10000

のという人の

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCER.

Our Serial.

MURIEL'S KEY-NOTE. BY AGNES GIBERNE. CHAPTER XIII. SISTERS.

Coming out from the gas-heated drawing-room, the cold air struck keen. Lilias shivered, and had a blue look, as she stepped from the carriage, at the Manor door, with nothing or her head, and only a short loose cloak over her shoulders. Snow was falling still.

It fell a good part of the night, and the world looked wintry in the morning. Lilacs bent their pretty heads beneath an embarrassing mantle, and young green leaves peeped out in strange contrast with the snow which laded every bush.

That could not last. The wind swept round to the south, and before midday the sun shone out from an azure sky. Thereupon began the white . robe speedily to weep itself away. Little streams trickled in all directions, and each twig had its droppings, while the roads soon lay deep under a slushy compound. Spring came back in full force that day.

But the change was some hours too late for Lilias. She had taken a severe chill, and for the next two weeks lived a purely invalid existence. Muriel was anxious at heart, and longed to break through the ice-barrier which divided her sister from herself. Lilias' manner never thawed. Possibly Muriel's efforts to show her kindness were not even remarked. Also Mrs. Bertram rarely left Lilias, night or day, and when she was near Muriel did not Muriel was tempted to give up. She you would like ?" began arranging the coverlet over her " Anywhere."

"Don't move that, please. Mamma always puts it right. Thoroughly checked, Muriel moved away. She stood looking sorrowfully into the fire, thinking how hard this sister's feet.

was to bear, when her heart was so filled with a new compassionate tenderness for poor Lilias. She scarcely knew that two or three large tears had dropped, glittering in the fire-light, and soiling the bright fender. But happening to turn round, she found

Lilias' eyes watching her earnestly. "Muriel, what are you crying about ?"

"Nothing. I mean, it does not signify. Only at my own thoughts, I | said hastily suppose." "You are always thinking about ing to me. There is no need. should not like it to stop." Sybel, I believe.

"O no-I was thinking about you. Lilias started and whitened, and little plan went on undiscovered for about a month, till Lilias was so far looked strangely at her sister.

"About me !" she said. "Why in more among the family circle in the the world should you cry about me? evening. She looked very delicate Muriel was silent, hardly knowing still, but the warmer weather suited what to say. She did not like to seem her, and people counted her well to accuse Lilias of unkindness. A thenceforward. The household mind certain different sense in which Lilias was a good deal occupied with the might take her words, did not occur to quickly-expected arrival from India.

"People do foolish things some times," she said quietly, and then she stooped to give Lilias a kiss.

her.

Lily received it passively, and said no more. That was all that passed between them at the time. But the next day Mrs. Betram asked in a dis pleased tone of her eldest daughter.

"Muriel, have you been talking any nonsense to Lilias about her health? " No, mamma."

"I think you must. Nobody else ould do such a thing."

prise. "Is there any particular part

Muriel chose the second chapter of Mark, and read earnestly, throwing much expression into her voice, but making no comment. At the end, It is not numbers, but graces, that tell. Lilias merely said, "Thank you," and dropped asleep-something unusual, since she was greatly troubled with wakefulness. From that day the short reading became a regular custom. Muriel never exceeded a short portion, and Lilias showed no signs of fatigue. She listened always with the same impassive quiteness ; but one day Muriel had a glimpse of a tear upon her cheek, and port while travelling in a foreign when the chapter was ended, Lilias

" Don't tell mamma about your read-

With that Muriel was content. The recovered as to take her place once you are." Taking the pencil, the artist, with few strokes, sketched a group of peasants, who happened to be standing by, with such inimitable skill that the official said : "Yes, no doubt of it ; you > must be Dore." We profess to be true Christiansliving epistles, "Write your name." says the world, " and let us see if you are." No bungling handwriting of selfishness and half-heartedness will answer; no cramped autograph, in which you have tried to spell "Christian," but have really spelt "world," will do. It must be a plain, legible, open hand, or it won't be recognized. -The Rev. Dr. J. A. Gordon.

+ +++++++ WHAT THE BIBLE IS LIKE.

ies: but there is a fragrance of spir 1. It is like a large, beautiful tree, ual life, an aroma of grace, which wil which bears fruit for those that are be wanting, and it is just this inde hungry, and affords shelter and shade

HAVING YOUR CONVERSATION

SEEMLY AMONG THE GENTILES.

