-Pastor Schneller, who for more than twenty-five years has been at the head of the Syrian Orphan's Home in Jerusalem, reports that during the season just closed there have been more tourists and pilgrims in Jerusalem than in any single year in his Miss Blanch Kelly....... 1 00 life in the holy city. There were Church at Tracey Mills per W I life in the holy city. There were nearly 30,000 pilgrims. Russia is erecting a tower on Mt. Olivet, a hundred meters high. It will be the highest building in the East.

-Portugal, like Spain, is Roman Catholic, but it is not entirely barred to Gospel influences. In Lisbon, four evangelists are laboring under the leadership of Canon Pope, of the Episcopal Church. The Scotch Kirk has in Senor Carvalho an active agent in the capital and neighborhood. The McKenzie. Methodist evangelist, Ventura, has his headquarters at Oporto. A correspondent from Libson writes: What we need most are native evangelists C. T. Phillips. and preachers.

-Letters from Savage Island, South Sea, speak of the annual missionary meeting, in which subscriptions amounting to $1,531 were reported as having been given for a new yacht to be employed in the mission work in New Guinea. One man who had recently gied had laid aside $4 as his offering. Another on his dying bed tied up two florins in a piece of native cloth. The wife of a teacher who had recently died sent $5 as a widow's gift for the New Guinea boat. Her sister, who had died a fortnight later, had earned $3 in picking cotton, which she left as her offering, and a boy engaged in the guano work brought a dollar.

Temperance Notes.

-Mrs. Lewis of Blackburn says that in one of the largest of the London workhouse there is not one out-andout teetotaler.

-The claim that the use of beer will diminish drunkeness and largely take the place of spirits is not borne out by Parliamentary report in Belgium. This report says intemperance is spreading fearfully in the kingdom. Next to Bavaria, Belgium has the reputation of being the country where most beer is consumed. -The temperance law, recently enacted in Michigan, provides, in its local option clause, that when onefifth of the legal voters in any county shall petition the supervisors that a vote may be taken on the question of prohibition, it shall be the duty of supervisors within ten days thereafter to hold an election for this purpose, and that if a majority of the legal voters shall vote for prohibition, then no intoxicating liquors shall thereafter be sold within the limits of the county, except for the purposes expressly stated. Such an election may be held once in every three years. In any county in which prohibition is adopted the tax law and the regulation law of the state in respect to the sale of intoxicating liquors are suspended, while remaining in force elsewhere. This gives to the people of each county the power to determine for themselves whether intoxicating liquors shall be sold therein or not; and if they determine that these liquors shall not be sold, then they will undoubtedly see to it that prohibition is enforced that too a very effective one, of attack- our differences once. power. - Independent.

A Warning and a Benediction.

We can hardly conceive says the In dependent of anything more utterly absurd and silly than the protest of Boston Irishmen against the use of Faneuil Hall for a dinner in honor of the Queen of England. This is a land of liberty, and Englishmen, or Americans either, have as good a right, at least, to show their good will to the Queen as Irishmen have to show their ill will. The Queen is a respectable, good, decent woman, one who has set an eminently good example to her people, and whose domestic virtues are a credit to her. There is nothing specially remarkable about her, and in some of her official relations she is open to criticism; but it is a great thing to have occupied her place so creditably for so long a time. Her gray hairs are a crown of honor, under any religious teaching.

But in honoring her, we honor the people of Great Britain and Ireland, if you please. We would have our Irish friends know that we are not foes to England. We understand perfectly well that England has not treated Ireland right, and as between the two, in the political question now before us, Miss Alberta Best, both of Springfield, we are for Ireland all the time. But | K. Co. we love England, with all her faults quite as much as we do Ireland. If Ireland in America sets out to interfere with our liberty, or the liberty of Englishmen, to hold a rejoicing in honor of Britain's Queen, we shall certainly resent it. We have been so earnest, lately, to help Ireland to Home Rule

THE CONQUEST OF MISSIONS. - First Revs. G. A. Hartley, J. E. Reud, J. G. came India, the land of the Vedas, now consolidated under the British SEVENTH DISTRICT MEETING to be rule, and numbering with its dependencies 3,000,000,000 people. Then followed China, whose goings forth in ancient times were from the land of Shinar, itself, with its 4,000,000,000. And next Japan, youngest and sprightliest of them all, 35,000,000. And finally Congo. Livingstone went in to explore, and he invested his life for a regenerated Africa. When he was gone, God, who had girded Cyrus of old, raised up another to complete his work. Into the heart of the Dark Continent plunged Stanley "Africanus." When he came out, it was to declare the fact that 40,000,000 more were to confront the Christian Church. 210 Kegs Brandram Brothers' White Lead And now what do missions propose to do? Nothing less than the conquests or all these great peoples for Christ. The aim of the work is to dethrone the powerful systems of heatbenism, and exalt Christianity instead; to put an end to the supremacy of Confucianism and Buddism and Brahminism and Shintoism and Tanism, so that Christ alone may be exalted in that day.
