BY EBEN E. REXFORD She sits in the gathering shadows, By the porch where the roses blow, And her thoughts are black in the summers That vanished long ago; She forgets the graves on the hillside, Forgets that she is old, And remembers only the gladness God gave her heart to hold.

As she sits there, under the roses, She turns her dim old eyes To the road that leads up the hillside To the glory of sunset skies ; 'They are late," she says, and listens With her knitting on her knee;

It is time for the children's coming ; Where can the little ones be?" She fancies she hears them coming "Ah, here at last ?" she cries,

And the light of a mother's welcome Shines in her faded eyes. 'You've been gone a long time, children ; Were the berries thick, my dears?" She asks, as, gathered about her, Each child of old appears.

She hears the merry voices Of the dear ones that are dead : She smooths out the shining tangles That crown each little head She kisses the faces lifted To hers, as in days of old. And the heart of the dreaming mother Is full of peace untold.

She listens to eager stories Of what they saw and heard-Of a nest in the blackberry bushes, And a frightened mother-bird ; How Johnnie fell, and his berries Were lost in weeds and moss. And Mary was 'fraid, and dreaded The brook they had to cross.

So, while the night comes downward, She sits with her children there, Forgetting the years that took them And the snowflakes in her hair. The love that will last forever Brings back the dear, the dead, And the faithful heart of the mother With her dreams is comforted.

Ere long she will go to the country Where her dear ones watch and wait For her, and I think of the meeting There at the jasper gate. She will feel their welcoming kisses, And the children's father will say, As the household is gathered in heaven, We're all at home to-day.

CLINGING TO LIFE.

" I love to live !" and the happy child Looked up to his mother and gaily smiled. His young heart throbbed with the fires of youth, His eye was bright with unsuffied truth, His fair face shone with a hopeful gleam, And life seemed sweet as a poet's dream.

I love to live !" said a maiden fair ; Her life knew nothing of toil or care. She'd beauty and wealth and love untold, And all the pleasures that life can hold. She merrily sang as the days flew by, As birds will carol 'neath summer's sky.

"I love to live !" said an earnest man ; 'I'm gaining from life all the good I can." All over the world men spoke his name, As crowned with the truest and noblest fame, Successful and happy, he steed in his prime, And thought of his future with hopes sublime.

"I love to live !" a mother said, As she fondly knelt by a little bed;

My home is a paradise here on earth, We revel in happiness, love and mirth ; And this dear babe with her winning ways Is the crowning joy of our perfect days."

"I love to live," said an aged man, Who had almost lived out life's brief span ; But after his toil it was sweet to rest With those who knew and loved him best. And after his toil, and care, and strife, These days seemed the sweetest of all his life!

WHAT GEOMETRY WILL DO FOR

Now, boys, let us have a little talk about geom etry. You know it has been a famous study for boys for many ages. Enclid was an old Egyptian, 60, and it is 600; multiply it by 8 hours, and within drawing from box. treatise on geometry has been the foundation for all modern works upon the subject. Piato, who lived a century earlier, founded a noted academy at Athens, and it is related that over its entrance he " When I lie down at night without my alcohol, placed this celebrated inscription, "Let no one that is the rest my heart gets. But when you take ter, and I hope we will all take it to God in prayer. ignorant of geometry enter here." I once heard a very result is you rise up very seedy and unfit for the interesting story about Abraham Lincoln which may next day's work till you have taken a little more of help you to understand the "good." Before Mr. the 'ruddy bumper,' which you say is the soul of tour through New England and lectured in many cities and towns. Among other places he spoke in Norwich, Conn. A gentleman who heard him and was struck with his remarkable logical power, rode the next day in the cars with Mr. Lincoln to New Haven. During the ride the following conversation took place :

"Mr. Lincoln, I was delighted with your lecture last evening." "Oh, thank you, but that was not much of a lecture ; I can do better than that." "I have no doubt of it, Mr. Lincoln; for whoever can do so well, must inevitably be able to do better." "Well, well, you are a good reasoner, aren't you That is cute." "But that reminds me," continued the gentleman, "to ask how you acquired your wonderful logical power. I have heard that you are entirely self-educated, and it is seldom that I find a self-educated man who has a good system of logic in his reasoning. How did you acquire such about the length of time they can live without food about the length of time they can live without food correct. will tell you. It was my terrible discouragement which did that for me." "Your discouragementwhat do you mean?" "You see," said Mr. Lincoln, "that when I was about eighteen years of age I went into an office to study law. Well, after a little while I saw that a lawyer's business was largely to 1 ove things. And I said to myself, 'Lincoln, when is a thing proved?' That was a poser. I could not answer the question. What constitutes proof? Not evidence, that was not the point. There may be evidence enough, but wherein consists the proof ? "You remember the old story of the German who was tried for crime, and they brought half a dozen respectable men who awore that they saw the prisoner commit the crime. 'Vel,' he replies, 'vatof dat? Six men schwears dot dey saw me do it; I brings more nor two tozen goot men who schwears dey did not see me do it.' So, wherein is the proof? I groaned over the question, and finally said to myself, 'Ah, Lincoln, you can't tell.' Then I thought, 'What use is it for me to be in a law-office, if I can't tell when a thing is proved?' So I gave it up, and left the office and went back home, over in Kentucky." "So you gave up the law?" "Oh, Mr. H., don't jump at your conclusions; that isn't ONE of the best ways to cure sore throat is as fol- and add five cups Graham flour. In the other put logical. I learned the SOLICITED. definitions and axioms. I demonstrated the first proposition; I said, that is simple enough. I went on to the next, and the next; and before spring I had gone through that old Euclid's geometry, and could demonstrate every proposition like a book.