(1 Pet. ii. 12, R. V.)

The Christian character is something that you can no more counterfeit than you can counterfeit a rose. You can indeed make wax roses which have the true form and color, but you cannot endue them with the genuine fragrance.

And you can make artificial Christians

by means of sacraments and ceremon-

the neglected masses, if at all, by the power of gravitation, by the solid attraction of goodness and purity and unworldliness. O, how we are moved to plead for sincerity and whole-heartedness as we touch upon this point ar Seed Warehouses, the largest in An ounce of sincerity weighs more v York, are fitted up with every apthan a pound of profession. And that inco for the prompt and careful ing of orders. sincerity cannot be counterfeited, cap-Our Catalogue for 1886, of 140 pages, containing colored plates, descriptions and illustrations of the NEWEST, BEST and RAREST SEEDS and PLANTS, will be mailed on receipt of not be put on. It must be part of our G cis. (in stamps) to cover postage real spiritual fibre, or it does not exist. This is what the apostle meant when he said: "Ye are our epistle, known and read of all men." And this epistle 1886 cannot be easily counterfeited. Dore, the famous painter, once lost his pass-GREGORYS country. When the official demanded it he said : "I am sorry to say that ! have lost my passport. I can only tell you that I am Dore the artist." "Ah !" responded the officer, sneeringly ; " we'll see very quickly whether you are Dore;" and, handing him pencil and paper, he said, "Prove it, if

> NO THE Complete Novels and Other Works, by Famous Authors, Almost Given Away. The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. They treat of a great variety of subjects, and we think no one can ex-amine the list without finding therein many that he or she would like to possess... In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself. 1. The Widow Bedott Papers. This is the book over which your grandmothers laughed till they cried, and over which your grand

1886

2. Fancy Work for Home Adornment, an entirely new work upon this subject, containing easy and practical instructions for making fancy baskets, wall pookets, brackets, needle work, embroidery, etc., etc., pro-fusely and elegantly illustrated. usely and elegantly illustrated. 3. Grimm's Fairy Stories for the Young. The mest collection of fairy stories ever published. The child-The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott.
"The Lady of the Lake." By Sir Walter Scott.
"The Lady of the Lake." is a romance in verse, and of all the works of Scott none is more beautiful than this.
A Manual of Etiquette for Ladies and Gentlemen, a guide to politeness and good breeding, giving the rules of such as a dispetition of all the second sec

6. The Standard Letter Writer for Ladies and

SEED

CATALOGUE

MARVELOUS PRICES

large !

Gentlemen, a complete guide to correspondence, giving plain directions for the composition of letters of every kind, with innumerable forms and examples. 7. Winter Evening Recreations, a large collection of Acting Charades, Tableaux, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, private theatricals, and evenings at home. Unstructed

8. Dialogues, Recitations and Readings, a large and choice collection for school exhibitions

9. Parlor Magic and Chemical Experiments, a book which tells how to perform hundreds of amusing tricks in magic and instructive experiments with simple March 31, 1886.

Jersey City is the most extensive in America. Annual Sales, 21/2 Million

& 37 Cortlandt St.,

NEW YORK. .

Our Green-house

Believing that if a man has dealt squarely with his fellow men his patrons are his best advertisers, I invite allo make inquiry of the character of my seeds among over, million of Farmers, Gardeners and Planters who have used them during the past thirty years. Raising a large portion of the seed sold, (few seedsmen raise th seed they sell) I was the first seedsman in the Unit

SUN LIFE

Assurance Co..

OF CANADA.

INCONDITIONAL INCONTESTA

BLE LIFE POLICIES

Assets about $1,300,000

may take advantage of some of the numerous and complicated conditions on the policies, and thus either avoid entirely

the payment of claims, or compromise

is considerable force in this argument, with the widow for a small sum. There but it cannot be urged indiscriminately

THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE

COMPANY OF CANADA, issues abso-

utely unconditional policies. There is not one restriction of any kind on them.

The assured may reside in any part of the world without giving notice or paying one cent of extra premium. He may change his occupation at will; he may gainst all Companies.

