A RARE MAN.

(The Morning Star.) We read in a paper last week the following "Thomas Schofield, aged 91 years, walked nine miles to pay his subscription to a paper. It is the general impression among publishers that——"and just here the narrative broke suddenly off at the end of a line and the continuation was nowhere to be found. But that was of little account. We were willing to forego all knowledge of the impression about to be lescribed since we were permitted to contemplate such a thrilling spectacle as that presented by Thomas Schofield, aged 91, a part of whose relig-ion it was not to get behind on his subscription to his paper. We have read the lives of Hannibal, Alexander, Cæsar, and Bonaparte, but neither of them present to us precisely such a heroic figure as that of Thomas Schofield on his nine-miles jaunt at the age of ninety one. Brethren of the press, remember Thomas Schofield! If he comes to want pass the collection hat this way.——Since the foregoing was written, we have found in another paper the conclusion of the paragraph; It runs as follows: "It is the general impression among publishers that there are a number of subscribers who are waiting until they are 91 years old to come in and pay for their paper."

In the literary world there is much activity, and we may say, truthfully, the press was never doing better than at present in the character of its publications. The Messrs. youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured. It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the VIGOR is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

MR. C. P. BRICHER writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald." J. W. Bowen, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "AVER'S HAIR VIGOR is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The VIGOR is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

MR. ANGUS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which fleeting time procureth, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orstors, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

MRS. O. A. PRESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charlestown, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the Vigor, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."
