he went in the direction of Moncton, where he is said to have been seen the 15th, from which time there is no trace of him. It is rumored that he had discounted the notes and was seen with more than $200 in his possession, but there is no proof of this. His wife and children are greatly distressed at his unaccountable absence.

A large building at Grafton, owned by Messrs. Grant & Atherton, formerly used as their carriage factory and latterly used as a warehouse, was completely destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. A large quantity of stock and tools was in the building, only a portion of which was saved. The total loss is about $3,500, insured as follows: $1,500 on stock in the Commercial Union; on building, $700 in North British, and $300 in Western Assurance. Chesley Estey, who was using the blacksmith shop in the building lost some stock and tools. The origin of the fire was accidental; probably from the flue of the blacksmith shop.

The Evangelical Alliance held its regular monthly meeting in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A. building Monday afternoon. Capt. Prichard, the President, occupied the chair, and the following gentlemen were present; Rev. Messrs. Armstrong, Macrae, Boman and Shenton, Messrs. S. B. Patterson and Dr. Botsford. The usual devotional exercises were held and the secretary read the minutes of the preceeding meeting, which were confirmed. It was decided to hold the noon meetings in the Y. M. C. A. building, and the evening meetings of the Week of Prayer in the following churches: Monday—St. David's Church; Tuesday—Germain Street Baptist Church; Wednesday—St. Stephen's Church; Thursday—Annual Meeting of the Bible Society; Friday—Centenary Church; Saturday—Exmouth Street Methodist Church.

NOVA SCOTIA.

An unusually large number of steamers have visited Halifax during the week to discharge, to load and to obtain bunker coal.

James R. Nichols, a carriage builder, fell through a trap door in his factory, at Weymouth, a few days ago, and broke his neck.

It is said that Mr. Dustan has sold his Dartmouth property with all the rights and privileges attached, to some parties from Greenock and Liverpool, who will erect a sugar refinery there next year.

At Halifax, Saturday, Detective Power arrested Wm. Gunnall, who was formerly employed as manager of the Church of England Coffee House at the head of Market Wharf, on a charge of embezzlement of the funds of the Coffee House. The warrant alleges that he embezzled $52.58.

Some capitalists in Halifax are about organizing a company for the exportation of fresh fish of all kinds for the European and American markets, a process having been invented by a German residing in Bremen, Germany, whereby fresh fish and meat may be kept perfectly sweet and good in the warmest summer weather for from four to eight weeks.

The suit in Equity as to the ownership of the Salmon River, N. S., Gold Mines is still pending. The Lockhart party obtained an injunction from the Judge in Equity, to prevent the Mott party from continuing work. Two of the Sheriff's deputies were sent down to enforce the order. On their way to the mines the other day they were waylaid by 40 or 50 men, who fell upon them, beat them, robbed them, and then threw them into the river, whence they escaped with difficulty.

The gold leads in Yarmouth County are proving to be all that was claimed for them by their discoverers. One belt at Chegoggin Point averages 190 feet in width at the surface and is very rich so far as prospected. While there is a large amount of free gold in the quartz of some leads and surface boulders other leads contain large deposits of refractory ores that will require special appliances to reduce them. The modern methods of chlorinization, etc., make this an easy task and we confidently look forward to the probability in the immediate future that Yarmouth gold district will rival the most celebrated of its kind in the world.—New Era.

It was published some days ago that in connexion with the disputed ownership of the Salmon River gold mine, several sheriff's officers who went for "the Lockhart party" to serve an injunction on "the Mott party," who are in possession, were waylaid by forty or fifty men, who thrashed them, robbed them, and threw them in the river. The history of the mine is a singular one. The property lies near the coast a considerable distance east of Halifax. It is worked by a number of persons, claiming, of course, to be owners, who cleared last year $200,000 or more. No capital was needed, as the mine was rich enough from the first to pay its way. The parties holding it were, we understand, chiefly stage drivers and other workingmen—all poor men two or three years ago, but likely to become fabulously rich. They have been "holding the fort" for months past against a number of claimants who declare the mine is theirs.—Sun.