HE objection is very often made to

Life Assurance that the Companies

States to warrant (as per catalogue) their purity and freshness My new Vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogue for 1886 will b sent FREE to all who write for it. Among an immense variety my friends will find in it (and in none other) a new drumhead Cat bage, just about as early as Henderson's, but nearly twice as large ! James J. H. Gregory, Marblehead, Mass.

Peter Hendersonics

CALL T The good ma

The little He says. " So, mother

March 31

T

The mother's "Come, N Come, deare "Tis time y

"Yes, moth They cry i And so she l Before the

> But as the f And on lif The children And wand

Will each on Will each: Before sin's O mother

A mother's Who can And still its When Go -Ad

"Come, post office Mr. Wath his fourtee

> Two lit don't wan

> "Now, the father news. Y " I sho till Uncle get the fully. " Perh to-day; a Mr. Wat in his vo " Well

Nell decla

the hami

reluctant

house for

later, rea

Dr. New

on her in

smile :

Nell?

you a rie

had hear

her fatl

horse wa

the chai

side the

spite of

Dr. Ne

tertain

beloved

and girl

to ride

said gr

story to

gray ho

down t

thirteen

coming lads of

we had

ming in house t

was jus

and mu

to hav

The sc

miles f

skirts (

father

ing a b

wish y

the vi

hesital

" I'

and m

and ra

not be

if I di

a good

word-

think

I sai

mind,

other

· Than

sorry sure. myse very "]

that me s the j ing a arm, son. boy

agai hous stan ing

> tear fath he r you. 66 I've year last to n good

66 F

66 6

"S

" W

" W

"On

After

Soon

Half

When

was sittin an interes the young poutingly, venture to intrude. There was a touch of jealousy in Mrs. Bertram's engrossing love for this younger child.

In the other matter, concerning Cramer Ray, Muriel went through a good many tossings. She strove to put it aside, as a thing done with, yet he was never out of her mind. She felt by no means sure in her heart that he could have satisfied her present self, yet to forget him was impossible. Now she wished she had given him a word of stronger encouragement. Then she had a fit of indignant contempt for his tickleness, which of course helped her greatly. There were times when she disbelieved the whole tale. There were other times when she believed, and was almost thankful, feeling that it might indeed be for the best. There were yet again times when her loss cime over her, with a power equally heart-breaking, whether its source were real or partly imaginery, and she sobbed or paced her room by the hour together. Altogether, though few could have guessed it, Muriel suffered a good deal.

The Rokebys made no mention of their late visitor. Before Muriel's next visit Claverton gossip had informed them as to the state of affairs, and they carefully avoided all allusion to him in her presence. Muriel heard the fact of his having stayed at the Cottage, and sometimes wondered whether they could have confirmed or denied the tale she had heard. Ask. she could not, however.

Something bright came one day in the shape of a letter from Chesney Rivers, telling of his proposed speedy return to England, with his wife. Even Lilias brightened up, and was pleased.

"Uncle Chesney does not write indepressed spirits, seemingly," Muriel remarked.

ant," said Mrs. Bertram. "Lily, you must get up your good looks before then."

"I shall be well long before they come-though I don't believe Dr. Feters understands me in the least."

"Don't you think so?" He is such a clever man.

" If he had any sense he might get rid of this stupid little cough for me. Doctors never seem to hit upon just gestion.

"I ask her how she feels sometimes."

"That is not all. Last night she was crying quite violently in bed. She would give me no reason, except all agencies for winning men to God. that she was tired of being so long ill, and wanted to know when the doctor said she would be well. It is only two or three weeks, and I told her so, for I could not think what the poor darling meant; but she kept saying that she had been ill much longer than that, and that she knew people thought her so. I could only suppose that you had been putting depressing notions into her head.'

" No, indeed, mamma-certainly not, knowing it. And you don't te me much about Dr. Peters' visits, so I could not tell her what he says, even f I wished.'

"Dr. Peters is always inclined to croak. I would have down a London doctor to-morrow, if I did not think it would make her nervous.'

"Would it not be better to risk that? Mamma, is there any real anxiety ?"

"Anxiety ! Of course not. A mere cold, giving way steadily. But how you can suggest such an idea, and in that cool tone too ! I always knew you never did really care for your poor sister.

