" A PYRAMID OF MEXICO.-A recent writer tells us a marvellous tale of an immense pyramid and remarkable cliff dwellings a few miles south of Magdalena, Mexico, in the State of Sonora. The statements may be, and probably are, correct, as it is said that these remains of an ancient race have attracted a good deal of attention. Among the ruins is one pyramid alone with a base of 4,320 feet square, and an elevation of 750 feet. It has a winding roadway, leading by an easy grade, from bottom to top, wide enough for carriages. This is several miles long. In the sides of this pyramid as one ascends he passes hundreds of chambers, cut in the solid rock, with walls, floor, and ceiling hewn with a precision truly remarkable. These chambers vary in size from five to ten, sixteen and even eighteen feet square. There are no windows, and but one entrance, which is always from the top. The height of the ceiling usually is eight feet. The walls are covered with hieroglyphics, and figures of men and animals. In beings are found cut in the rock. The total annual consumption of tea, it is now estimated, is 3,000,000,000 pounds; of coffee, 1,000,000,000 pounds; cocoa and chocolate 1,000. 000,000 pounds. Tea is the favorite drink of Russia, Holland and England, the last country annually importing 100,000,000 pounds, or several pounds to each man, woman and child.

There has been such lack of water in some portions of New South Wales that, during the past three years, fifteen million sheep have died. There now seems to be some hope for a return of rain, as the natives are reported to be moving to higher ground, and the white ants are said to have commenced building their curious elevated dwellings, which serve them as places of refuge during wet weater. These two indications are referred to by Australian journals as unfailing evidence of a probable change in the weather.

The little prayer-book which Mary of Scotland used on the scaffold was sold at auction in London the other day. The prayers are the handiwork of some rare fifteenth-century scribe ; they are written in Latin on vellum. The pages of the missal are exquisitely illuminated with elegant borders of fruit, flowers and birds ; they are also decorated with thirty-five minatures by a Flemish artist, pieces of elaborate workman-ship. The little book still rests in the original oak boards, covered with silk now much worn, in which it was originally bound.

The Railroad Gazette cites one of the longest times in which fire has been kept in a furnace without the addition of fuel. A furnace belonging to the Kemble Iron and Coal Company, at Riddlesburg, Penn., was banked up and hermetically sealed in November, 1884, fire being left in. On March 5 1886, the furnace was opened, after being closed for nearly six months. The fire was found to be still burning, the coke glowing brightly, and, on the admission of air, soon became hot enough to melt cinder. It was started as easily as if it had been standing but a week.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 22nd, 1881. Messrs, T. B. Barker & Sons:

Gentlemen,-Having had occasion to use Fellows' Leeming's Essence at different times, I have to state that it is, without exception, the best remedy that I know of for Splints, Ringbone, Bone Spavin, and Machine, in first-class running order, as good as new; will sell or less than twothe different ailments of the horse for which it is prescribed. Horsemen every-where should try it, and having once tried it, don't think they would run a stable without it. The cost of the preparation is a small item compared with the benefit that is derived from its use.

The most serious outcome of modern social life is the prevalance of Dyspepsia and Indigestion.