An Italian merchant in Naples, or rather a man who pretends to be a merchant, has attempted to swindle some Halifax merchants in the fish trade. Some time ago he wrote to three or four of them asking quotations for codfish, pretending he wished to make some extensive purchases by way of speculation. Two of our merchants sent him their prices, and in reply received orders to send on, one 900 quintals, and the other 500 quintals, the orders being accompanied by bills of exchange for £930 and £500, respectively, payable at a banking-house in Lombard street, London. The fish were to be forwarded to Liverpool by steamer and thence transhipped to Naples. If this trial shipment proved a success further orders would follow. The merchants receiving these orders from this somewhat unusual quarter happened to meet and talk over the matter. They decided, before shipping the fish, to inquire as to the standing of the Neapolitan merchant. They cabled across, and in reply were advised to have nothing to do with the man, as he was "N. G.," and his bills of exchange were equally valuable.—Halifax Citizen.

LOSS OF THE "CEDAR GROVE."

The "Cedar Grove" steamship was lost on Thursday morning of last week near Cape Canso. The following despatch to the Sun contains the statement of Chief Officer Masters:—

The S. S. "Cedar Grove," Capt. J. Fritz, commander, of St. John, N.B., left London Nov. 17th, for Halifax and St. John with a general cargo, experienced heavy weather during the passage. On Thursday, 28th, sighted the coast of Newfoundland and thence bore away for Cape Sambro. On the morning of Thursday, the 30th, weather thick and hazy, struck on the ledges off Cape Island, Canso. Succeeded in getting the vessel off in ten fathoms of water, where she sank at 4.30. The life boats, fully equipped and manned were, from the moment of her striking, kept alongside in readiness to take off the remainder of the crew in case of sinking, as the ship was full only to the engine room bulkhead it was thought by the captain, engineers and officers that the ship would float till daylight. The engine room bulkhead giving way, the ship sank instantaneously. A few minutes previous to the sinking, Mr. Masters, the chief officer, was ordered by the captain to let go the port anchor, and obtaining a volunteer crew he succeeded in doing so. After sending the volunteer crew to the boats, Mr. Masters attempted to get aft to speak to the captain, when the ship sinking carried him down with her. After a struggle of 10 or 15 minutes in the water, the chief officer was picked up by the starboard life-boat manned by sailors and firemen. Taking charge of the life-boat, he started to make his way out of the breakers and hearing cries from the wreck, ten feet of the stern of which still remained out of water, he returned and after serious difficulty succeeded in rescuing the chief steward and third engineer. The boat was then, after daylight, picked up by the schr. "Parole." At 2 P. M. the schooner "Parole" was run down by the steamer "Liddesdale" and the shipwrecked crew of the "Cedar Grove" and the schooner's crew were rescued by the steamer's boats and landed in Sydney.

The chief officer says the highest credit is due Capt. Fritz, Mr. Pearson, second officer, and all the engineers, for the admirable coolness and bravery displayed by them from the moment of the ship's striking until foundering.

To which the Sun adds:

The accounts from North Sydney which we publish are conclusive. First Officer Masters and eleven of the crew in No. 2 life boat were picked up by the schooner "Parole," of St. John, N. B., and when being transferred from the "Parole" to the steamer "Liddesdale," from New Orleans bound to Sydney, were again shipwrecked. The steamer struck the schooner, injuring her so severely that it was feared she would sink, and the rescued as well as the schooner's crew had to take to the boats and got on board the steamer, although some appear to have jumped into the sea, swimming for their lives. They were all landed safely in Sydney. The story of the last moments of the "Cedar Grove," her Captain and Miss Fairall, is graphically related in our columns, as taken from the lips of the first officer and chief steward and telegraphed to us. The Captain does not appear to have been seen after the steamer's bow went under, but Miss Fairall was seen floating at the mercy of the waves. It is sad to think that the Captain's precautions for the lady's comfort were the means of causing her to lose her life. Had she been placed in the boat with the others were she would have been saved, but the Captain would not expose her to the extreme cold, believing, no doubt, that he could provide for her and the others in the boat when they were compelled to abandon the vessel, which was at that moment in a position of comparative security for those on board of her. The sudden sinking at the bows, carrying all hands down into the sea, was as unexpected as it was disastrous, and overthrew Captain Fritz's plans. We can add nothing to the statements from Mr. Masters and the steward. They tell the whole story.

