

April 13, 1887.

and went for medical aid, but all to no avail, she died the next day between one and two o'clock in the afternoon, without a struggle or a sigh. Thus passed away, at the age of fifty-five years, five months and nineteen days, one of the very best of wives and one of the most affectionate of mothers, leaving a fond and heart-broken husband, one son, two daughters and one brother and one sister out of a family of thirteen to mourn their inseparable loss. I could truly say with Job, "Have pity upon me O my friends for the hand of God hath touched me." Her funeral took place at the Lower Brighton meeting house the following Sunday, when Elder Perry preached a most excellent sermon from the words, "That by no immutable things in which it was impossible for God to lie we might have strong consolation who have fled for refuge to the hope set before us." Elders Connor, Colpitts and Turner also attended and took part in the services. There was a large concourse of friends in attendance who sympathized with me in very deed. I can never forget the unbounded kindness of friends to my dear wife while she lived, and their attention after she was dead. My wife professed religion about thirty years ago in a revival in Lower Brighton and was baptized and united with the church there. Just before her death she penned a letter to her daughter in which referring to the death of her sister who she believed had reached the shining shore, she expressed herself in the words of the poet:

O how sweet it will be in that beautiful land,
So free from all sorrow and pain,
With songs on our lips and with harps in our hands
To meet one another again.
It is remarkable that in less than two months three sisters have died.

GEORGE STICKNEY.

PERPETUAL CALENDAR.—Mr. Geo. W. McCready of Moncton is the inventor of a perpetual Calendar, which, it is claimed, can always be relied on as an infallible time-reckoner. It answers for all centuries, from the year 1 of the current era to the present time, I will meet the requirements of centuries to come. It has been submitted to distinguished chronologists, and has received their hearty commendation. Mr. McCready supplies them at 20cts each, or six for $1.00.

New Ads.—The Spring announcements of our advertisers are worth reading.

THE LEGISLATURE TO THE QUEEN.—The N. B. Legislature just before closing adopted the following address: "To the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty—"

"MOST GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN: We, your majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the house of assembly of the province of New Brunswick, Dominion of Canada, in parliament assembled, desire in our own names, and on behalf of the people we represent, to assure your majesty of our devotion and affection for your majesty's person and throne."

"We most sincerely and heartily congratulate your majesty upon attaining the jubilee year of your majesty's reign."

"During your majesty's rule the social and material progress of mankind, the great advance in scientific discovery, the development of those industrial pursuits so promotive of human happiness, the extension of popular rights and freedom of government, and the progress of colonial development, have, in a marked degree, surpassed any former period in history, and in these blessings we have largely shared."

"We devoutly pray that a kind Providence may long spare your majesty to rule over a united, contented and happy people."

OF MINISTERS.—Rev. J. A. McLean, pastor, Baptist Church in Hantsport, N. S. died on the 3rd inst. He had been in failing health for some time. He was 47 years old. Rev. D. G. McDonald has received a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at St. Martins. Rev. J. H. Coy has just received a donation of $65.00 from friends at Upper Keswick.

MIXED.—At Hagarstown, Md., recently, at a baptismal service of the United Brethren, eleven candidates knelt on the banks of the stream and water was sprinkled on them, water was poured on three who knelt in the stream, and six were immersed.

This statement is made with apparent approval, and is intended, probably, to show the great liberality of the administration of the ordinance and the wonderful union of the people who hold such diverse views. Would not it have been better to simply follow the New Testament teaching with all of them?

FOOD FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is a most marvellous food and medicine. It heals the irritation of the throat and lungs, and gives flesh and strength quicker than any other remedy known. It is very palatable, having none of the disagreeable taste of the crude oil. Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

Attention is directed to the advertisement "Salesmen Wanted." Messrs. Stone and Wellington do a very large business.

ALL SORTS.

There are nearly a million more females than males in England and Wales.

A gross of steel pens can now be produced for eight cents. They formerly cost $35.

A Russian claims to have discovered a process for reducing petroleum to crystals for transportation, to be easily reconverted into liquid form.

Rev. Dr. Lewis, a Catholic priest of Toledo, Ohio, has just matriculated at the Ann Arbor University, in the junior law class. He is sixty-five years old.