Mrs. Bertram went away in tears, and Muriel began to think she had almost better never speak at all. Everything she said and did seemed to be wrong. It did not strike her that her mother's irritability perhaps arose from a smothered fear. A day or two later Lilias said care lessly

" Mamma, you never get your dinner in peace. Couldn't Muriel sometimes stay with me part of the time I should be all right with her for half. "He was always wonderfully buoy- an-hour, if she does not mind."

Muriel smiled full assent. " My dear, I don't care for anything except your comfort." "But Arthur says grandpapa is angry at your getting up and down so often.

"I could have my dinner afterwards," said Muriel.

"Muriel is no nurse," said Mrs. Bertram, not quite pleased at the sug-finable something which we call spirit for the pilgrims on their way to the ual influence, that is most efficient of kingdom of heaven. 2. It is like a cabinet of jewels and You will constantly meet Christians precious stones, which are not only to who know little of theology, and less be looked at and admired, but used of science, who nevertheless have an and worn. excellent flavor about their speech 3. It is like a telescope, which brings their conversation leaves a good taste distant objects and far-off things of the in the mouth when you talk with them. world very near, so that we can see "I am the vine, ye are the branches," something of their beauty and importsays Christ; and you feel at once that ance. these are the pure fruit of the vine-4. It is like a treasure-house, storeno adulteration, no artificial mixture house of all sorts of valuable and useof real and pretended. Their influence ful things, and which are to be had is genuine and unconscious. Therewithout money and without price. fore when the world throws out its 5. It is like a deep, broad, calm, flowchallenge, "Show me a Christian !" ing river, the banks of which are green we have no need to stand up and take and flowery; where birds sing and off the hat and say, "Here is one." lambs play, and dear little children are It will go without saying if we really loving and happy. are so. Men will take knowledge of

is fired from yonder fort you will see the flash before you hear the report.

And so a real Christian generally impresses you with his influence before he does with his speech. We say this because of our desire that, as Christians, we should present the strongest and most permanent influence possible in the world. And this influence will depend on the amount of sincere, substantial, self-denying Christian life that

When some one spoke to Dr. Chalmers about the magnetism of a certain preacher he replied : "Yes, but gravitation is better than magnetism." That is true ; for the force of gravitation depends on the weight of the body attracting, and is therefore a steady and enduring influence. The magnetism will fail when the preacher becomes rusty or demagnetized through old age, and will cease to draw. But gravitation never fails; for it is founded on weight of character, and character remains in spite of age and failing powers of mind and body. We talk about is found in ug.

My dear, dear children, because [us that we have been with Jesus if we love you, I want you to love the really have been with him. "Ye are Bible. If you attend to it it will make the light of the world," says Christ; you, through God's blessing, wise, and a light does not need any one to rich and happy forever and ever. It is go before it, to sound a trumpet, say-God's book. It is the best book. It ing, "Behold my shining !" It will is a book for children. I hope you manifest itself readily enough. Light will learn it, and learn to sing, too, travels faster than sound. If a cannon know what results are depending upon you'; what interests of the Church and of a dying world are involved in your future character and efforts. When I look at the young Christians of this age, and reflect that they are soon to sustain the ancient glories of the Church of God-when I look abroad on the earth and see the crisis is at hand-when I listen to the cries that come from every quarter of the world, summoning the people of God to new effort and more splendid exhibitions of piety-I seem to see the very generations that are passed rising travel, hunt or do anything else without agents. 10. The Home Cook Book and Family Physiclan, containing hundreds of excellent cooking recipes and hints to housekeepers, also telling how to cure all comand aliments by simple home remedy. 11. Manners and Customs in Far Away Lands, ing the peculiar into interior, interiors, and the barriers people of foreign countries; illustrated. 12. Sixteen Complete Stories by Popular Authors, embracing love, humorous and detective stories, stories of society life, of adventure, of railway life, etc., all very in-nd jokes that have been written for some years; illus'ted. 14. Useful Knowledge for the Million, a handy book of useful information for all, upon many and various 15. Called Back. A Novel, By Hugh Conway, author of "Dark Days," etc. 16. At the World's Merey. A Novef. By Florence Warden, author of "The House on the Marsh," etc. 17. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duch-17. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duch-

> " Holy Bible, book divine, Precious treasure, thou art mine.'

19. The Mystery of the Holly Tree. A Novel.

icon, author of "Bread-and-Cheese-and-Kisses," etc. 21. The Gray Woraan. A Novel. By Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Mary Barton," etc.

