NEW BRUNSWICK.

Wm. Mitchell, of Scotch Lake, attempted to cut his throat with a razor the other day. He has since been sent to the lunatic asylum.

A barn owned by Richard Gallivan of Farmerston, Carleton county, was struck by lightning on Friday of last week and destroyed along with a large quantity of hay.

The trial of Daniel Hatfield, charged with committing rape on Catherine O'Donnell, was finished at the circuit court on Saturday, and resulted in a verdict of guilty against the prisoner.

A shark measuring nine feet in length, was captured in Mr. F. W. Todd's fish weir, at Oak Point, Charlotte county, on Tuesday. Mr. John Laming exhibited it in St. Stephen and Calais on Wednesday.

A passenger by Monday night's train for Halifax writes that, when near Sackville, the bottom fell out of the engine, and the sudden stoppage of the train threw the sleeper off the track. If the accident had occurred a few minutes sooner some lives would have been lost.—Chatham World.

The Fredericton Reporter has discovered a new potato pest, more terrible than the world-famed bug. It says, vines in fields about the city are covered with millions of small green lice. The editor of the Farmer is investigating the subject, with a view to stamping out this Egyptian-like plague.

An inquest was held on the body of Charles Collins, killed by an iron davit falling on him at Waring's foundry, Thursday night. The verdict of the jury was accidental death, and they censured the proprietor of the foundry for negligence in permitting the davit to remain where it was for so long a time.

The tugs "Neptune" and "Hercules" have arrived in port with the schooner "Crestline," which ran ashore in the fog near Cape Spencer light on Wednesday night last. The tugs went to her assistance and pulled her from shore. The damage is slight and the accident was owing to a disarrangement of the compass of the vessel.

Mrs. Moore, of Three Tree Creek, Sunbury county, has been very fortunate lately in the matter of money. About a year ago her brother in Ireland died, and his will provided her with $600,000 of his property. Mrs. Moore has four sons; one is working at Springfield and another at Lower St. Mary's.—Fredericton Gleaner.

It is claimed that Mr. S. G. Morse, Albert county, and not Mr. Milner of Sackville, is the oldest practicing barrister in this province. Mr. Morse was admitted to the bar in 1834, one year before Mr. Milner, is now 82 years old and still hale and hearty, and in addition to his professional duties, holds several official positions: Clerk of peace, registrar of probates and clerk of circuits and county courts.

A lad named McCoy, aged 11 years, son of Mrs. McCoy, Main street, Portland, met with a very serious accident on Saturday afternoon. In company with other lads McCoy was playing on the Long wharf, when by some means he fell from a pile of deals, breaking both arms just above the wrists, and also receiving injuries in the head and one knee. The lad was taken home. Dr. Gray was summoned and rendered surgical aid.

On Saturday, Aug. 10th, it was discovered that Edward Kelly, aged 33, leaving a wife and child, had committed suicide by hanging himself to a tree near his farm at Lower Prince William. It is said that he had been despondent for some time and was driven to the rash act by the fear that he would not be able to pay for some land recently purchased. His child was born a few hours after the news of his suicide reached his wife.

Mr. Isaac Davis, of Hibernia Settlement, Queens county, has obtained a remarkable yield from his winter rye. From a single kernel, 35 heads were the result, and these contained by actual count 1,897 kernels—averaging from 22 to 70 grains per head. In other instances there were many heads which showed upwards of 50 grains each. The seed was of the ordinary kind. Mr. Davis is very successful with his grain crops, having realized, one year, 140 bushels of rye from 3½ bushels sown.

The funeral of the late George C. Wiggins took place Friday afternoon from the Wiggins Orphan Asylum. The remains were taken to Trinity church where the service was conducted by Rev. G. A. Gollmer the curate of Trinity, assisted by Rev. Richard Mathers and Rev. H. A. Harley of Windsor. The service at the grave was conducted by Rev. Mr. Harley. The cortege was one of the largest seen in St. John for many a day. The remains were enclosed in a lead coffin, enclosed in a handsome walnut casket. At the grave the casket was placed in a well finished ash case.

