AFRAID OF THE CONDITIONS. (The Christian Advocate.)

There are far too many who would like to have a revival, but who are unwilling to meet the con ditions of a true revival. They will not have the true for fear of having the spurious. We have never known such, however, to refuse a good bargain or good money because there are poor bargains and counterfeit money in the world. We have recently heard of a Church so surprised by a single conversion that several of its members said.

"Just think of it, Mr. B. has been converted, and in our church, too. BOTH WRONG AND RIGHT.