It is gratifying to know that so few lives were lost where so many were in jeopardy, but with this reason for congratulation there mingles the painful fact that a commander who had sailed the most dangerous waters of this world, and in the wildest tempest that ever raged, and this for forty years without a disaster, left his retirement to meet his death under the circumstances described. To the relatives of Capt. Fritz, to the relatives and friends of Miss Fairall, who was coming to make her home in New Brunswick, and to the friends of the lost wherever they reside, it will be a satisfaction to know that the community of St. John sympathize most sincerely with them in their great bereavement. As for the causes of the disaster, these, no doubt, will be duly ascertained according to the modes of procedure provided for such cases.

CAPT. FRITZ'S BODY FOUND.

A despatch from Canso, Dec. 6th, says that a body, identified by Mr. Jenkins, of Halifax, as that of Capt. Fritz, was brought up by the divers from the after hold of the "Cedar Grove." The watch had stopped at seventeen minutes past seven. The remains were brought to Canso by steamer "Rimouski." The face is very much disfigured. The body of Miss Fairall has not yet been recovered. The remains of Capt. Fritz will be forwarded to St. John immediately.

An investigation is proceeding at Halifax before Capt. Scott, of the Marine and Fisheries Department, into the loss of the steamer "Cedar Grove."

Capt. Angrove of the steamer "George Shattuck," states that half an hour before the luckless "Cedar Grove" struck on Walker's Reef his ship was off the same neighborhood. He discovered a current running inwards that night at the rate of two miles an hour, and kept his vessel off to avoid danger. Those who frequently navigate that portion of our coast are aware that strong currents prevail at times.—H. Chron.

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The court martial instituted to inquire into the cause of the wrecking of the British war vessel Phœnix, which went ashore on the coast of Prince Edward Island last September, has found that the vessel was lost through negligent navigation. The court severely reprimanded the commander and dismissed him from the service. The navigating lieutenant was similarly dismissed.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Only about eighty members were present when prorogation took place, Saturday afternoon. The Lord Chancellor read letters from Gen. Wolseley, acknowledging his gratitude for the formal thanks tendered to him by Parliament for his services in Egypt.

In the Queen's speech, Her Majesty stated that the relations of England with all foreign nations are at the present time cordial. The proposed commercial treaty with France has not been concluded, but there has been no falling off in the friendly intercourse and governmental dealings between the two countries—on the contrary, such an increase in international courtesies as had strengthened the bonds of friendship at present uniting them. The Queen then at length recited her thanks for the successful operations of the army in Egypt, asserting that success had avoided other measures which were tending to disturb the tranquility of the British possessions existing in the East. The growth of the revenues, although retarded, had suffered no diminution either in general receipts or duties on intoxicating liquors. The distress and disturbed condition of affairs existing in Ireland were referred to with particular regret, but it was hoped that the great social improvement now noticeable in that country would continue under the new laws. The house was then prorogued to Feb. 15th next.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The family of the late Archbishop of Canterbury have declined the offer of the burial of the Archbishop's body in Westminster Abbey, and the remains will be buried in the family vault at Addington.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Postmaster-General Fawcett's condition causes great anxiety.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 5.—Steamer Peruvian, Capt. Ritchie, from Montreal, while entering the River Mersey at 5 o'clock this morning, collided with an unknown steamer. She was cut down to the water's edge amidships. The weather was thick at the time of the collision. Tugs landed the crew and passengers here. Hopes are entertained that the breach can be repaired and the vessel floated in a few tides.

Later.—The Peruvian has been floated. The damage to the cargo is confined to the after hold.

DUBLIN, Dec. 5.—The Grand Jury found true bills against three men charged with the assassination of Detective Cox and the would-be assassins of Judge Lawson.

