

FREDERICTON.—Last Sabbath six persons were received into the church.

CARLETON.—The interest in this church is encouraging. Three were baptized last Sabbath.

REV. J. E. REUD.—We are sorry not to have more encouraging word of Bro. Reud's condition. A note from Rev. G. A. Hartley, written Saturday afternoon, says:

"I am sorry to have to say that Bro. Reud continues to fail. I see no hope of his recovery. During the week he talked very plainly and tenderly about the event which he believes is not very far in the future."

Temperance Notes.

—Germany is the largest drink-trader with Africa, sending there more than 7,000,000 gallons annually.

—The sale of liquor has been prohibited on the property owned by the Northern Pacific Railroad by order of its President, Robert Harris.

—Colquitt, of Georgia, says: "Prohibition has reason, religion, refinement, good order, and peace, for its advocates and champions."

—It is calculated that if all the British victims of drink in a year were interred at one time, and in one place, there would be a funeral procession stretching from Land's End to John o' Groats, 640 miles long.

—A distillery in Rappahannock County, Virginia, has made twelve stands of bees confirmed inebriates. Before the distillery was started, their owner, a woman, found the bees very profitable; but the periodical visits to the still have made them comparatively worthless.

—The temperance party of Massachusetts have gained a great victory in the Legislature, where a bill limiting the number of liquor licenses to one in 1,000 of the population for cities and towns outside of Boston, and one in 500 for Boston was passed by a vote of 104 yeas to 49 nays.

—Under the high license system in Florida, the applicant for a license must have his application indorsed by three hundred citizens and printed in the county at his own expense, and must also pay one hundred and fifty dollars to the state, the same to the county treasury, and the same amount to the town or city in which he proposes to sell intoxicating liquors. This is a pretty stiff measure and ought to do good. It is at least one step in the right direction.

—Atlanta, Georgia, which now has "high license" instead of prohibition, furnishes another striking object lesson illustrative of the relative merits of the two methods of dealing with the liquor traffic in their relation to the general public welfare. The head of a leading firm of Atlanta real-estate agents is reported as saying that the number of distress and dispossession warrants issued in January and February, 1888, greatly exceed those in any corresponding period during prohibition. Business failures are more numerous, and trade in general has suffered since the era of prohibition closed.

—A moderate drinker became very angry with a friend who argued that safety was only to be found in total abstinence. "What, sir," said he, "do you think I have lost control over myself?" "I do not know," was the reply; "but let us put it to the proof. For the next six months do not touch a drop." The proposal was accepted. He kept to his promise, and at the close of the month he said to his friend with tears in his eyes, "I believe you have saved me from a drunkard's grave. I never knew before that I was in any sense a slave to drink, but during the last month I have fought the fiercest battle of my life. Had the test been tried later on it might have been too late. I mean to keep the pledge for life."

JUST AS WELL.—The Island Guardian calls attention to the fact that Rev. Mr. Simpson of St. Peter's Church, Charlottetown, who attended Millman while in prison and at the execution, used the prayers of the Roman Catholics, not of the Church of England. He invoked "Holy Mary Mother of God," and all saints!

ONLY A NAME.—As a matter of personal convenience, Rev. David N. Utter, of Chicago, has abolished the "N." in the middle of his name. In a little card he issues to friends, Mr. Utter says: "The trouble is that people read and then write my name 'Nutter,'—telegrams to D. N. Utter are very generally read and addressed D. Nutter, and consequently never find me. I have often been introduced as Mr. Nutter, and some people require years to learn that that is not my name. So I concluded to drop the 'N.' and to be plain David Utter. Then I found how famous I already was! It seems that thousands of people remember that initial 'N.' with marvelous fidelity though I have not used it for years. Dear friends, I propose to fight this letter the remainder of my days; and, though I fully expect yet to see it on my tombstone, I ask you all to help me to keep it out of my name on letters, checks, and telegrams, and everywhere so far as possible."

CARRIER PIGEONS.—Recent experiments with carrier-pigeons have been so successful that it has been decided to establish a permanent postal service of them in the Russian army. Depots are to be established at once at certain specified fortresses and other places; and the whole are to be divided into four divisions, corresponding to the same number of lines of communication. For each line of communication there are to be 250 carrier-pigeons, making a total of 1,000 birds.