The late rise in the St. John has floated into the Fredericton boons about 20,000,000 superficial feet of logs that were scattered along shore from Woodstock to the Fredericton limit. The rise, by an increase in the rapidity of the current, was a great help to the Boom Co. in their operations; so much so that the Douglas boom will finish rafting this week, having rafted at that boom this season in the neighborhood of 12,000 joints. The company will finish rafting at the Glazier and Mitchell booms two weeks hence. This will close the Boom Co.'s operations this season, provided the drives hung up last spring are not brought in by a rise in the water. If they are there will be 25,000,000 additional, principally from the main, Tobique and Arcostook rivers.

The account of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Upham, which occurred at the residence of their son, Mr. M. C. Upham, 197 Blue Hill avenue, Boston, Mass., on Friday evening, the 6th inst., will be interesting to many persons in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia where the aged couple have many relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Upham were married in Woodstock in 1836, and resided in that town until 1868, when they removed to Boston. About fifty friends of the family assembled to felicitate the aged couple upon having reached the semi-centennial of married life, and numerous letters were received from New Brunswick, Ontario and several states of the American Union, many of them remitting substantial tokens of remembrance, and all extending hearty good wishes for continued health and happiness. A feature of the celebration was a poem composed for the occasion, and read by the author, Mr. Nat. Childs. Songs were sung by several of the guests, and the bride and groom found attentive listeners to interesting narratives of their early life in New Brunswick. Mr. Upham was born in the old home-stead in Woodstock, where several of his brothers now reside. Mrs. Upham, whose maiden name was Hay, was born in Annapolis, N. S., but removed with her mother to St. John when a child. The late Robert A. Hay, of Woodstock, and the late Mrs. Hay, of Norton, Kings County, were her brothers, and Thomas L. and Geo. U. Hay, of this city are nephews. Mr. and Mrs. Upham's eldest son, Dr. R. H. Upham, celebrated the occasion by being united in marriage to Miss L. Bell Hill, of Boston, and they are now spending the honeymoon in this city.

NOVA SCOTIA.

The total number of vessels entered and cleared at the port of Parrsboro, from July 1st, 1885, to June 30th, 1886, (one year) was 996, and the total number for the month of July, 1886, 130.

The three-masted schr. "Nesbit," Capt. John R. Cowen, of Windsor, N. S., loaded with plaster, bound to New York, ran ashore on the Gaumet Rock, Grand Manan, during a thick fog on Saturday last. The vessel is a total wreck. The hull is ten feet under water. The crew are all saved.

A very sad death occurred at Sackville on Sunday last. Miss Amy Crane, aged 19, daughter of the late S. E. Crane of Baie Verte, visiting friends here, received a fall while picking cherries and though not thought seriously injured at first she died on Sunday. She was much beloved by her acquaintances and great sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

While digging a trench alongside the wall on the west side of the provincial building, in Halifax, the laborers threw up a lot of human remains, including portions of three separate skulls, two thigh bones and other leg bones. The bones were all found at one spot, about two feet six inches from the wall and two feet below the level of the sidewalk. How they came there or whose they were is a mystery.

James F. Harris, of Windsor, has a pear tree in his garden which has indulged in a serious freak. Although in appearance like other trees, yet this particular one has endeavored to attain notoriety by producing annually two different crops of pears. Besides getting full of fruit at the usual time, it blossomed again near the first of July, and now it has three well-shaped pears of the latter blossoming at the extreme end of about fourteen inches of new growth. Last year this tree did the same thing, the fruit not coming to maturity on account of not blossoming till late in August. Mr. Harris thinks they will fully ripen this year.—Halifax Herald.

Mrs. John Palmer, living with her son, by a former husband, Benjamin Ward, at Long Island, Grand Pre, an old lady within six months of 99 years of age, fell from a lounge in Mr. Ward's house on Friday last week, and injured herself so that she is confined to her bed. The Kentville Chronicle says she was looking out of the window, knitting on a lounge, and when endeavoring to get off, her feet caught in her dress and she was thrown violently to the floor. Previous to this the old lady has been remarkably smart and well, and almost as erect as when a girl. Up to the time of her accident she could read and sew with the greatest of ease without the aid of spectacles.

OTHER PROVINCES.