The Standard's Constantinople correspondent says the Sultan did not attend the Mosque on Friday, and it has not transpired that an attempt to assassinate him was contemplated. The Sultan is completely terror stricken, and hardly dares to show himself outside the Harem. The Daily News Constantinople correspondent says that Dervish Pasha will be exiled.

Arabi Pasha having plead guilty to the charge of rebellion before the court martial, was sentenced to death, but this has been commuted by the Khedive to exile for life. He will retire to some part of the British dominions.

The Daily News' Cairo correspondent telegraphs that the counsel for the defence stipulated that the other chief prisoners should participate in the compromise effected in the case of Arabi.

The Times' Cairo correspondent telegraphs a letter from Arabi, thanking England for her interposition in his behalf. Daily News' Alexandria correspondent says a native demonstration in honor of Arabi took place yesterday in the street where the massacre of June took place.

UNITED STATES.

MEETING OF CONGRESS—PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Both Houses of Congress convened to-day and received the President's Message, which, in opening, reviews our relations with foreign governments. Great Britain has shown a disposition to respect our rights by the release of arrested parties; and in relation to any interoceanic canal across the Isthmus of Darien, the Message says time will be more powerful than discussion in removing the divergence between the two nations. He heartily approves of the immediate and extensive reductions in the annual revenue of the government, as such a rapid extinguishment of the national debt is cause for serious apprehension. He suggests that all internal taxes, save those which relate to distilled spirits, be abrogated. The system of excise duties should be modified. He recommends an enlargement of the free list. He invites the attention of Congress to our inadequate war armament, and he trusts that means will be provided for their improvement. He withholds his concurrence from any governmental control of the telegraphic system, and favors the reduction of postage. Referring to the Star Route trial he says if any guilty persons finally escape punishment for their offences, it will not be for lack of diligent and earnest efforts on the part of the prosecution. He is encouraged to believe that the evils which the polagamy laws are aimed at may be suppressed. The attention of Congress is invited to the necessity of additional legislation to secure the preservation of valuable forests still remaining on the public domain, especially in the extreme Western States and Territories. Considering the question of civil service, he says, "As to the most appropriate term and tenure of the official life of the subordinate employes of Government, it seems to be generally agreed that whatever their extent or character, the one should be definite and the other stable, and that neither should be regulated by zeal in the service of party or fidelity to the fortunes of an individual." The Message concludes as follows: "I trust that under the inspiration of this great prosperity, our counsels may be harmonious, and that the dictates of prudence, patriotism, justice and economy, may lead to the adoption of measures in which Congress and the Executive may heartily unite."

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Thirteen children died on the steamer "Gellert" on her recent passage to this port.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6.—By the bursting of a boiler on a river steamer—"Morning Star"—this morning, three persons were killed, eight drowned and six badly, if not fatally, scalded. The steamer "Sumbeam" brought the wounded to this city.

The Transit of Venus was observed successfully on Wednesday, in the following places: Cork, Durban, Cape Town; and also at New Haven, Washington and New York. At Greenwich the weather was unfavourable.

ONE EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said, "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy."—The Mother.—Home Journal. decl 2i.

Whooping Cough is a nervous disease of so sympathetic a nature that a paroxysm may be produced in one susceptible, by simply hearing the cough of another person. The above named treatment has been found similarly effective.

MR. GEORGE SEWELL, of Memramcook, N. B., writing from Moncton, N. B., under date of May 7th, 1878, says:—

DEAR SIR,—In January last I came to Moncton from Memramcook to consult a physician, as I was in the last stages of Consumption. When I arrived here I had at once to go to my bed, and was so low I never expected to leave it. A physician was called who pronounced my case as hopeless; that I might live a week or two, but not certainly more. As a last resort he recommended "Robinson's Cod Liver Oil with Lacto-Phosphate of Lime." I purchased a bottle and after taking the first dose commenced to improve. It seems, after taking a dose, as if I had eaten a good, hearty meal. I have continued taking it ever since and am rapidly improving. I am confident that had it not been for your Oil I WOULD HAVE BEEN IN MY GRAVE TO-DAY. You are at liberty to use this in any way you wish, as I am anxious to let others, who are afflicted in the same way, know, in the hope that they too, may receive the same benefit.