"RAILS NEED REST," said Dr. Glen Wood at a conference of pastors on the Sabbath question. How many of the wrecks on railroads are traceable to the disregard of God's Sabbath laws in the physical realm, might justly be matter of reflection. A prominent engineer has collated facts and statistics to show that rails and wheels cannot safely be worked without periodic intervals of rest and quiet. If it can be proven to business corporations that their stock is endangered by a contempt for heaven's wise laws, it may be that what the higher instincts of piety and humanity have failed to accomplish the dictates of worldly policy may go a long way toward securing.

BISHOP TAYLOR, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who has returned from Africa, where he went, with a band of followers, to establish self-supporting missions, says:

The chief difficulty they experienced in dealing with the natives was in the matter of communication. There were no interpreters whose knowledge extended beyond the ordinary language of trade, and it was therefore next to impossible to convey to the blacks any conception of an abstract subject like religion. The missionaries, he said, were studying Portuguese which was the key to the language of the natives near the coast; and by and by they hoped to make themselves understood. One man, who went out a year ago with a big tent, expecting to introduce the camp-meeting feature into the African religious exercises, simply astonished the natives, and was trying to sell his tent when the bishop came away. Unable for the present to make much headway in teaching the negroes the lessons of religion, the missionaries are devoting their energies to the establishment of industrial training-schools, where the natives may be taught how to till the soil and otherwise to employ themselves usefully. Possibly, they will be taught to wear clothes, too; for the bishop says that thousands of the people they do business with out there have never worn a yard of cloth since they were born.

LORNE AND LOUISE.—Princess Louise and Lord Lorne have been "travelling on the economy scale." The Princess and her husband recently on their arrival at Naples, walked to the hotel. The manager, however, recognized the Princess, and offered the suite of rooms on the first floor, reserved for notables; but these were declined.

TALMAGE'S DENIAL.—Dr. Talmage, on a recent Sunday morning made the following personal statement: "An infamous falsehood has gone to every city and neighborhood of this country, and has been discussed by hundreds of newspapers, the report saying that recently entertaining the officers of the 13th Regiment at my house I gave them four kinds of wine. There was not a drop of wine or any kind of intoxicating liquor, the twenty-five gentlemen, then present being witnesses. I will give $1,000 reward to anyone who will prove that one drop of wine was offered, or I will give that amount to any charitable institution that may be named by any respectable clergyman, lawyer or detective, such person being the judge in the whole matter. That which I suppose was told in a joke is being used all over the land to give the impression that temperance men are hypocrites. I respectfully ask that the newspapers which have been misled by the report correct it."

LORD DUFFERIN AND INDIAN MISSIONS.—A missionary writing in the Canada Presbyterian, says:

We are sorry he is so soon to leave us. As a mission we owe him much. The assurance he gave on the voyage out, when the difficulties with Holkar were brought to his notice, that he would remember us and give what help he could to put matters right, has been fulfilled, as the present satisfactory state of things at Indore in reference to liberty for carrying on mission work, bears testimony. The necessary word was quietly spoken, and opposition for the present at least has ceased. The Canadian Presbyterian Church will appreciate this. Although he holds office for nearly a year yet, the press has already begun to pass judgment on his rule. It is disappointing, though hardly unexpected, to find the native press almost wholly adverse in its criticism. It gives him little credit for the annexation and pacification of Burma, or for the skill displayed at a crisis when a single false step would have precipitated a war with Russia, but looking to the financial embarrassment due to events and causes over which he had no control, blames him for increasing the taxes, and declining to follow the radical and unsettling policy of his predecessor, Lord Ripon. The native chiefs and others who have met him have been charmed by his frank manliness, his amiability and politeness. His personal influence has done much to draw out attachment to the supreme Government. He is the happy distinction of having made little history for India, and yet several measures have been passed which will affect for generations the temporal, social and moral welfare of the people. I shall only mention one. To his administration belongs the merit of acknowledging that Government in India has made a huge mistake in excluding moral teaching from the Government school, and of legislating to provide for combining moral and secular training in all Government schools and colleges. It is well that even so late in the day the Government is beginning to realize that a more secular education will produce a large and influential class who will become a source of danger to the state. For after atheism and materialism come lawlessness and license. The Countess of Dufferin, by taking to heart the sufferings of the millions of India's women, and for their relief establishing a fund and medical training schools for female doctors and nurses, has also erected for herself a monument more enduring than brass. The contributions already received warrant us in saying that this good work will be continued as long as British rule lasts in India.

