WINDMILLS OR BUTTER PATS -There is a quaint story of a guant, who had long fed upon windmills, and at last was choked by a pat of butter; and, assuredly, his counterpart may be seen in the evolutionists of our day, who are unable to receive as inquest on the body, and after hearing the eviof our present philosophers are enough to tax the credulity of a monk of the middle ages, yet many take down these windmills as pigeons swallow peas. He was 25 years old The numerous friends in this city of Mr. T. B. Smith, of the Post Office Department, will receive with deep regret the news of his unexpected and sudden death, which took place at Liverpool, England, on the 9th inst. For some months past his health has not been good, and thinking a trip across the Atlantic would benefit him, he got leave of absence and about four weeks ago left Ottawa for a trip to Europe. His many friends expected to see him return about the 1st of September restored to health, but a Higher Power had ordered it otherwise, and yesterday's British mail brought the sad news of his death among strangers in a strange land. Mr. Smith was a sincers Christian and a consistent Sunday-school and Temperance worker.

At Shag Harbor, N. S., on the 20th inst., of paralysis.

Susannah, relict of the late Mr. Joseph Nickerson, aged chills and fever generally find their complaint a very stubborn fact, until they commence the use of Ayer's Ague Cure. That medicine eradicates the along the said line south until it strikes the main road, Robert Hastings, and duly recorded in the office of the Registrar of Deeds in and for the County of King's, in Book F. No. 4, of Records, pages 357, 358, 359 and 360, as by reference thereto will more fully and at large appear, default having been made in the payment of the first two installments of the principal money secured thereby, as well as the interest and insurance secured to be paid thereby.

Dated at the City of Saint John this 29th day of May, A. D. 1885.