22. The Frozen Deep. A Novel. By Wilkle Collins, tathor of "The Woman in White," etc.
23. Red Court Farm. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "Fast Lynne," etc.
24. In Cupid's Net. A Novel. By the Author of "Dora " ay, author of "Hidden Perils," etc. 26. John Bowerbank's Wife. A Novel. By Miss 27. Lady Gwendoline's Dream. A Novel. By the 28. Jaaper Done's Secret. A Novel. By Miss M. E.

Brenda, Yorke," etc. 20. Gabricl's Marriage. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, 31. David Hunt. A Novel. By Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, ther of "Fashion and Famine," etc. 32. Reaping the Whirlwind. A Novel. By Mary ecil Hay, author of "Old Middleton's Money," etc. 33. Dudley Carleon. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Brad-on, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," etc.

36. Valerie's Fate. A Novel. By Mrs. Alexander,

We will send any four of these books and on ontaining prices of all leading papers and books for 12 ets. a stamps. Any 8 books 20 cts, the whole 40 for 61.00. end P. O. Note. Registered Letter, or Moner Order. in stamps Send P. O. Note. Registered Letter. or Money Order, and address at once FRANKLIN NEWS 00., Phila., Pa-

We give as full and thorough a course of study as any Business College in Canada or the United States.

Students do just such work as, will be equired of them when they enter a merchant's or accountant's office, preceded and accompanied by such training as will fit them to do that work intelligently and well

Circulars, containing terms, course of study, &c., mailed free, Kerr's Book-Keeping mailed to any address on receipt of $1. Students can enter at any time. Evening Classes re-open on MONDAY,

Ост. 12. 10 Per Cent. Discount will be allowed those who enter for full Evening Term (6 months.)

any extra of any kind. The contrast is remarkable with other policies. Ask an Agent to show you one; it peaks for itself.

REMEMBER THE SUN IS THE ONLY COMPANY IN AMERICA WHICH ISSUES AN ABSOLUTELY UNCONDITIONAL POLICY.

If You Want the simplest and best form of investment policy which is issued by any company.

If You Want Term Assurance at the lowest possible rate, with an investment for your savings at compound interest. If You Want Cheap Life Assurance while your children are young, and an endowment to yourself when they are grown up

If You Want acccumulation of Tontine profits without the risk of losing all you have paid by missing any payment,

You Want Assurance with an unconditional policy which is sure to be paid without delay or trouble

Then You Want a Non-Forfeiting "Semi-Endowment" Policy in the SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

If you want to take an ACCIDENT policy, remember the SUN LIFE ACCIDENT ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

Remember THE SUN is the only Company in America which ssues unconditional policy

"SUN" ACCIDENT POLICIES. They are the most liberal in existence, having days of grace and other privileges which are given by no other company.

DIRECTORS.

THOS. WORKMAN, Esq., PRESIDENT. A. F. GAULT, Esq, VICE-PRESIDENT. Hon. A. W. Ogilvie.

A. F. Gault, Esq. J. S. McLachlan, Esq.

S. H. Ewing, Esq. D. Morrice, Esq.

E. J. Barbeau, Esq. W. J. Whitehall, Esq. R. MACAULAY, MANAGING DIRECTOR.

Risks taken also in the Glasgow and London Fire Insurance Company of Great Britain B. GUNTER, GENERAL AGENT for above Companies, Fredericton. june 17-tf

McMurray & Co.

BOOKSELLERS. STATIONERS.

AND DEALERS IN

PIANOS, ORGANS AND SEWING

MACHINES. We handle only first-class Instruments.

which we sell at very low prices and on easy terms. WE EMPLOY NO AGENTS, but give the large commission paid agents to the buyer.

Call and see our Stock, or write for Prices and Terms.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF ORGANS Having furnished over twenty churches in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia with Organs, for which we make a special dis-. count both to the church and clergyman.