A line was let down into an extinct crater at Molokai, Sandwich Islands, a distance of 3,500 feet, without reaching bottom.

There are said to be more than 42,000 Jews in Palestine, about the same number as returned from the captivity in Babylon, and more than at any period since the time of Christ.

A report comes from a Southern town that a colored clergyman of the place recently prayed that the indelicacy might be made delicate, the intemperance temperate, and the industrious dastardly. —The Sun.

More than 8,000,000 umbrellas were manufactured in this country last year. We don't ask what has become of this vast number, but we would like to know where three of them went to.

The report comes from Kentucky that a farmer in Madison Co. has trained seven large monkeys to break and prepare hemp for market, and that others are to be introduced into the neighborhood. Look out for a boycott there!

Somebody estimated that every man who lives to be sixty years old, has spent seven months buttoning his shirt-collar. Thirty years more ought to be added for hunting up the collar button.

A vessel with a cargo of forty-four ostriches arrived recently at Galveston, Tex. This is the second cargo within twelve months. The birds are for ostrich farms in California, where this peculiar industry is coming into favor. The birds came from Natal, South Africa.

'George,' asked the teacher of a Sunday-school class, 'who, above all others, shall you wish to see when you get to heaven?' With a face brightening up with anticipation, the little fellow shouted 'Gerliah.'

In the Sandwich Islands all children between the ages of six and fifteen are obliged to attend school. An inspector-general is at the head of the school department, but no clergyman is eligible to fill the office.

A German engineer, named Henkels, has invented a ventilating window-pane which admits fresh air while preventing a draught. Each square metre of glass contains 5,000 holes which are of a conical shape, widening toward the inside. The new device has already been adopted by many of the German hospitals.

Miss Julia A. Malcolm, a teacher in New Haven, has made a strike. Ten years ago Thomas F. Clarke, in a joking way, made her a present of a deed of certain lands in Colorado, which, at the time, were considered worthless by the owner. Miss Malcolm accepted it in the same spirit. Since then a lead mine of great richness has been discovered, and a syndicate offers $250,000 for it. She has decided to resign her position as teacher.

When railroad trains are run, heated and lighted by electricity, we shall have no wrecks from boiler explosions, no smoke and cinder nuisance, no setting of the country on fire from sparks, no burning to death of passengers from coal stoves and oil lamps. Then with well constructed tracks, trains may be run at the rate of 70 or 80 miles an hour in comfort and safety.

There is nothing like paper. At Vienna pipes are made of paper and designed for conveying gas and water under ground. They are rolled from sheets like firework cases, charged with asphalt during the rolling, and lined with an insoluble enamel. They are only half an inch in thickness, and yet they resist an internal pressure of 2000 pounds.

A little grammar found in an old garret in Portsmouth, N. H., has illustrations of the rules as follows: The active, passive, and neuter verbs are represented by the picture of a father whipping his little boy. The father is active, the boy is passive, and the mother sitting by herself on a stool, looking on, but doing nothing, is neuter.

A singular marriage took place in San Francisco the other day. Manville Tharp, the groom, was 79, and Mrs. Eunice Teachant, the bride, 71 years old. Fifty years ago they were neighbors and lovers in central New York. But the young man, removing to Ohio, broke his engagement, and married there; and soon afterward the girl he had jilted also married. A half century rolled around. He lost his wife, she her husband, and within a few months they renewed their old acquaintance and engagement.

Sandpaper is at present made with powdered glass instead of sand. Glass is readily pulverized by heating it red-hot and throwing it into water, and finishing the powdering in an iron mortar. By the use of sieves of different sizes of mesh, the powder can be separated into various grades, from the finest dust to very coarse; and these should be kept separate. A strong paper is tacked down and covered with a strong size of glue, and the surface covered with powdered glass of the desired fineness. When the glue is dry, the surplus glass is shaken or brushed off. Muslin is better than paper, and lasts much longer in use.

A citizen not having seen his wife for a long time, and wishing to marry again, applied to the spirits through a medium, and received the answer that she was dead. Upon this assurance he married, and now his wife appears in the flesh and brings a suit against him for bigamy.