Early Wednesday morning a sharp shock of earthquake was felt at St. Marguerite, Ste. Adele and St. Sauveur, Quebec. A barn belonging to Mr. Godmer, farmer, Ste. Marguerite, was thrown down, and another lighter building was slightly damaged. The shocks lasted about six minutes. A violent wind and hail storm followed.

The report of the Ontario bureau of industries shows that fall wheat is considerably injured by winter exposure. Compared with the average of the past four years, fall wheat this year is 3,219, 224 bushels less; spring wheat, 1,255, 118 bushels less; barley, 107,987 bushels more; rye, 1,205,080 bushels less; and peas, 4,107,846 bushels more.

On Saturday evening, a lamp which was being carried by a young lady named Maloney, residing near Ottawa, took fire, communicating the flames to the clothing of Miss Maloney and before the fire could be extinguished the victim was terribly burnt. In order to save the house and those about her, the plucky girl rushed out of doors with the lamp still in her hand. It is feared the accident will prove fatal.

The hearing of the charges against P. Burns and the other alleged coal conspirators, of Toronto, which had been postponed, will take place to-day. Accountants have been engaged to examine Burns' books seized by the police, but application will be made to-morrow for an injunction to restrain the parties from examining the books on the ground that the seizure was illegal. The case has caused a great sensation.

About one o'clock Saturday morning patrolman Lester heard the report of a pistol near the corner of Sandwich and Church streets, Windsor, Ont. He started in that direction and met a man whom he arrested on suspicion, after a hard struggle, and found a revolver with one chamber empty and a mask in his pocket. About six o'clock Saturday morning, Albert John, an old citizen, was found lying in the gutter at the corner of Poll and Church streets dead, with a bullet hole in his temple.

Rome has finally spoken upon the question of Knights of Labor. The society is unequivocally condemned by the Holy See and the bishops of the church are enjoined to proceed against it as against all secret societies under papal ban. Cardinal Taschereau has just communicated this decision to the public here in the shape of a letter which, as metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of Quebec, he appears to have addressed to his suffragan bishops on the 31st ult.

A very heavy thunder, lightning, hail, rain and wind storm passed over Charlottetown August 12th. Several persons were out in boats in the harbor fishing. Two boys, Mason and Turnbull, had a narrow escape from drowning. They were upset out of their boat and were picked up by the steamer "Heather Belle," which was going to Orwell. Two others, Patrick Keough, aged about 70, and John Gahan, aged 19, were upset out of a boat and drowned. Keough's body was recovered.

James Armstrong, aged 83, who had been crossed in love and whose attentions had been rejected by a spinster seventy-six years of age, committed suicide Monday at Lure, about ten miles from Ottawa, by hanging himself to a beam in the barn of a neighbor where he was found about twenty minutes after life had become extinct. He was a well-to-do farmer, and before committing the rash act made a will bequeathing to his fair intended all his property, real estate and personal. He had been attending Salvation Army meetings during his visit in Ottawa, and it is believed that owing to his weak mind being easily influenced he became a religious fanatic, which, with his love escapade, led him to take his own life.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

The cabinet decided among other things to appoint a royal commission to inquire into the Belfast riots. The Queen's speech was approved, and Lord Salisbury went to Osborne on Sunday to submit it to her majesty. The majority of the members of the cabinet were in favor of proroguing parliament until February, unless unlooked for events in Ireland should make an autumn session necessary. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, chief secretary to Ireland, expressed his confidence in the government's ability to preserve order without having recourse to special legislation.

The excitement occasioned by the riots has been revived by an outrage committed by the Orangemen of Queen's Island upon a Catholic named Johnson. The latter was returning to his home from work when he was seized by Orangemen and given a coat of tar and feathers. The Catholics vow vengeance against the perpetrators. Five hundred additional policemen arrived to-day. Since Saturday, fifty seriously wounded patients have been treated at the Royal hospital; two hundred more have been cared for at private surgeries, and it is estimated, that probably 300 others have received wounds in riots whose cases have not been reported.

The Standard says: The utterances of the Irish press on Lord Salisbury's speech will open the eyes of English home rulers to the character of their new allies, some of whom traduced and vilified Lord Spencer. This is the critical moment in Parnell's career as a leader.