TO YOUNG CHRISTIANS. More than fifty years ago the late Dr. Bacon closed a sermon to young Christians with the following appeal the spirit of which was grandly illustrated in his after life:

"Would to God I could make you that beautiful hymn -Well-Spring.

a very interesting and instruction in the peculiar life, habits, my

13. The Budget, of Wit, Humor and Fun, a large is," author of "Molly Bawn," etc. 18. Dark Days. A Novel. By Hugh Conway, author

20. Shadows on the Snow. A Novel. By B. L. Far-

25. Back to the Old Home. A Novel. By Mary Cecil raddon, author of "Aurora Floyd," etc. 29. Leoline. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of

84. Esslea; or THE MYSTERY OF THE HEADLANDS. A Sovel. By Etta W. Pierce, author of "The Birth Mark." etc. 25. A Golden Dawn. A Novel. By the author of

athor of "The Wooing O't," etc. 37. Sister Rose. A Novel. By Wilkle Collins, author "The Woman in White," etc. 38. Anne. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of

The Laurel Bush. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, uthor of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
 Amos Barten. A Novel. By George Eliot, author f "Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," etc.

OUR UNEQUALED OFFER!

Doctors never seem to hit upon just the medicines that I need." "Shall we have a doctor down from	gestion. "I don't need nursing, and she could call you any moment. Promise me to	what some unpopular preachers have	up from their repose to watch over the young followers of Christ; I scem to hear the voices of blessed spirits from	(6 months.) NO VACATIONS. S. KERR, Prin.	Any person in want of any of the above Goods, will find it to their advantage to write us for prices, terms, etc.
London ?" "O no; I shall get all right without that. Only patience is wanted." "Yes, you are better this afternoon, Lily." "I wish I felt so."		Church, fifty years ago; Dr. Beecher, at the North End of Boston; Dr. Payson, in Portland. These men were hated and derided, caricatured in the public prints, ridiculed in street-songs. But there was a great weight of genu-	above cheering them on in the career of piety, 1 seem to see a world of misery turning its imploring hands to	ROBERTSON	MCMURRAY & CO. P. S.—Reference, by permission, to the Editor of this Paper, who has two of our Organs in his Church. McM. & Co. FREDERICTON. mar10 1y
Muriel scarcely caught the words, and Mrs. Bertram heard them not at all. A visitor having just come, she was summoned to another sitting-room. An impulse came over Muriel to turn to good account this rare opportunity. She was seldom alone with Lilias.	almost silent watching through her half-hour, she ventured to say : "Lily, I sometimes fancy you would like me to read a few verses out of my Pocket-Testament while I am here." Lilias lay silently, her white face pressed into the pillow.	ine character behind their words, which gave their ministry a permanent influence, so that, being dead, they yet speak. But we are not talking now about ministers especially, but about Chris- tians. You want to know how you	tiny; I seem to hear, I do hear, God himself speaking from the heavens, "Ye have chosen the better part ; be faithful unto death, and I will give you crowns of life." RANDOM READINGS.		FOR SALE. 3,000 SACKS, SUITABLE FOR handling Grain. Low priced. P. NASE & SON, Indiantown, St. John,
Leaning over the sofa-back she said gently: "Don't you feel so well to-day, Lily?" "Why? What do you mean?" asked Lilias stiffly.	thoughts to go to sleep upon. Rose	seemly among the Gentiles." Give us eight hundred Christians, everyone of whom is unselfish, devoted, tender-	It is a small thing to be wronged; but a horrible thing to be wrong. Our beloved must be his own mirror. None but Jesus can reveal Jesus.—	Blue, Dark Olive, Florentine Gold, Dark Gold, Venetian Red, Light Blue, Crimson, Sapphire, Paon and Black. FOR DRESS COMBINATION	TEAS. TEAS. 125 PACKAGES, ex "York City," makes a full assortment of unexcelled values. GILBERT BENT & SONS. f24
"I heard what you said just now." "It was not meant for you, then." "Would you not care for me to read to you sometimes ?" "No, thanks. Mamma does it."	it the first night," was the unexpected answer. "I wish I had. It came into my head, but I suppose I was a coward,"	cere, and they will prove the strongest attraction which can possibly be set up. Gravitation is better than mag-	An earnest Christian is always pecu- liar and half incomprehensible to the world. He has something which they have not, and which they do not know	both Woollen and Silk Fabrics. N. BWe shall from this date be in weekly receipt of Novelties and New	N ^{OW} Receiving and Due :-2 Cars OATMEAL; 1 Car CORN MEAL; 2 Cars BEANS; 400 Tubs LARD; 100 Tubs BUTTER. GILBERT BENT & SONS, jan27 South Market Wharf,