"I knew it all from beginning to end. You could not stick me on the hardest of them. Then, in the spring, when I had got through with it, I said to myself one day, 'Ah, do you know now when a thing is proved?' And I answered right out loud, 'Yes, sir, I do.' 'Then you may go back to the law shop; ' and I went." "Thank you, Mr. Lincoln, for that story. You have answered my question. I see now where you found your logical acumen ; you dug it out of that geometry." "Yes, I did, often by the light of the pitch-pine knots. But I got it. Nothing but geometry will teach you the power of abstract reasoning. Only that will tell you when a thing is proved." Said Mr. G., "I think this is a remarkable incident. How few men would have thought to ask themselves the question, When was a thing proved? What constitutes proof? And how few young men of eighteen would have been able to master the whole of Euclid in a single winter, without a teacher. And still fewer, after they had done so much, would have realized and acknowledged what geometry had done for them; that it had told them what proof was." So, my young friends, you may perhaps see by this incident what geometry will do for a boy .--Congregationalist.

MOLLY'S PENNIES.

The young assistant editor of one of the most important magazines in New York is also the teacher of a class of little ragamuffins in a Mission Sundayschool. These children are allowed to bring a penny each on Sunday, for the help of other children still worse off than themselves. Mind, they are allowed, as a privilege-not required, or even expected. I is set before them as an honor to help in the good work; and many of them bring their penny regularly-others when it is convenient-others seldom; but there is scarcely one so poor as not sometimes to produce it.

Among the class is one little mite, perhaps six years old, who always comes well-patched and clean, yet whose whole aspect shows her to be one of the angel very poorest of those poor. She is not a pretty child. Life has been hard on her, and pinched her little face, and made sharp angles where there ought to be soft outlines and dimples; but she has bright, eager eyes, and she never loses a word the teacher says to her, and he feels that she is one of his most hopeful scholars.

One Sunday of winter, when the times were very hard, he heard a small voice at his elbow,-"Teacher !" "Well, Molly?"

" Please, sir, here's four pennies, for this Sunday, "Why do you bring them all at once, Molly?"

the teacher asked, with curious interest. "Because, please, father is out of work, and he aid there might not be any pennies if I did not take them now," and the thin little brown hand slipped nto his a brown paper parcel in which the four pennies were carefully wrapped. So the good work was not to suffer, however nungry the child's mouth might be before the month was over. The teacher wondered how many of the rich men, playing with fortunes as a child plays with toys, would remember, before making some desperate throw, to provide for the charities they were wont to help, lest there should not be any money in the weeks to come. - Youth's Companion

HEART-BEATS.

Dr. B. W. Richardson, of London, the noted physician, says he was recently able to convey a considerable amount of conviction to an intelligent scholar by a simple experiment. The scholar was singing the praises of the "ruddy bumper," and saying he could not get through the day without it, when Dr. Richardson said to him :

" Will you be good enough to feel my pulse as I stand here?' "He did so. I said, 'Count it carefully ; what does it say?' " Your pulse says seventy-four."

"I then sat down in a chair and asked him to and 13. (3). Psalms ev. 22. (4). Acts xix. 29. count it again. He did so, and said, 'Your pulse has gone down to seventy. "I then lay down on the lounge, and said: 'Will

Its place was on the window bench, and it was my diversion to see it catch flies. If riflemen could aim as it does with its tongue, they would be invincible. Its aim is as unerring as its glance. Its torque is made so that t can shoot it out nearly two inches. It is so sharp that it spears a fly as upon the point of a needle, and it is done as quick as a man can wink. It renires very great attention to see the operation."

There are toads found in stones, but they are merely housed up in a solid coat of sun-baked clay, which on the exterior seems as hard as a stone, but which, in all probability, contains some fissure invisible to the naked eye, through which it gets air and drink.

THE WAY IT WILL AFFECT YOU.

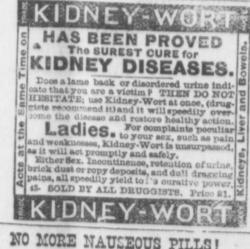

It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucous; changes the secretions and urifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. SUCH IS THE IMMEDIATE AND SATISFACTORY EFFECT that t is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours time, if not of too long standing. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction, even in the most confirmed cases of Consumption! It is warranted not to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies), or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. It is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by Consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time. Physicians having consumptive patients, and who, having failed to cure them with their own medicine, we would secommend to give ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM a trial. Sold by all Druggists.

PARKS' COTTON YARNS! AWARDED THE ONLY MEDAL GIVEN AT THE CENTEN-

NIAL EXHIBITION For Cotton Yarns of Canadian Manufacture. Nor. 5's to 10's. WHITE, BLUE, RED, ORANGE AND Green.

Made of good American Cotton with great care, Correctly numbered and Warranted Full Length and Weight. WE would ask the purchasers of Cotton Warp to re-member that our Yarn is spun on Throstle Frames which make a stronger yarn than the Ring Frames, used in making American yarn.

It is also better twisted and more carefully reeled; each hank being tied up in 7 leas of 120 yards each. This ithout leas—as the American is—and also gaves a great

COTTON CARPET WARP. Made of No. 10 Yarn, 4-Ply Twisted. WHITE, RED, BROWN, SLATE, &c.

All fast colors. Each 5 lb. bundle contains 10,000 yards in length and will make a length of Carpet in proportion to the number of ends in width. We have put more twist into this warp than it formerly had, and it will now make a more durable Carpet than can be made with any other material. Since its introduction by us, a few years ago, it has come into very general use throughout the country.

All our goods have our name and address upon them. None other are genuine. WM. PARKS & SON, New Brunswick Cotton Mills, St. John, N. B.
