A fire broke out in the wool house of Mr. W. Buckley, about a mile from Amherst, which, with his slaughter house and most of the contents of the former, was destroyed. The buildings were worth about $2000, and insured for $1000. The stock destroyed was 60 sacks wool, 200 lbs. each, worth $3600; 2800 wool-skins, $2800; 1400 pulled do., $300; other stock $350; total contents being $7000, on which there is $4000 insurance. Mr. Buckley's loss, therefore, is a heavy one, and we greatly regret that his enterprise, which led to an annual business of $75,000 a year in wool alone, should have met with such a check.