SUNDRIES.—St. Louis has a mining company composed entirely of women. Rev. Joseph Hogg of Moncton, N. B., has been given a call to St. Andrews Presbyterian church of Winnipeg. Judge Henry, of the supreme court of Canada, died last Thursday, aged 72, from the effects of a paralytic stroke.

SUCCESS CERTAIN.—If you are suffering from Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Rheumatism, Quinsy or wounds of any kind and do not get relief, get at once a bottle of Gates' Acadian Liniment. It is spoken of in the highest possible terms by people of all stations in life and takes first place among liniments in general use as it certainly should for it always gives satisfaction.

Literary Notes.

Words and Weapons is the name of a monthly edited by Rev. Dr. Pentecost and Rev. B. Fay Mills. It is intended to help christian workers, and will certainly do that. The names of the editors are a sufficient guarantee that it will be evangelical and wide-awake. It is $1.50 a year. Published at 251 Broadway, N. Y.

The Homiletic Review for May gives as its leading article a critique on Dr. R. S. Storrs as a preacher. While highly favorable, it is discriminating, and shows defects as well as excellences. Dr. Orniston finishes his series of papers on Preparation for the Pulpit. "The Religious and Moral Views of Horace," is a finished and highly interesting paper. "The Legal Rights and Responsibilities of Clergymen," cannot fail to be valuable to the class for whom it is especially intended. Rev. S. C. Leonard treats in a scholarly way The Address of Paul at Athens. Dr. Morgan Dix's sermon on Lust is a huge blast that ought to wake the church and the whole land. The sermons of Drs. Hovey, Storrs, Braislis and Armstrong, and that of Bishop Andrews, are of a high order. The Prayer-Meeting Service keeps up its high character. The other sections are as usual full of good things. Published by Funk & Wagnalls, 18 and 20 Astor place, New York. $3.00 per year; 30 cents per single number.

Moncure D. Conway writes in the May Cosmopolitan, a lively article on "The Pedigree of the Devil" which is illustrated with a number of rare and weird pictures, including four pages in color. The colored pictures of the Faust legend, showing Mephistopheles with Margaret and in the witch's kitchen, and of the Japanese demons and Persian devils are the most finished and attractive color work that has yet appeared in this enterprising magazine. Mr. Conway is presumed to be on intimate terms with his subject, having been formerly a Methodist divine and having written the best book published on Demonology. The article is opportune just now, as it is exactly 300 years since Mephistopheles made his first appearance (in the earliest English "Faust" book). So important a character in the world as his Red Majesty surely deserves a memorial now and then, and no doubt he appreciates the compliment of so bright and entertaining a description of his protean career.

A SUCCESSFUL RESULT.

Sirs, I was troubled for five years with Liver Complaint. I used a great deal of doctor's medicine, which did me no good. I was getting worse all the while until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking four bottles I am now well. I can also recommend it for dyspepsia. Miss Hattie L. Swick, St. Williams P. O., Ont.

BILIOUSNESS.

"I should not think it right did I not give my testimony of what I know to be the value of Burdock Blood Bitters. Being a sufferer from Biliousness, I took one bottle of B. B. B. and it gave me immediate relief. I recommend it as a cure for Biliousness. Annie McLean, Woodville, Ont.

KIND WORDS AND TRUE.

Mr. John H. Carter, of Corbetton, Ont., writes as follows: "Hagyard's Yellow Oil has stood the test often when all others failed. Our house is never without it, and it will always find a welcome spot on the shelf."

A SURE RELIEF.

I suffered from a hard cough contracted by damp feet. Having consulted a local doctor without effect I thought I would try Hagyard's Pectoral Balm as a last resort. Before I had finished the first bottle my cough had entirely disappeared, and to-day I enjoy better health than ever before. I can conscientiously recommend it. Chas. H. Kent, Telegraph Operator, East Selkirk, Man.

Mr. J. R. Allen, Upholsterer, Toronto sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she received from it was beyond our expectation."

WHAT A MISTAKE.

A careful examination would convince any one that two-thirds of all the people in New England have been or are now afflicted with catarrh of the nose and throat.

