- Intending to make it appear how hollow and meaningless the observance of Lent is in many cases the Western Advocate (Methodist) says :

"Christ says the 'Kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness.' Yet some seem to think that all sorts of folly and dissipation can be atoned for by a few weeks' regimen of fish and eggs. They observe 'times and seasons,' forgetting the weightier matters of the law. - More and more attention is being given to the subject of early conversions, and wise Christian leaders are insisting as never before, on the importance of winning the children to Jesus. And this is, surely, one of the most cheering signs of the times. Last week we quoted Dr. Cuyler, and the week before that Mr. Spurgeon, on this subject. Now we leave to ministers and others the following extract from a sermom recently preached in Baltimore by a man of large experience and wide obser can, and the privilege of doing the least is very facts.

EAST PUBNICO, YARMOUTH Co. - Dear Bro McLeod: I have been holding meetings for three weeks with the church at East Pubnico. We have a number of faithful workers there; they look for present results by the Holy Spirit to save souls. I have baptized nine happy converts and received them into the church. A number more of the Sabbath-school scholars have professed conversion, and we trust that under the faithful labours of the superintendent, Bro. Caleb Larkin, and the noble staff of teachers of the school they will be strengthened to follow the Lord in all His appointed ways. Yours, etc.

The debate on the resolutions was to be resumed on Wednesday or Thursday of this week. Sir Hector Langevin introduced a bill to place all fortifications and military buildings under the control of the militia department.

In answer to Mr. Weldon Sir Hector Langevin said the site for the Carleton post-office had been bought from the corporation of the city for $900 the contractors are Causey, Bond & Milden, and the contract price $8,951.

Mr. Shakespeare moved a resolution that it is expedient to enact a law prohibiting the incoming of Chinese to British Columbia. He spoke at length describing the Chinese as a dangerous class that could not be made amenable to local laws, and who would soon render the Pacific Province unfit for white people to live in. Mr. Gordon followed in a similar strain. The debate was then adjourned. On the item relating to Maritime Courts, a short discussion took place about the advisability of having the present Vice Admiralty Court in the Maritime Provinces repealed, with Maritime Courts created by the Dominion Parliament. Weldon thought an effort ought to be made to Sir John stated that the matter had been a subject of correspondence with the Imperial Government for some years.