In Italian cities the cleaning of streets is sold to the highest bidder at a public auction. The bidder puts every 400 yds. of street in charge of one man and a push cart, who is kept constantly at work from sunrise to sunset and in the long twilight. At intervals large carts go around and receive the contents of the push carts. The dirt is taken to a factory, where it is pressed into blocks of about a cubic yard in dimensions. These are placed on the market, and are sold for fertilizing purposes.

Marriages.

PERRY-TURNER.—At the residence of the bride's father, on the 24th ult., by Elder John Perry, John N. Perry and Ada P., eldest daughter of Deacon G. C. Turner, of Simonds, Carleton County.

Deaths.

CARPENTER.—At Wickham, Q. Co., on the 2nd inst. Ida E., wife of Isaac W. Carpenter.

WEBB.—At Gladstone, S. Co., March 31st, Benjamin Webb, aged 87, of apoplexy of the heart.

SMITH.—At Victoria Corner, on the 14th ult., Deacon George F. Smith, aged 58 years, leaving a sorrowing wife, three sons, two daughters, four brothers and a large circle of relatives to mourn their loss. Brother Smith was born on the Ormiston, Sunbury County; he professed religion when fifteen years of age and united with the Free Baptist Church, and was an active member the most part of his life. He died as a result of a long illness, after a long and painful struggle with the disease of cancer, which he had contracted while engaged in lumbering and store-keeping, and had just got underway when a fire destroyed his store and left him almost where he started. After feeling some discouraged he called up his energy and went to work again in earnest and soon regained his health and after a few years he removed to Jacksonton and engaged in farming, and was successful in that as in lumbering and store-keeping. When he got settled he began to look around for a religious home, and as he was a strong Free Baptist he visited Jacksonton where there had been a Free Baptist Church but from certain causes had become almost extinct, but not discouraged at that he and the late Israel Smith united in their labors of love and soon saw the cause of religion revive and the church strengthened and built up, and the old meeting-house built over new; and the church continued to prosper until divided and split up by this new doctrine. After living there a few years he sold out his farm and removed to Waterville. He united with the Third Tier Jacksonville church and was chosen one of the deacons. He subsequently moved to Victoria Corner and engaged in milling operations with J. W. Boyer. He soon united with the Free Baptist Church at Victoria Corner and was chosen one of the deacons; he always felt that the church as a whole did not come up to that standard of religious holiness that he desired, and so, when the new theory that was introduced here by Aaron Hart was presented, he honestly thought that was just what would bring the church up to her primitive state of holiness, but being a man of good sound sense and judgment, and honest in principle, after thoroughly investigating the whole matter, while believing there was some truth in their theory yet as a whole it was wrong in doctrine and worse in spirit, and so as a doctrine and worse in spirit, and so as a sincere, honest Christian he had to forsake it, believing and knowing it was a fallacy to a very great degree. He enjoyed his mind well all through last summer and fall; he attended our general Conference, and was interested in the discourses of the Conference, especially on this new phase of sanctification. Shortly after returning from Conference, he took the fever from which he did not recover, although perhaps the main cause of his death was cancer in the stomach. From the time he was taken sick till he passed away he enjoyed the power and blessing of religion to as great a degree as any one I ever knew. He retained his senses till the last; he knew he was dying, and had all confidence in the dear Lord Jesus, who was his only hope and salvation. He said to me a few days before his death he would be looking for me on the other side of the river. His funeral was attended by a very large congregation; the writer preached from the text "Be still and know that I am God."

Ministers present—J. Noble, T. Connor, T. S. Vanwart, Henry Hart, C. T. Phillips, M. Orser, Mr. Wright, Methodist. JOHN PERRY.

Jacob H. Bloomer, of Virgil, N. Y., writes: "Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil cured a badly swollen neck and sore throat on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed—so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the Oil, and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured."

Free and easy expectoration immediately relieves and frees the throat and lungs from viscid phlegm, and a medicine that promotes this is the best medicine to use for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs and all affections of the throat and chest. This is precisely what Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup is a specific for, and wherever used it has given unbounded satisfaction. Children like it because it is pleasant, adults like it because it relieves and cures the disease.

Mr. Jacob Seales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."