No doubt more than half of those persons have tried every blood purifier they have seen, with the erroneous idea that catarrh is a constitutional disease and must be purged out of the blood. Why a greater mistake was never made! Stop for a moment and think or ask any reputable physician what common catarrh is, and what causes it, and the answer can be only this. "It is an irritation or inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat, caused by neglected colds, damp, piercing, irritable winds foreign matter in the air which is poisonous to some persons and not to others; just as the bite of certain insects is a poisoned torture to some and has no unpleasant effect upon others." The reason for this is found in the different structure of the outer skin and its counterpart which lines all the inner organs of our bodies. Some people have chapped hands and chilblains and others are never so afflicted because of the peculiar structure of the skin of different individuals.

Therefore stop dosing. It is not blood purifiers you want, but good wholesome food, the plainer the better then "keep your feet dry and warm, your head cool and bowels open," and use an external application, (Johnsons Anodyne Liniment is the best we know), to allay the inflammation, cleanse the surface, heal the sores, and your catarrh will disappear like magic. We do not say never to return, because you may cure a severe cold and in three months catch another equally bad, so with catarrh and bronchial troubles. Exposure may bring it on again. We learned more about treating catarrh from the wrapper around a bottle of Johnsons Anodyne Liniment, than we ever knew. Certainly this good old medicine deserves to be called "A universal family remedy." No matter how well you know this medicine it will pay you to send to I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston Mass., for a pamphlet free, just to learn how to use the liniment economically. A teaspoonful properly used will often do more good than a half bottle as some people use it.

There are so many cough medicines in the market, that it is sometimes difficult to tell which to buy; but if we had a cough, a cold or any affliction of the throat or lungs, we would use Bickels' Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Those who have used it think it is far ahead of all other preparations recommended for such complaints. The little folks like it as it is as pleasant as Syrup.

Mrs. Barnhart, cor. Pratt and Broadway, has been a sufferer for twelve years through rheumatism, and has tried every remedy she could hear of, but received no benefit, until she tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil: she says she cannot express the satisfaction she feels at having her pain entirely removed and her rheumatism cured.

When you want Pearline be sure you get what you ask for. The market is full of imitations. The genuine is manufactured only by James Pyle, New York.

Many ladies admire gray hair—on some other person—but few care to try its effects on their own charms. They need not, since Ayer's Hair Vigor restores gray hair to its original color. Sold by druggists and perfumers.

In the spring, hundreds of persons suffer from boils, carbuncles, and other eruptive diseases. These are evidences that the system is trying to purge itself of impurities, and that it needs the powerful aid which is afforded by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

FOR COUGHS and Colds, use Allen's Lung Balm. Relief is warranted or money refunded.

THE SUPERIORITY of the "Royal Flavring Extracts" is purity and strength.

DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER is the best medicine in the world for all Diseases of the Bowels.

USE CAMPBELL'S CATHARTIC COMPOUND FOR Liver Complaints and Bilious Disorders.

FOR IMPROVING and preserving the health of your Horses and Cattle, use "Maud S." Condition Powders.

A SEVERE TRIAL.

Those who endure the torturing pangs of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and similar painful complaints are severely tried, but there is a speedy relief in Hagyard's Yellow Oil as thousands who have used it joyfully testify. It banishes pain and lameness quickly.

A LAST RESORT.

Last summer, says Wm. J. James, of Atherley, Ont., I felt very miserable with pains over my kidneys, fluttering of the heart and nervousness; after taking different kinds of medicine, hearing of B. B. B. I thought I would try it; one bottle completely cured me. I can highly recommend it to others.

FOR CHILDREN STARVING TO DEATH, On account of their inability to digest ordinary food, Scott's Emulsion can be digested and give strength and flesh when all other food fails. See what Dr. A. H. Peck, Penn. Med. College, Peticoe, Pa., says: "I have used and prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and find it an excellent preparation, agreeing well with the stomach, and its continued use adding greatly to the strength and comfort of the patient." Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

Mr. W. R. Lazier, Bailiff &c., Belleville, writes: "I find Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil the best medicine I have ever used in my stable. I have used it for bruises, scratches, wind puffs and cuts, and in every case it gave the best satisfaction. We use it as a household remedy for colds, burns &c., and it is a perfect panacea. It will remove warts by paring them down and applying it occasionally."

No family living in a bilious country should be without Parnee's Vegetable Pills. A few doses taken now and then will keep the Liver active, cleanse the stomach and bowels from all bilious matter and prevent Ague. Mr. J. L. Price, Shoals, Martin Co., Ind., writes: "I have tried a box of Parnee's Pills and find them the best medicine for Fever and Ague I have ever used."