A despatch from Leigh, Lancashire, states that a terrible explosion occurred Friday morning in the Wood End colliery at that place. One hundred and forty miners were below at the time, and many of them were shockingly burned. Forty miners perished by the explosion.

Rioting has been resumed in Belfast. From midnight Friday night till four Saturday morning a rifle fight was in progress on Shankill road and the Old Falls road. One person was killed and many were wounded. The town is wild with excitement. A despatch from Belfast says: Sectarian strife has recurred in a deplorably cold-blooded fashion. Expert marksmen this morning conducted a rifle fight from rooftops, chimney-stacks and street corners. An immense crowd of partisans who carefully kept out of range, were prepared to assist by supplying ammunition and removing the wounded. The sides were equally divided. The moon shone brightly throughout the contest. The Orangemen admit that one of their men, named MacFarlan, was killed, and that two others, named Smith and Johnson, were mortally wounded; also, that there were numerous minor casualties on their side. They claim they killed and wounded many Catholics, but the latter deny they sustained serious losses. Many houses were riddled by bullets. Whenever the military appeared the combatants shifted their ground. Finally at five, after the riot act had been twice read, the troops charged upon the crowd and cleared the streets temporarily. An old man and two women, inmates of a house on Conway street, from which many shots had been fired, were arrested. They stated that three men had forced an entrance into the house and remained there all night firing from the roof. A howling crowd escorted the prisoners to jail. The mob to-day repeatedly fired upon the police. Taverns owned by Catholics, situated in the Protestant district were looted. The order instructing the police to use buckshot instead of bullets has been cancelled. The populace is sullen and menacing.

Referring to the report that Lord Randolph Churchill is preparing an Irish measure, the Times says he will have a long and arduous task. The nature of local government proposed must depend in some degree upon the attitude of the Irish people, and possibly upon the action of the Irish convention at Chicago, but it is quite certain that nothing like statutory parliament will enter into Lord Randolph's scheme, and that the development of country government on an elective system, will be applied on the same principles to all parts of the kingdom.

UNITED STATES.

Evidence is slowly accumulating against Mrs. Sarah Jane Robinson, of Somerville, who is charged with wholesale poisoning.

The buildings 204 to 210 Elizabeth street, New York, occupied by the Brush Electric Light Co., were burned. Loss, $110,000. A large part of the city was left in darkness owing to the destruction of machinery.

The delegates to the Irish National League convention are pouring into Chicago by scores. It promises to be the largest convention ever held under the auspices of that organization. There is no doubt that some elements of discord will disturb the deliberations but the outlook is not by any means gloomy, and guiding spirits, such as Davis and Alexander Sullivan, who are outside of local differences, are confident that the promised row will not materialize.

When attempting to drive away from in front of his residence in Washington, two colored men who used vile and profane language, Gen. C. C. Anger was Saturday morning shot four times. His wounds will not prove serious. The negroes are in custody.

The Irish delegates to the Chicago Irish National League convention—Messrs. O'Brien, Deasy and Remond—arrived from Europe on the steamer Servia. They were met at quarantine by a reception committee of the Irish National League and escorted to New York.

A terrible triple tragedy occurred at Graysville, near this city, Aug. 11th. Rev. F. M. Bandy and John Davis, the latter a prominent farmer, had a difficulty over Davis' attentions to Bandy's daughter. The young woman's brother attempted to whip Davis, and the latter beat him to death, crushing his skull with a stone. At this juncture the minister drew a knife and attacked Davis. Both men fought with knives and each was mortally wounded. Bandy is dead and Davis is dying. All the parties are well-known.

It is reported that Wm. Grey, jr., treasurer of the Atlantic mills, is a defaulter to a large amount and has fled. It is almost impossible to learn anything definite regarding Gray's default as the officials are very close-mouthed. Edmund Dwight, the treasurer pro tem of the Atlantic mills, said that it was impossible to state the nature or amount involved and he did not know whether or not Gray had met with financial embarrassment of a private nature. Dwight asserted that the credit of the Atlantic mills would not be impaired in the least.
